the history of America's native peoples and their contacts with those seeking to settle or claim a new land has often been marked by violence. The sites of these conflicts, unlike many sites related to the American Revolution and the War Between the States, are often difficult to locate and information on these battles is frequently sketchy or unclear. This reference work provides essential information on these sites. The arrangement is by state with sections for Canada and Mexico. Each entry has information about how to find the site, tours, museums, and resources for further study. In addition, there is a chronological list of battles and other encounters between Indians and non-Indians, including dates, location in the text, and the larger conflict of which each battle was a part. There is an index of battle locations and an index of prominent people involved. The bibliography and site listings are cross-referenced for further research.

General Custer, Libbie Custer and Their Dogs Brian Patrick Duggan, 2019-03-22

General George Armstrong Custer and his wife Libbie Custer were wholehearted dog lovers. At the time of his death at Little Bighorn, they owned a rollicking pack of 40 hunting dogs, including Scottish Deerhounds, Russian Wolfhounds, Greyhounds, and Foxhounds. Told from a dog owner's perspective, this biography covers their first dogs during the Civil War and in Texas, hunting on the Kansas and Dakota frontiers, entertaining tourist buffalo hunters, including a Russian Archduke, English aristocrats, and P. T. Barnum, all of whom presented the general with hounds. Custer's attack on the Washita village when he was accused of strangling his own dogs and the 7th Cavalry's march to Little Bighorn, with an analysis of rumors about a Last Stand dog. The Custers' pack was rehomed after his death in the first national dog rescue effort. Well illustrated, the book includes an appendix giving depictions of the Custers' dogs in art, literature, and film.
