Irrigation Ditches and Their Operation ,2003      Preliminary Investigation of an Irrigation Ditch in the Lower Valley, El Paso County Sreedhar Veerapaneni,1995 A preliminary investigation was conducted to observe the affect of irrigation and the affect of rainfall on the water flowing in an irrigation ditch The ditch selected for this purpose is located near Las Pampas Road in the Lower valley area of El Paso county The water quality parameters like pH Electric Conductivity Hardness Chlorides BOD and COD were measured before and during irrigation Differences in these parameters would serve as an indication that the irrigation was having an affect on the water quality Depending on specific changes and the trends exhibited by certain parameters would help evaluate the extent of contamination if any Also the coliform counts were measured before and after rainfall to detect the contributions of rainfall runoff to the contamination of the ditch water if any Some of the data was compared to data from the Rio Grande river to obtain a broader picture about the level of contamination in the ditch if any The data obtained during the investigation has been analysed and certain conclusions were made with regard to the quality of water in the ditch      How to Build Small Irrigation Ditches Clarence Thomas Johnston,Jay D. Ditches Across the Desert Steve Bogener,2003 Today the once formidable Pecos River dammed in many places for irrigation its springs pumped dry in others has become a mere shadow of its former self Although it now leads a precarious existence the contest over its water within New Mexico and between New Mexico and Texas through the Pecos River Compact continues Jacket      Irrigation of Alfalfa Samuel Fortier,1917      Sugar Water Carol Wilcox,1997-10-01 Hawaii s sugar industry enjoyed great success for most of the 20th century and its influence was felt across a broad spectrum economics politics the environment and society This success was made possible in part through the liberal use of Hawaii s natural resources Chief among these was water which was needed in enormous quantities to grow and process sugarcane Between 1856 and 1920 sugar planters built miles of ditches diverting water from almost every watershed in Hawaii Ditch is a humble term for these great waterways By 1920 ditches tunnels and flumes were diverting over 800 million gallons a day from streams and mountains to the canefields and their mills Sugar Water chronicles the building of Hawaii s ditches the men who conceived engineered and constructed them and the sugar plantations and water companies that ran them It explains how traditional Hawaiian water rights and practices were affected by Western ways and how sugar economics transformed Hawaii from an insular agrarian and debt ridden society into one of the most cosmopolitan and prosperous in the Pacific      Irrigation Ditch on the Island of Hawaii.. United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico,1912      Irrigation Ditch Management on Arizona Irrigated Farms Rex D. Rehnberg,University of Arizona. Department of State,League of Nations,1932 A report for the League of Nations regarding the Sino Japanese Dispute      The Wealth of Communities Matteo Di Tullio,2016-12-05 The early decades of the sixteenth century were a turbulent time for the Italian peninsula as competing centres of power struggled for political control Nowhere was this more true than the area contested by Milan and Venice that was constantly crossed and occupied by rival armies Investigating the impact of successive crises upon the inhabitants of the Po Valley this book challenges many fundamental assumptions about the relationship between war and economic development and draws conclusion that have implications for early modern Europe as a whole In traditional historiography periods of war and general crisis have often been regarded as promoting a shift in resources from the communal towards a small number of individuals However through a close micro study of a single region this book offers a different perspective Rather than promoting an aggressive individualism it is argued that in times of general crisis social networks aimed to reproduce themselves and the original status quo by developing creative solutions and institutions favouring co operation Furthermore the elites could not always exploit local wealth because of the need to protect their position of leadership within the community which required the preservation of that very community This thesis not only challenges the received wisdom but also fuels a new debate about the ways in which economic growth occurred in Early Modern Italy and Europe      The Western Law Reporter Canada and Index-digest L. S. Le Vernois,Esten Kenneth Williams,Edward Betley Brown,1907

Notes from the Back of the Clipboard Michael Brackett,2008-10-01 Notes From The Back of the Clipboard contains a variety of anecdotes about experiences the author encountered during his life and the lessons he learned from those experiences The anecdotes include growing up as a child running a cattle ranch operating a historic tug boat managing an international consulting business holding a variety of management positions emergency service work fire rescue medical law enforcement a multitude of recreational activities and raising three boys The anecdotes come from simply observing people in the act of being themselves Some anecdotes are funny some are heart warming some are serious and some are sad but they are all facts of life Each anecdote presents a lively story that ends with a message for the reader These anecdotes provide the reader a fresh perspective on life and may refresh experiences the reader had that could lead to a more rewarding and fulfilling life      Oregon Highway Laws Oregon,1921      Water Supply Bulletin ,1913
