with Difficult Groups Sandy Schuman, 2010-03-18 WE VE ALL EXPERIENCED the challenges associated with working with groups but The Handbook for Working with Difficult Groups turns the idea of difficult groups on its head Rather than view groups as inherently difficult it looks at the factors that make working with groups difficult Individual chapters focus on challenges such as involving dissenters building external perspectives reducing complaining adapting to cultural differences incorporating diversity facilitating inclusion working virtually resolving identity based conflict transforming unproductive behavior patterns preventing workplace harassment and strengthening accountability The book first provides a framework for thinking systemically about the many and varied ways in which working with a group can be difficult Building on that framework the contributors each address three basic issues How the group is difficult a description of a real group and the observable phenomena that reflect the group s difficulty Why the group is difficult an exploration of the underlying causes of the difficulty What you can do about it what you can do as a group facilitator leader or member to help the group

Information and Communication Technology for Competitive Intelligence Dirk Jaap Vriens, 2004-01-01 In today s complex and dynamic world the need to be informed about what is going on in the environment of the organization is increasing rapidly To this end organizations implement a process called competitive intelligence Competitive intelligence CI is about gathering and analyzing environmental information for strategic purposes However the noncritical implementation of these tools may lead to an information overload or to environmental myopia To select the right ICT tools for CI an organization needs to understand the role of ICT in the CI process Information and Communication Technology for Competitive Intelligence addresses this need It assesses the role and possibilities of ICT in the intelligence activities from different perspectives

Mastering Facilitation Morgan Jones, 2020-10-14 With business and organisations moving at an ever faster pace and facing evermore demanding challenges the need for efficient succinct and productive interaction between individuals of those businesses and organisations is more important than ever With the bounds of communication restrictions abandoned through technological advances we can now see and hear anyone across any manner of virtual platforms anywhere around the globe and with a greater understanding of the underlying dynamics of human interaction unprecedented pressure has been thrust upon the individual or individuals who often enable these dynamic interactions the facilitator Many of us have at one time or other been responsible for a meeting whether between a small number of individuals or an entire organisation of hundreds or possibly thousands of businessmen and women Or perhaps we've had to be the mediator in a family dispute closer to home or managed a discussion between two feuding friends or colleagues One way or another chances are all of us have been a facilitator at some point in our lives With the ever growing demands placed on facilitators this book delivers a methodical and structured approach to facilitation This book is the definitive guide to instruct and assist facilitators both new and experienced with a set of guidelines and underlying theory that will benefit any facilitator whether as a mediator between two individuals single handedly facilitating a group of 100 or working as part of a facilitation team in a multinational corporation The first part of the book develops the core basic skills of those new to the art of facilitating There are many examples and exercises to show the reader how to apply them in different situations The second part of the book is for more experienced facilitators as it focuses on more advanced skills and tackling difficult situations Specific tools and techniques are illustrated for the reader Essentially this book is aimed at developing and mastering the art of facilitation Facilitation is the art of getting the best out of groups of people to brainstorm solve problems and gain consensus Based on 30 years experience of the author and running multiple facilitation training courses across the globe this book is aimed at upskilling people managers and leaders to drive change and consensus with groups through running workshops and meetings

Action Learning Peter Cauwelier, George Boak, 2025-05-27 People undertake action learning work in small groups to tackle organisational and social problems and to learn from their experience of working together to bring about change Having a dedicated facilitator or a coach for a group can make the process more effective and rewarding This book provides examples and analyses of effective behaviours of action learning facilitators and coaches Action learning is an approach to individual team and organisational learning In an action learning group people work collaboratively to make sense of the problems that they are addressing to devise plans to bring about improvements and to reflect on their progress and on what they have learned Having someone act as a facilitator or a coach for an action learning group is often necessary to ensure that the group finds a helpful balance between solving the immediate problems that face them and achieving genuine learning not just about the problem but also about themselves as individuals and about the group as a dynamic unit In this book experienced practitioners of action learning provide a rich range of examples of the use of facilitators and coaches in action learning groups Contributors from the UK the USA Thailand Taiwan the Caribbean and the Netherlands offer case studies reflections advice and the fruits of their research into this important topic This book was originally published as a special issue of Action Learning Research and Practice
