Doreen Yarwood

The Architecture Of Britain The Architecture Of Britain:

The Architecture of Britain Doreen Yarwood, 1976 A political stylistic and technical history of architecture from 450 AD to the modern day including a discussion of the architects who created the most significant buildings during this period The Politics of Architecture Anthony Jackson, 1970-12-15 The history of British architecture since 1930 has been one of frequently heated controversy between the old idiom and the new and between various social and technological viewpoints The battle is by no means over indeed it is spreading to wider issues and outside what was previously a largely professional sphere A book like this one which spells out the issues and describes how they arose is therefore of interest not only to architects and students of architecture but to the growing general public concerned about the man made environment Professor Jackson looks at the buildings of the period as the products of peculiar sets of circumstances as works of art and in terms of what their designers were trying to achieve And since there is much worth studying in the critical zone that separates architectural claims and hopes from social and aesthetic reality this book offers both essential background material and a fascinating narrative that will in itself be a subject of controversy Architecture in Britain, 1530 to 1830 John Summerson, 1977 In this book Sir John Summerson charts the development of architectural theory and practice from Elizabeth I to George IV Questions of style technology and the social framework of architecture are resolved as separable but always essential components of the building world Men of genius and buildings of fame emerge Inigo Jones Wren Vanbrugh Adam Soane Hampton Court St Paul s Cathedral London squares and the terraces and crescents of Bath Appendices deal with Scottish architecture before the union and buildings in the thirteen colonies of America The book is a companion to Ellis Waterhouse s Painting in Britain 1530 1830 and Margaret Whinney s Sculpture in Britain 1530 1830 colour plates have been added to this new edition Book jacket New Architecture in Britain Ken Powell, 2003 Architects increasingly operate on a global scene and just as numerous British architects have proved highly successful at winning projects abroad so architects from Europe the United States and the Far East are making their mark in Britain One thinks for example of Daniel Libeskind s Imperial War Museum and Tadao Ando s new square and pavilion project both in Manchester or of Frank Gehry s Cancer Care Centre in Dundee Well known British practices such as Future Systems Alsop Architects and Nicholas Grimshaw Partners also inevitably feature prominently in the exciting international story of the country s recent architectural renaissance but so too do newer smaller practices including many based outside the capital This book engagingly describes and illustrates over 100 outstanding projects both large and small floor around Britain none completed earlier than 2001 and some still under construction or at planning stage Covering every conceivable building type from houses offices and department stores to theatres heritage sites and museums this book makes a forceful contribution to the continuing debate about the role of architecture in forging a new environment and underpinning the growth of a healthy society

Architecture in Britain and Ireland, 600-1500 Lucy Archer, 1999 Everyone interested in architecture will find this book an indispensable companion to the discovery and appreciation of the astonishing number of Celtic Saxon Norman and medieval buildings and monuments which are still to be seen throughout Britain and Ireland. While providing a brief historical background to each period it is mainly a comprehensive guide to the development and use of the wide range of surviving secular and ecclesiastical buildings including church furnishings. Illustrated with over 350 black and white photographs by the late Edwin Smith and accompanied by a glossary of architectural terms and a gazetteer covering thousands of sites in England Scotland Wales and Ireland it is an invaluable work of reference as well as an invitation to travel and to explore. This is the first book in a three volume survey of architecture in Britain and Ireland Architecture in Britain, 1965*

Architecture in Britain, 1530 to 1830 John Summerson, John Newenham Summerson, Sir, 1993-01-01 The author charts the development of architectural theory and practice from Elizabeth I to George IV. Questions of style, technology and the social framework are resolved as separable but always essential components of the building world. Architecture in Britain 1530 to 1830 John Newenham Summerson, 1996 The Architecture of Landscape, 1940-1960 Marc Treib, 2002-10 The Architecture of Landscape 1940-1960 provides a groundbreaking collection of worldwide perspectives on a vital and underappreciated era of landscape architecture. It is also the first critical assessment of this period with information and insight previously unavailable to English language readers. God's Architect Rosemary Hill, 2007 Pugin was one of Britain's greatest architects and his short career one of the most dramatic in architectural history. Born in 1812 the son of the soi-disant Comte de Pugin at 15 Pugin was working for King George IV at Windsor Castle. By the time he was 21 he had been shipwrecked, bankrupted and widowed. Nineteen years later he died insane and disillusioned, having changed the face and the mind of British architecture. God's Architect is the first full modern biography of this extraordinary figure. It draws on thousands of unpublished letters and drawings to recreate his life and work as architect, propagandist and romantic artist as well as the turbulent story of his three marriages, the bitterness of his last years and his sudden death at 40. It is the debut of a remarkable historian and biographer.
