Indigenous in the City Evelyn Peters,Chris Andersen,2013-04-22 Research on Indigenous issues rarely focuses on life in major metropolitan centres Instead there is a tendency to frame rural and remote locations as emblematic of authentic or real Indigeneity and as central to the survival of Indigenous cultures and societies While such a perspective may support Indigenous struggles for territory and recognition as distinct peoples it fails to account for large swaths of contemporary Indigenous realities not the least of which is the increased presence of Indigenous people and communities in cities The chapters in this volume explore the implications of urbanization on the production of distinctive Indigenous identities in Canada the United States New Zealand and Australia Instead of viewing urban experiences in terms of assimilation and social and cultural disruption this book demonstrates the resilience creativity and complexity of the urban Indigenous presence both in Canada and internationally Jesus in Indigenous Maori Understanding Wayne Te Kaawa,2025-11-13 Maori theology is done within a framework of Atua Divine Whenua Land and Tangata People The glue that holds this framework together is whakapapa genealogy which in Maori thought is the pinnacle of knowledge and ways of knowing Wayne Te Kaawa explores and analyses this framework and applies it to key passages of the bible concerning the genealogy of Jesus and his relationship to the environment in particular to the land and to the people The theme of people of the land within the biblical text is explored from an indigenous people of the land perspective This reveals two things the indigeneity of Jesus and how Christianity has treated mistreated indigenous people throughout the world Overall Te Kaawa provides a resource that can add to theological discourse in the academy and beyond by showcasing insights from Maori theological reflection in conversation with western theological reflection Mana Moana Robert Pouwhare,Carla Houkamau,2025-01-01 From the arrival of Maori in Aotearoa to the present day kaimoana has always been integral to Maori identity a vital source of sustenance and mana for hapu and iwi shaping the Maori economy and culture Mana Moana chronicles Maori fisheries in Aotearoa linking ancient purakau of Polynesian navigators to contemporary issues of sustainability and economic development It introduces readers to pre colonial fishing methods inter tribal trade routes and accounts from early European explorers who marvelled at Maori fishing prowess and then moves on to detail the enduring struggle for Maori fishing rights the 1992 Treaty of Waitangi Fisheries Settlement and the creation of Aotearoa Fisheries Limited now Moana New Zealand Owned by fifty eight iwi shareholders Moana New Zealand is a unique business guided by te ao Maori values and committed to both commercial success and sustainability Weaving together history matauranga business and politics Mana Moana offers readers deep insight into Maori fisheries and the realisation of mana Maori within a

Tracy,Hannah Dahlen,Lesley Dixon,2022-10-15 Now in its 5th edition Midwifery Preparation for Practice continues to present a global model of midwifery best practice that is supported by a range of examples from the Australian New Zealand and international midwifery contexts Endorsed by the Australian College of Midwives and the New Zealand College of Midwives the text continues to reinforce the established principles of midwifery

Memoirs of the Polynesian Society, 1915 The Discovery of Islands J. G. A. Pocock, 2005-08-30 The Discovery of Islands consists of a series of linked essays in British history written by one of the world's leading historians of political thought and published over the past three decades Its purpose is to present British history as that of several nations interacting with and sometimes seceding from an imperial state The commentary presents this history as that of an archipelago expanding across oceans to the Antipodes Both New Zealand history and the author's New Zealand heritage inform this vision presenting British history as oceanic and global complementing and occasionally criticising the presentation of that history as European Professor Pocock's interpretation of British history has been hugely influential in recent years making The Discovery of Islands a resource of immense value for historians of Britain and the world

What We Love: Reflections on Ministry, Leadership, and Mission Myk Habets, John Tucker, 2018-03-08 Leadership is a quality that often goes underappreciated or unrecognised in New Zealand church life But this is not how it should be Leadership is a godly and biblical quality and those with such gifts are to be celebrated and cherished This volume is a tribute to one such gifted leader Charles Hewlett eighth Principal of Carey Baptist College 2010-2017 Structured around the theme of What We Love a saying Charles would repeat often throughout his principalship faculty and students reflect on biblical theological and applied themes central to Christian thought and practice today More than an in house tribute this volume will be of interest and use to pastors and practitioners looking for considered reflections on ministry leadership and mission today

A New Maori Migration Joan Metge, 2021-03-24 Until 1939 the Maori people remained an almost wholly rural community but during and after the second world war increasing numbers of them migrated in search of work to the cities and urban groups of Maori were established This development has significantly affected relationships both between Maori and Europeans and within the Maori people as a whole The importance of Dr Metge's book lies in its presentation of a carefully documented comparative study of two Maori communities one in a traditional rural area and the other in Auckland New Zealand's largest industrial centre Housing and domestic organization marriage patterns kinship structure voluntary associations and leadership in both types of community are discussed The author's survey and conclusions make a valuable practical contribution to Maori social studies and also have a bearing on the world wide problem of the urbanisation of cultural minorities Transgressing Race Jione Havea, Y. T. Vinayaraj, 2023-08-22 Transgressing is an appropriate response to race as a crime against humanity No one chooses their race at birth yet many suffer because of their race And while many people choose to change citizenship their accents and faces can give them away as outsiders Racism thrives on the categorization of people according to their race Like the Black and White dichotomy other racial and ethnic discriminations such as casteism antisemitism Zionism xenophobia and Islamophobia undergird and promote segregation all around the world Dismantling racism requires challenging racialized oppressions and segregations in sacred texts and contexts in beloved traditions and hallowed theologies This book offers such biblical and theological discourses in order to transgress the discriminative segregations of racism in connection with other forms of exploitative systems or shitstems The book engages with racialized biblical texts and religious theologies with acts of racial discrimination in connection with slavery and colonialism with agonies of people in diaspora struggles of postcolonial minoritized people courage of indigenous people to subvert and with the race insensitive practices of theological and religious education The contributors are located in Africa Asia North America Europe and Oceania
