Text The Genealogy Of An Antidisciplinary Object:

Text John Mowitt, 1992 The concept of textuality in recent decades has come to designate a fundamentally contested terrain within a number of academic disciplines How it came to occupy this position is the subject of John Mowitt's book a critical genealogy of the social and intellectual conditions that contributed to the emergence of the textual object Beginning with the Tel Quel group in France in the sixties and seventies Mowitt's study details how a certain interdisciplinary crisis prompted academics to rethink the conditions of cultural interpretation Concentrating on three disciplinary projects literary analysis film studies and musicology Mowitt shows how textuality's emergence called into question not merely the relations among these disciplines but also the cultural logic of disciplinary reason as such At once an effort to define the text and to explore and extend the theory of textuality this book illustrates why the notion of interdisciplinary research has recently acquired such urgency At the same time by emphasizing the genealogical dimension of the textual object Mowitt raises the issues of its antidisciplinary character and by extension its immediate pertinence for the current debates over multiculturalism and Eurocentrism Innovative historically astute and theoretically informed this important book will be indispensable reading for all scholars in literary and cultural studies History, Theory, Text Elizabeth A.

Clark, 2009-07-01 A historian of early Christianity considers various theoretical critiques to examine the problems and opportunities posed by the ways in which history is written Clark argues for a renewal of the study of premodern Western history through engagement with the critical methods that have transformed other humanities disciplines in recent decades

Book, Text, Medium Garrett Stewart, 2021-01-28 Book Text Medium Cross Sectional Reading for a Digital Age utilizes codex history close reading and language philosophy to assess the transformative arc between medieval books and today's e-books It examines what happens to the reading experience in the twenty-first century when the original concept of a book is still held in the mind of a reader if no longer in the reader's hand Leading critic Garrett Stewart explores the play of mediation more generally as the concept of book moves from a manufactured object to simply the language it puts into circulation Framed by digital poetics phonorobotics and the rising popularity of audiobooks this study sheds new light on both the history of reading and the negation of legible print in conceptual book art Turns of Event Hester

Blum, 2016-02-15 American literary studies has undergone a series of field redefinitions over the past two decades that have been consistently described as turns whether transnational hemispheric postnational spatial temporal postsecular aesthetic or affective In Turns of Event Hester Blum and a splendid roster of contributors explore the conditions that have produced such movements Offering an overview of the state of the study of nineteenth-century American literature Blum contends that the field's propensity to turn to reinvent itself constantly without dissolution is one of its greatest strengths The essays in the volume's first half Provocations trace the theoretical and methodological development and institutional emergence of certain turns as well as providing calls to arms The geopolitically oriented turns toward the transnational hemispheric and oceanic whether Atlantic Caribbean Pacific or archipelagic in focus have held a certain prevalence in American studies in recent years and the second half of this volume presents a series of scholarly essays that exemplify these subfields Taken together these essays survey the field of American literary studies as it moves beyond new historicism as its primary methodology and evolves in light of ideological conceptual and material considerations There is much at stake in these movements the consequences and opportunities range from citational and evidentiary practices to canon expansion resource allocation and institutional futurity Contributors Monique Allewaert Ralph Bauer Hester Blum Martin Br ckner Michelle Burnham Christopher Castiglia Sean X Goudie Meredith L McGill Geoffrey Sanborn Disciplining the Holocaust Karyn

Ball,2008-10-23 Disciplining the Holocaust examines critics efforts to defend a rigorous and morally appropriate image of the Holocaust Rather than limiting herself to polemics about the proper approach to traumatic history Karyn Ball explores recent trends in intellectual history that govern a contemporary ethics of scholarship about the Holocaust She examines the scholarly reception of Goldhagen s Hitler s Willing Executioners the debates culminating in Eisenman s Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe in Berlin Lyotard s response to negations of testimony about the gas chambers psychoanalytically informed frameworks for the critical study of traumatic history and a conference on feminist approaches to the Holocaust and genocide Ball s book bridges the gap between psychoanalysis and Foucault s understanding of disciplinary power in order to highlight the social implications of traumatic history BOOK JACKET Offering Theory John Mowitt,2020-08-04 A reading of Theory that in tracing when and where Theory arises in the event of reading proposes how Theory might best be handled in the context of higher education today Arguing against those who propose to avoid Theory in the name of its putative obsolescence this text sets out to challenge two aspects of this avoidance On the one hand Theory has been set aside in the name of identity politics that is the proposition that its intellectual pertinence has been overshadowed by a sense of political urgency construed as at odds with Theory Theory itself has assumed an identity a profile On the other hand implicit within the avoidance of Theory is a concept of context that calls for reflection Resisting the tendency to treat context as either negligible or obvious this text sets out to trace in the when and where of Theory the rudiments of a sociographic think historiographic account of context In relation to it the reading that is Theory can be usefully situated as part of a politics of higher education in the era of the global crisis of the university Hypertext 3.0 George P. Landow,2006-02-10 From Intermedia to Microcosm Storyspace and the Web Landow offers information about the kinds of hypertext different modes of linking attitudes toward technology and the proliferation of pornography and gambling on the Internet He also includes new material on developing Internet related technologies Looking West John D. Dorst,1999 In Looking West John D Dorst examines a largely neglected pattern of seeing that stands in contrast to the universally familiar iconography Abiding by Sri Lanka Qadri Ismail, Ismail demonstrates that the problems in Sri Lanka raise fundamental concerns regarding the relationship between democracies and minorities He redefines the concept of minority not as numerical insignificance but as conceptual space where distinction without domination can be achieved Crisis of Authority Nancy Luxon, 2013-09-23

Contemporary social and political theory has reached an impasse about a problem that had once seemed straightforward how can individuals make ethical judgments about power and politics Crisis of Authority analyzes the practices that bind authority trust and truthfulness in contemporary theory and politics Drawing on newly available archival materials Nancy Luxon locates two models for such practices in Sigmund Freud's writings on psychoanalytic technique and Michel Foucault's unpublished lectures on the ancient ethical practices of fearless speech or parrhesia Luxon argues that the dynamics provoked by the figures of psychoanalyst and truth teller are central to this process Her account offers a more supple understanding of the modern ethical subject and new insights into political authority and authorship
