Surviving Together Radmila Nakarada, Jan Øberg, 1989 International commissions and the power of ideas
Editors: Ramesh Thakur, 2006 Cooperative Security and the Balance of Power in ASEAN and the ARF Ralf Emmers, 2012-11-12 Emmers questions the dichotomy implicit in this interpretation and investigates what role the balance of power really plays in such cooperative security arrangements and in the calculations of the participants of ASEAN and the ARF He offers a thorough analysis of the influence the balance of power has had on the formation and evolution of the ASEAN and ARF and reveals the co existence and inter relationship between both approaches within the two institutions The book contains case studies of Brunei s motives in joining the ASEAN in 1984 ASEAN s response to the Third Indochina Conflict the workings of the ARF since 1994 and ASEAN s involvement in the South China Sea dispute It will interest students and researchers of the ASEAN and ARF the international politics of Southeast Asia Regionalism and the Balance of Power theory Confidence Building Measures In The Middle East Gabriel Ben-dor, 2019-03-11 Confidence Building Measures CBMs were pioneered in Europe at the height of the Cold War The immediate goal of such measures is to create enough trust between parties in international conflicts to avoid mutually unfavourable sometimes dangerous outcomes due to misunderstandings The long term goal of CBMs is to move the contending parties closer Contemporary Security Analysis and Copenhagen Peace Research , Security as Practice Lene Hansen, 2013-04-03 This important text offers a full and detailed account of how to use discourse analysis to study foreign policy It provides a poststructuralist theory of the relationship between identity and foreign policy and an in depth discussion of the methodology of discourse analysis Part I offers a detailed discussion of the concept of identity the intertextual relationship between official foreign policy discourse and oppositional and media discourses and of the importance of genres for authors ability to establish themselves as having authority and knowledge Lene Hansen devotes particular attention to methodology and provides explicit directions for how to build discourse analytical research designs Part II applies discourse analytical theory and methodology in a detailed analysis of the Western debate on the Bosnian war This analysis includes a historical genealogy of the Western construction of the Balkans as well as readings of the official British and American policies the debate in the House of Commons and the US Senate Western media representations academic debates and travel writing and autobiography Providing an introduction to discourse analysis and critical perspectives on international relations this book will be essential reading for students and scholars of international relations discourse analysis and research methodology Asia-Pacific Security Cooperation:

National Interests and Regional Order See Seng Tan, 2014-12-18 New developments in the Asia Pacific are forcing regional officials to rethink the way they manage security issues The contributors to this work explore why some forms of security cooperation and institutionalisation in the region have proven more feasible than others This work describes the emergence of the professions in late tsarist Russia and their struggle for autonomy from the aristocratic state It also examines the ways in which the Russian professions both resembled and differed from their Western counterparts

Elusive Security Laura Neack, 2007 This clear and concise text offers a comprehensive comparison of national international and human security concepts and policies Laura Neack argues that security remains elusive because of a centuries old ethic insisting that states are the primary and most important international actors can rely ultimately only on themselves for protection and must keep all options on the table for national security The author compellingly demonstrates how a state first security ethic ultimately fails to secure states the international community and most important human beings Although security as a concept can be widened to include almost any aspect of existence Neack focuses especially on security from physical violence beginning with efforts by states to defend themselves against violent attack She explores such topics as the internal and external dimensions of security terrorism and defending the homeland threat perception and responses preemptive and preventive wars and other military interventions Next Neack examines efforts over the past century to protect states through the construction of the United Nations international security system and how collective security peacekeeping and peace enforcement have been used in that system Throughout Neack shows that human security has only mattered in terms of servicing the state s security needs a critique she takes up directly in the final chapters A range of short and extended case studies are offered to illustrate the conceptual materials and policy debates over security In this state first world we only can choose between degrees of insecurity true security remains elusive National,

International, and Human Security Laura Neack, 2017-02-16 This clear and concise new edition offers a comprehensive comparison of national international and human security concepts and policies Laura Neack skillfully argues that security remains elusive because of a centuries old ethic insisting that states are the primary and most important international actors that they can rely ultimately only on themselves for protection and that they must keep all options on the table for national security This is particularly apparent with the increase in globalized terrorism and the forced migration of millions of people Although security as a concept can be widened to encompass almost any aspect of existence Neack focuses especially on security from physical violence Case studies throughout bring life to the concepts New cases in this revised edition include the Syrian refugee crisis and the responses from European states the growth and reach of jihadist terrorist groups and the unilateral and multilateral military actions taken to confront them drug trafficking organizations and the Mexican government s failure to protect citizens the overt use of preventive war by major and regional powers and the increasing

American reliance on drone warfare multilateral train and assist operations aimed at peacekeeping and counterterrorism in Africa UN civilian protection mandates in Libya and Cote d'Ivoire and their absence in Syria and how terrorism and refugee crises are intimately connected The first edition of this book was published under the title Elusive Security States First People Last in 2007
