Driver Distraction Michael A. Regan, John D. Lee, Kristie Young, 2008-10-15 Certain activities and events both inside and outside a vehicle can distract drivers and lead to degraded performance New technologies such as entertainment communication and driver assistance systems play a significant role in distraction This unique volume defines driver distraction discusses various causes and explains how to measure acceptable and unacceptable levels of distraction Several chapters address measurement techniques based on performance and epidemiological studies Most importantly the text explores ways to mitigate driver distraction as well as countermeasures including vehicle design and effective legislation

Stefan Mattes , Performance Metrics for Assessing Driver Distraction Gary L Rupp, 2010-12-06 This book focuses on the study of secondary task demands imposed by in vehicle devices on the driver while driving It provides a mechanism for researchers to evaluate how in vehicle devices such as navigation systems as well as other devices such as cell phones affect driver distraction and impact safety This book which features the work presented by international experts at the 4th International Driver Metrics Workshop in June 2008 offers a summary of the current state of driver metrics research Edited by workshop moderator Dr Gary L Rupp the book introduces vital information to support the design of in vehicle information and communication systems IVIS Topics covered include Driver object and event detection Peripheral detection tasks PDT Tactile based detection tasks TDT Modified Sternberg method for assessing visual and cognitive load of in vehicle tasks Modified Sternberg method for assessing peripheral detection task and lane change tests The relationship between performance metrics and crash risk Characterizing driver behaviors observed in naturalist driving studies Developing metrics from lane change test studies Human-Computer Interaction Julie Jacko, Constantine Stephanidis, 2003-09-01 This is the second volume in the HCI International Conference Proceedings 2003 See following arrangement for details

Independence and Integration of Perception and Action Robert Ward, 2002 The remarkable complexity and sophistication of our perceptual systems have evolved for ultimately one purpose to promote efficient and effective action within a constantly changing environment Traditionally the route from perception to action has often been viewed as a single one directional sequence of stages which begins with a stimulus presentation and ends with a response This view has tended to emphasize the separation of perception from action with the result that studies of stimulus and response processing have often been carried out in isolation from each other The work in this issue takes a different approach which reflects renewed and increasing interest in how cognitive systems for vision and action are integrated The studies here explore multiple pathways between vision and action the ways in which vision promotes action and even the conditions and degree to which action and its consequences can influence vision A variety of methods and theoretical approaches are represented in studies examining spatial coding object processing motor behaviour attentional bias and codes for action Advances in Human Aspects of Road and Rail Transportation Neville A. Everybody's America David Witzling, 2012-09-10

Everybody's America reassesses Pynchon's literary career in order to explain the central role played by the racialization of American culture in the postmodernist deconstruction of subjectivity and literary authority and in the crisis in white liberal culture It charts the evolution of both these cultural transformations from Pynchon's early short stories composed in the late 1950s through Gravity's Rainbow published in 1973 This book demonstrates that Pynchon deploys techniques associated with the decentering of the linguistic sign and the fragmentation of narrative in order to work through the anxieties of white male subjects in their encounter with racial otherness It also charts Pynchon's attention to non white and non Euro American voices and cultural forms which imply an awareness of and interest in processes of transculturation occurring both within U S borders and between the U S and the Third World In these ways his novels attempt to acknowledge the implicit racism in many elements of white American culture and to grapple with the psychological and sociopolitical effects of that racism on both white and black Americans The argument of Everybody's America however also considers the limits of Pynchon's implicit commitment to hybridity as a social ideal identifying attitudes expressed in his work that suggest a residual attraction to the mainstream liberalism of the fifties and early sixties Pynchon's fiction dramatizes the conflict between the discourses and values of such liberalism and those of an emergent multiculturalist ethos that names and valorizes social difference and hybridity In identifying the competition between residual liberalism and an emergent multiculturalism Everybody's America makes its contribution to the broader understanding of postmodern culture

After the Nation Pedro Garcia-Caro, 2014-07-07

After the Nation proposes a series of groundbreaking new approaches to novels essays and short stories by Carlos Fuentes and Thomas Pynchon within the framework of a hemispheric American studies Garc a Caro offers a pioneering comparativist approach to the contemporary American and Mexican literary canons and their underlying nationalist encodement through the study of a wide range of texts by Pynchon and Fuentes which question and historicize in different ways the processes of national definition and myth making deployed in the drawing of literary borders After the Nation looks at these literary narratives as postnational satires that aim to unravel and denounce the combined hegemonic processes of modernity and nationalism while they start to contemplate the ensuing postnational constellations These are texts that playfully challenge the temporal and spatial designs of national themes while they point to and debase holy borders international borders as well as the internal lines where narratives of nation are embodied and consecrated
