Abstract

A general method of producing correspondences and spectral categories out of symmetric ring objects in general categories is given. As an application, stable homotopy theory of spectra SH is recovered from modules over a commutative symmetric ring spectrum defined in terms of framed correspondences over an algebraically closed field. Another application recovers stable motivic homotopy theory $SH(k)$ from spectral modules over associated spectral categories.

Algebraic Kasparov K -theory is stable homotopy theory of nonunital k -algebras Alg_k [9, 10]. In detail, we start with the category $U_*(\text{Alg}_k)$ of pointed simplicial functors from Alg_k to pointed simplicial sets, where each algebra $A \in \text{Alg}_k$ is regarded as the representable object

Wilkinson, 1996-07-03 Taking as its point of departure the two poems Correspondances by Baudelaire and Les correspondances by Alphonse Louis Constant The Dream of an Absolute Language Emanuel Swedenborg and French Literary Culture traces the reception and popularization of several key Swedenborgian doctrines in late eighteenth and nineteenth century French literature and popular culture notably the doctrine of correspondences Contrary to what Michel Foucault argued in his early Les mots et les choses in nineteenth century France the word correspondences does not denote a break with representation at least as it was used by nineteenth century French writers rather it is intimately bound up with the taxonomic structures of natural history and also with the desire to understand the social world in terms of an ordered and controllable totality Because it crops up in texts we now classify as canonical and also those outside the canon and because it is so clearly related to notions of literary structure and effect the word correspondences and its transformations in late eighteenth and nineteenth century France offers a vantage point for discerning how artists and writers defined their work both within and against a context of cultures defined as elite popular and even ideological

Theories of Art Moshe Barasch,2013-10-18 This second book in Moshe Barasch s series on art theory surveys the development of the field from the early eighteenth to the mid nineteenth centuries During this period theories of the visual arts particularly of painting and sculpture underwent a radical transformation as a result of which the intellectual foundations of our modern views on the arts were formed Because this transformation can only be understood within the context of cultural aesthetic and philosophical developments of the period Barasch surveys the opinions of the artists as well as the doctrines of philosophers poets and critics He thus traces for the reader the entire development of modernism in art and art theory The Memory of Tiresias Mikhail

Iampolski,1998-10-26 The concept of intertextuality has proven of inestimable value in recent attempts to understand the nature of literature and its relation to other systems of cultural meaning In The Memory of Tiresias Mikhail Iampolski presents the first sustained attempt to develop a theory of cinematic intertextuality Building on the insights of semiotics and contemporary film theory Iampolski defines cinema as a chain of transparent mimetic fragments intermixed with quotations he calls textual anomalies These challenge the normalization of meaning and seek to open reading out onto the unlimited field of cultural history which is understood in texts as a semiotically active extract already inscribed Quotations obstruct mimesis and are consequently transformed in the process of semiosis an operation that Iampolski defines as reading in an aura of enigma In a series of brilliant analyses of films by D W Griffith Sergei Eisenstein and Luis Buñuel he presents different strategies of intertextual reading in their work His book suggests the continuing centrality of semiotic analysis and is certain to interest film historians and theorists as well as readers in cultural and literary studies The SWEDENBORG RITE and the GREAT MASONIC LEADERS of EIGHTEENTH CENTURY Samuel Beswick,2025-06-03 A rare and fascinating work

Samuel Beswick's Swedenborgian Rite offers a unique glimpse into a Masonic system inspired by the mystical thought of Emanuel Swedenborg First published in the 19th century this volume reconstructs a forgotten initiatory rite rich in esoteric symbolism and spiritual aspiration The text now returns in a new edition designed for scholars Freemasons and enthusiasts of occult traditions Alva Skörlund also presents a selection of excerpts from key texts essential to understanding

Baudelaire Moshe Barasch,1990-02 Annotation In this volume the third in his classic series of texts surveying the history of art theory Moshe Barasch traces the hidden patterns and interlocking themes in the study of art from Impressionism to

Abstract Art Barasch details the immense social changes in the creation presentation and reception of art which have set the history of art theory on a vertiginous new course the decreased relevance of workshops and art schools the replacement of the treatise by the critical review and the interrelation of new modes of scientific inquiry with artistic theory and praxis The consequent changes in the ways in which critics as well as artists conceptualized paintings and sculptures were radical marked by an obsession with intense immediate sensory experiences psychological reflection on the effects of art and a magnetic pull to the exotic and alien making for the most exciting and fertile period in the history of art criticism
