The Answer Is On The Inside:

Pararealities Floyd Merrell, 1983-01-01 The objective of this study is to inquire from a broad epistemological view into the underlying nature of fictions and above all to discover how it is possible to create and process them In Chapter One I put forth four postulates in the form of thought experiments in Chapter Two I turn attention to make believe imaginary and dream worlds and how they can be conceived and perceived only with respect to the a real world Chapter Three includes a discussion of the affinities and differences between one's tacit knowledge of certain aspects of the number system in arithmetic an ordered series and the range of all possible fictional entities an unordered network In Chapter Four I establish more precisely the relations between one's real world and one's fictional worlds in light of the conclusions from Chapter Three And in Chapter Five I attempt to construct a formal model with which to account for the construction of all possible fictional sentences
