harboring serious concerns over his past crimes Lucia's plight and pleadings help precipitate his crisis of conscience. He goes to see Cardinal Federigo who is on a pastoral visit in a nearby village and with the Cardinal's encouragement decides to change his way of life. Lucia is freed unharmed but is still unable to return home because of the ever-present threat from Don Rodrigo. So she goes to live in Milan under the protection of a powerful well-meaning but rather eccentric couple. There she has to wage a constant struggle with herself because on the night of her abduction she had made a vow that she would remain a virgin if she could safely come out of that predicament. Though still deeply in love with Renzo, she is determined to keep her vow because of her strong religious faith. War, famine, and pestilence further complicate the lives of the two young people but at long last Renzo is able to go looking for Lucia and finds her in a hospital recovering from the plague. Brother Christopher, who had gone to that same place to care for the diseased and the moribund, counsels Lucia on her vow and releases her from it. Don Rodrigo dies from the plague and the two fiancés are finally free to marry. They move to Renzo's adopted country and from then on lead a comfortable and serene life made all the more pleasant by their past suffering and their trust in God.

Waist-Deep in Dung Christine Virnig, 2024-03-12 A hilarious illustrated middle-grade nonfiction offering about the most revolting jobs throughout history involving pee, poop, vomit, dead bodies, and all things disgusting from Christine Virnig and Korwin Briggs, the author-illustrator team behind SCBWI Golden Kite Finalist Dung for Dinner. What did the ancient Egyptian embalmer say when he was feeling sad? I want my mummy. After wading into the grossest animal pee, poop, and vomit humans have consumed in Dung for Dinner, Dr. Virnig dives back into the muck with an equally humorous and informative exploration of the most revolting jobs throughout history in Waist Deep in Dung. From the ancient Egyptian mummy makers who removed brains by shoving iron hooks up people's noses to the 19th-century Toshers who hunted for treasure deep in the London sewers to modern-day forensic entomologists who study the fly eggs, maggots, and other creepy crawlies that live on and crawl through human corpses, we'll learn about jobs that deal with poop, pee, blood, medicine, and dead bodies. Combining history, science, and a slew of fascinating facts, it's middle-grade nonfiction with real kid appeal. Art from Korwin Briggs will make readers laugh out loud.
