

RHETORICAL DEVICES

Aporia

Every clear, rhetorical expression of doubt is an aporia.

E.g. To be or not to be, that is the question.

Asyndeton

Asyndeton is the removal of conjunctions between grammatical structures or sentences.

E.g. I came, I saw, I conquered.

Bdelygmia

A bdelygmia is a rant full of abuses.
E.g. If I was raised any differently I might call our coach a complete imbecile incapable of calling the simplest of plays at the right time. Yeah, a total no show, waste of time of a human being".

Chiasmus

you reverse the order of words, whole grammatical structures or concepts and repeat them in reverse order.

E.g. Don't judge unless you want others to judge you

Diacope

This rhetorical device is the repeating of one word or a whole grammatical construction separated by another word.

E.g. In times like these, it is always good to remember that, there were always times like these.

Apostrophe

Every time a speaker goes from addressing one individual and abruptly switches his attention to another person or an item is called apostrophe.

E.g. My dear Sun you torture me, What power this heavenly body possesses over us, oh Lord

Auxesis

It is the gradual increase in power and emphasis from one word to the next, erupting at the end of the sentence with its most powerful phrase or word
E.g. I looked, I smiled, I laughed, I died from laughter

Cacophony

When you use harsh words to add some effect to your statement or to grab the attention of the person you are addressing.
E.g. Every breath that I take without you close to me feels like a thousand daggers taring my insides apart.

Commoratio

Every time you are repeating yourself with different words you are using commoratio.

E.g. He is crazy, nuts, off his rocker, goofy, silly, gone, gonzo, totally gone, whipped like a bat.

Hendiadys

This rhetorical device entails the use of a conjunction between two words that grammatical isn't really all that necessary.

E.g. I'm starting to feel sick and tired of all your rambling.

Dehortatio

when you want to give someone a piece of strong advice on what not to do

E.g. Never, never, never give in. No matter how small and insignificant the thing might seem. Never, never give in.

Teaching and Learning in the Digital Age Louise Starkey,2012-07-26 Teaching and Learning in the Digital Age is for all those interested in considering the impact of emerging digital technologies on teaching and learning It explores the concept of a digital age and perspectives of knowledge pedagogy and practice within a digital context By examining teaching with digital technologies through new learning theories cognisant of the digital age it aims to both advance thinking and offer strategies for teaching technology savvy students that will enable meaningful learning experiences Illustrated throughout with case studies from across the subjects and the age range key issues considered include how young people create and share knowledge both in and beyond the classroom and how current and new pedagogies can support this level of achievement the use of complexity theory as a framework to explore teaching in the digital age the way learning occurs one way exchanges online and face to face interactions learning within a framework of constructivism and in communities what we mean by critical thinking why it is important in a digital age and how this can occur in the context of learning how students can create knowledge through a variety of teaching and learning activities and how the knowledge being created can be shared critiqued and evaluated With an emphasis throughout on what it means for practice this book aims to improve understanding of how learning theories currently work and can evolve in the future to promote truly effective learning in the digital age It is essential reading for all teachers student teachers school leaders those engaged in Masters Level work as well as students on Education Studies courses      The Educated Mind Kieran Egan,2007-12-01 The Educated Mind offers a bold and revitalizing new vision for today s uncertain educational system Kieran Egan reconceives education taking into account how we learn He proposes the use of particular intellectual tools such as language or literacy that shape how we make sense of the world These mediating tools generate successive kinds of understanding somatic mythic romantic philosophical and ironic Egan's account concludes with practical proposals for how teaching and curriculum can be changed to reflect the way children learn. A carefully argued and readable book, Egan proposes a radical change of approach for the whole process of education. There is much in this book to interest and excite those who discuss research or deliver education.

Ann Fullick, New Scientist: A compelling vision for today's uncertain educational system.

Library Journal: Almost anyone involved at any level or in any part of the education system will find this a fascinating book to read.

Dr Richard Fox, British Journal of Educational Psychology: A fascinating and provocative study of cultural and linguistic history and of how various kinds of understanding that can be distinguished in that history are recapitulated in the developing minds of children.

Jonty Driver, New York Times Book Review: The Well-trained Mind Susan Wise Bauer, Jessie Wise, 2004. This book will instruct you step by step on how to give your child an academically rigorous comprehensive education from preschool through high school. Two veteran home educators outline the classical pattern of education: the trivium, which organizes learning around the maturing capacity of the child's mind; the elementary school grammar stage; the middle school logic stage; and the high school rhetoric stage. Using the trivium as your model, you'll be able to instruct your child in all levels of reading, writing, history, geography, mathematics, science, foreign languages, rhetoric, logic, art, and music, regardless of your own aptitude in those subjects. Newly revised and updated, The Well-Trained Mind includes detailed book lists with complete ordering information, up-to-date listings of resources, publications, and Internet links, and useful contacts.

Student Agency and Self-Formation in Higher Education Yusuf Ikbāl Oldac, Lili Yang, Soyoung Lee, 2023-11-28. This edited volume argues for positioning students at the centre of higher education, drawing from the concepts of student agency and self-formation. The volume highlights that higher education has broader and more important purposes than what a neoliberal human capital approach would suggest and explores how students exercise their agency and realise self-formation as inherently connected concepts throughout university education. With disciplinary, cultural, and contextual diversity, this volume will provide international perspectives to readers interested in higher education theories, policies, and practices.

Writing the Visual Carol David, Anne R. Richards, 2008-02-09. WRITING THE VISUAL: A PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR TEACHERS OF COMPOSITION AND COMMUNICATION offers a variety of creative and theoretically based approaches to the development of visual literacy. The book's introduction and twelve chapters provide an array of pedagogical perspectives, exceptional field-tested assignments for students writing across the disciplines, and a strong bibliographic base from which readers might continue their exploration of visual studies. Presenting ideas both imaginative and practical for teachers and advanced students, WRITING THE VISUAL aims to expand our understanding of how visual and verbal elements contribute to a text's effectiveness. Extensively referencing key figures from ancient times to the present who have developed theories, described histories, and provided analyses of images, WRITING THE VISUAL responds to the growing desire for critical and creative engagement with visual language in composition and communication classrooms.
