Stemming The Torrent Expression And Control In The Victorian Discourses On Emotions 1830 187:

Stemming the Torrent Gesa Stedman, 2020-09-10 This title was first published in 2002 Gesa Stedman mines the vein of emotion in Victorian writing to unearth new insights into the ways literature responded to the dramatic social and political changes then taking place Contemporary research from various disciplines including sociology ethnology and history inform this study which juxtaposes canonical material such as Dickens Hard Times Charlotte Brontë's Shirley and Germaine de Staël's Corinne with popular novels and non-fictional texts such as The Education of the Heart by Sarah Ellis and Darwin's On the Expression of the Emotions in Man and Animals The analysis deals with emotions applying to both genders but includes a special section examining the representation of emotion in relation to women The book aims to provide new insight into the literature of the period and brings to light new material for scholars interested in the philosophy and psychology of emotions

The Routledge Companion to Animal-Human History Hilda Kean, Philip Howell, 2018-09-03 The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides an up to date guide for the historian working within the growing field of animal human history Giving a sense of the diversity and interdisciplinary nature of the field cutting edge contributions explore the practices of and challenges posed by historical studies of animals and animal human relationships Divided into three parts the Companion takes both a theoretical and practical approach to a field that is emerging as a prominent area of study Animals and the Practice of History considers established practices of history such as political history public history and cultural memory and how animal human history can contribute to them Problems and Paradigms identifies key historiographical issues to the field with contributors considering the challenges posed by topics such as agency literature art and emotional attachment The final section Themes and Provocations looks at larger themes within the history of animal human relationships in more depth with contributions covering topics that include breeding war hunting and eating As it is increasingly recognised that nonhuman actors have contributed to the making of history The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides a timely and important contribution to the scholarship on animal human history and surrounding debates

Weeping Britannia Thomas Dixon, 2015-09-10 There is a persistent myth about the British that we are a nation of stoics with stiff upper lips repressed emotions and inactive lachrymal glands Weeping Britannia the first history of crying in Britain comprehensively debunks this myth Far from being a persistent element in the national character the notion of the British stiff upper lip was in fact the product of a relatively brief and militaristic period of our past from about 1870 to 1945 In earlier times we were a nation of proficient sometimes virtuosic moral weepers To illustrate this perhaps surprising fact Thomas Dixon charts six centuries of weeping Britons and theories about them from the medieval mystic Margery Kempe in the early fifteenth century to Paul Gascoigne's famous tears in the semi-finals of the 1990 World Cup In between the book includes the tears of some of the most influential figures in British history from Oliver Cromwell to Margaret Thatcher not forgetting George III Queen Victoria Charles Darwin and Winston Churchill along the way But the history of weeping in

Britain is not simply one of famous tear stained individuals These tearful micro histories all contribute to a bigger picture of changing emotional ideas and styles over the centuries touching on many other fascinating areas of our history For instance the book also investigates the histories of painting literature theatre music and the cinema to discover how and why people have been moved to tears by the arts from the sentimental paintings and novels of the eighteenth century and the romantic music of the nineteenth to Hollywood weepies expressionist art and pop music in the twentieth century Weeping Britannia is simultaneously a museum of tears and a philosophical handbook using history to shed new light on the changing nature of Britishness over time as well as the ever shifting ways in which we express and understand our emotional lives The story that emerges is one in which a previously rich religious and cultural history of producing and interpreting tears was almost completely erased by the rise of a stoical and repressed British empire in the late nineteenth century Those forgotten philosophies of tears and feeling can now be rediscovered In the process readers might perhaps come to view their own tears in a different light as something more than mere emotional incontinence

Darwin's Psychology Ben Bradley, 2020 This is the first book ever to examine the riches of what Darwin himself wrote about psychological matters It unearths a Darwin new to science whose first concern is the agency of organisms from which he derives both his psychology and his theory of evolution

Charlotte Riddell's City Novels and Victorian Business Silvana Colella, 2016-03-22 In spite of the popularity she enjoyed during her lifetime Charlotte Riddell 1832 1906 has received little attention from scholars Silvana Colella makes a strong case for the relevance of Riddell s novels as narrative experiments that shed new light on the troubled experience of Victorian capitalism Drawing on her impressive knowledge of commerce and finance Riddell produced several novels that narrate the fate of individuals manufacturers accountants entrepreneurs City men and their female companions who pursue the liberal dream of self determination in the unstable world of London business Colella situates novels such as Too Much Alone George Geith The Race for Wealth Austin Friars and The Senior Partner in the broader cultural context examining business manuals commercial biographies and essays to highlight Victorian constructions of the business ideal and the changing cultural status of the City of London Combining historicist and formalist readings Colella charts the progression of Riddell s imaginative commitment to the business world focusing on the author s gendered awareness of the promises and disenchantments associated with the changing dynamics of capitalist modernisation Her book enriches our understanding of Victorian business culture the literary history of capitalism and the intersections of gender genre and economics
