Popular Romances of the West of England (Complete) Robert Hunt,2020-09-28 THE beginning of this collection of Popular Romances may I be truly said to date from my early childhood I remember with what anticipations of pleasure sixty eight years since I stitched together a few sheets of paper and carefully pasted them into the back of an old book This was preparatory to a visit I was about to make with my mother to Bodmin about which town many strange stories were told and my purpose was to record them My memory retains dim shadows of a wild tale of Hender the Huntsman of Lanhydrock of a narrative of streams having been poisoned by the monks and of a legend of a devil who played many strange pranks with the tower which stands on a neighbouring hill I have within the last year endeavoured to recover those stories but in vain The living people appear to have forgotten them my juvenile note book has long been lost those traditions are it is to be feared gone for ever Fifteen years passed away about six of them at school in Cornwall and nine of them in close labour in London when failing health compelled my return to the West of England Having spent about a month on the borders of Dartmoor and wandered over that wild region of Granite Tors gathering up its traditions ere yet Mrs Bray a had thought of doing so I resolved on walking through Cornwall Thirty five years since on a beautiful spring morning I landed at Saltash from the very ancient passage boat which in those days conveyed men and women carts and cattle across the river Tamar where now that triumph of engineering the Albert Bridge gracefully spans its waters Sending my box forward to Liskeard by a van my wanderings commenced my purpose being to visit each relic of Old Cornwall and to gather up every existing tale of its ancient people Ten months were delightfully spent in this way and in that period a large number of the romances and superstitions which are published in these volumes were collected with many more which have been weeded out of the collection as worthless Gunlore Robert Glenn Howard, Eric A.
