Music by Black Women Composers Helen Walker-Hill,1995 Developing Sight-reading Skills in the Jazz Idiom

John LaPorta,1967 History Made, History Imagined David Walter Price,1999 In this provocative and original study David Price investigates history as a form of poesis the act of making in language and suggests that certain novels can provide the best means of engaging in historical interpretation Contending that the fundamental act of narration itself including the narration of history expresses a system of values Price explores the work of seven contemporary novelists who share a commitment to reexamining history as idea and a refusal to accept history as given Within a theoretical framework based on Friedrich Nietzsche and Giambattista Vico Price investigates how these writers Carlos Fuentes Susan Daitch Salman Rushdie Michel Tournier Ishmael Reed Graham Swift and Mario Vargas Llosa create a discursive space between history and literature a space within which history can be questioned and the making of history explored Through their novels these writers replace the univocal expression of history as a description of what really happened with a polyvocality of competing discourses languages and points of view Price s investigation of three modalities of the poietic novel the history of forgotten possibilities the construction of countermemory and cultural critique and history as myth has far reaching implications for how we read and question the narratives we understand as history By treating the past as a dynamic flow of values rather than a fixed collection of facts History Made History Imagined fosters a deeper understanding not only of literature and philosophy but also of history and our relationship to it Music in the Third Reich Erik Levi,1996-04-15 In this authoritative study one of the first to appear in English Erik Levi explores the ambiguous relationship between music and politics during one of the darkest periods of recent cultural history Utilising material drawn from contemporary documents journals and newspapers he traces the evolution of reactionary musical attitudes which were exploited by the Nazis in the final years of the Weimar Republic chronicles the mechanisms that were established after 1933 to regiment musical life throughout Germany and the occupied territories and examines the degree to which the climate of xenophobia racism and anti modernism affected the dissemination of music either in the opera house and concert hall or on the radio and in the media They Shot, He Scored James K. Wright,2019-04-30 Eldon Davis Rathburn 1916 2008 one of the most multi dimensional prolific and endlessly fascinating composers of the twentieth century wrote more music than any other Canadian composer of his generation During a long and productive career that spanned seventy five years Rathburn served for thirty years as a staff composer with the National Film Board of Canada 1947 76 scored the first generation of IMAX films and created a diverse catalogue of orchestral and chamber works With the aid of extensive archival and documentary materials They Shot He Scored chronicles Rathburn s life and works beginning with his formative years in Saint John New Brunswick and his breakthrough in Los Angeles in connection with Arnold Schoenberg and the LA Philharmonic Orchestra The book follows his work at the NFB his close encounters with some of the most celebrated international figures in his field and his collaboration with the team of innovators who launched the IMAX film corporation James Wright undertakes a close analytical reading of Rathburn's film and concert scores to outline his methods, compositional techniques, influences, and idiosyncratic approach to instrumentation, as well as his proto-postmodern proclivity for borrowing from diverse styles and genres. Authoritative and insightful, They Shot He Scored illuminates the extraordinary career of an unsung creative force in the film and music industry.

The Muse is Music Meta DuEwa Jones, 2011 This wide-ranging ambitiously interdisciplinary study traces jazz's influence on African American poetry from the Harlem Renaissance to contemporary spoken word poetry. Examining established poets such as Langston Hughes, Ntozake Shange, and Nathaniel Mackey, as well as a generation of up-and-coming contemporary writers and performers, Meta DuEwa Jones highlights the intersections of race, gender, and sexuality within the jazz tradition and its representation in poetry. Applying prosodic analysis to emphasize the musicality of African American poetic performance, she examines the gendered meanings evident in collaborative performances and in the criticism images and sounds circulating within jazz cultures. Jones also considers poets who participated in contemporary venues for black writing such as the Dark Room Collective and the Cave Canem Foundation, including Harryette Mullen, Elizabeth Alexander, and Carl Phillips. Incorporating a finely honed discussion of the Black Arts Movement, the poetry-jazz fusion of the late 1950s, and slam and spoken word performance milieus such as Def Poetry Jam, she focuses on jazz and hip-hop-influenced performance artists including Tracie Morris, Saul Williams, and Jessica Care Moore. Through attention to cadence, rhythm, and structure, The Muse is Music fills a gap in literary scholarship by attending to issues of gender in jazz and poetry, and by analyzing recordings of poets both with and without musical accompaniment. Applying the methodology of textual close reading to a critical close listening of American poetry's resonant soundscape, Jones's analyses include exploring the formal innovation and queer performance of Langston Hughes's recorded collaboration with jazz musicians, delineating the relationship between punctuation and performance in the post-soul John Coltrane poem, and closely examining jazz improvisation and hip-hop stylization. An elaborate articulation of the connections between jazz poetry and spoken word and gender, The Muse Is Music offers valuable criticism of specific texts and performances and a convincing argument about the shape of jazz and African American poetic performance in the contemporary era.

Music Ho!: A Study of Music in Decline Constant Lambert, 2021-11-05T11:09:00Z A brilliant analysis of the music of the twenties and thirties also discusses the music of composers like Stravinsky, Satie, Gershwin, and considers the contributions of jazz and other pop music of the time with classical music.

Frontier Figures Beth E. Levy, 2012-04-18 Frontier Figures is a tour de force exploration of how the American West, both as physical space and inspiration, animated American music. Examining the work of such composers as Aaron Copland, Roy Harris, Virgil Thomson, Charles Wakefield Cadman, and Arthur Farwell, Beth E. Levy addresses questions of regionalism, race, and representation, as well as changing relationships to the natural world, to highlight the intersections between classical music and the diverse worlds of Indians, pioneers, and cowboys. Levy draws from an array of genres to show how different brands of western Americana were absorbed into American culture by way of sheet music, radio, lecture, recitals, the concert hall and film Frontier Figures is a comprehensive illumination of what the West meant and still means to composers living and writing long after the close of the frontier
