Small and Medium Enterprises A. S. Bhalla, 1991-11-21 In recent years the potential role of small and medium enterprises SMEs in fostering socio economic development has received increasing attention in the international economic community However no previous works have dealt with the technological capabilities of these enterprises Here A S Bhalla and a distinguished group of contributors fill this gap by presenting a sustained analysis of the technology issues and options facing small and medium enterprises in both urban and rural settings The work is organized around three major issues the policies and programs that affect small and medium enterprises the innovation potential of these businesses and the institutions and infrastructure most conducive to their success in developing and advanced economies Following Bhalla's introduction Part One looks at the macro and microeconomic policy environment necessary to stimulate the innovative capacity and potential of SMEs The contributors show that existing policy measures are invariably geared toward large enterprises and discuss whether removal of these policy biases is enough to promote SME growth or whether more interventionist approaches are needed Part Two focuses on the capacity of SMEs to design and manufacture equipment or products adapting technology to suit their particular requirements The contributors challenge the accepted views in this area demonstrating that even microenterprises have the capacity for product and process innovations In Part Three the contributors examine the success of the business incubation process in fostering technological innovation the traditional forms of support offered to SMEs in developing economies and the linkages between SMEs and research institutions In each section individual chapters examine the operation of SMEs in a variety of settings in both advanced and developing countries Must reading for policymakers and students of international economics Small and Medium Enterprises is a catalyst for informed action in this vital segment of economic activity

Small and Medium Enterprise Promotion Bishwa Keshar Maskay,1999 With reference to Nepal Management Research in a Changing Climate Dr. Mu. Subrahmanian, R. Banureka& S. Chandrasekaran,2014 The WTO Agreement on Agriculture and Food Security Christopher Stevens,2000 This report deals with an area of overlap between two large areas of study on livelihoods and food security and on international trade and policy Whilst it concentrates on one small element of each of these broad areas and so ignores many questions it does so for a good reason This is to avoid the danger that the WTO agricultural negotiations fail to contribute as strongly as they might to the promotion of food security precisely because the two areas of work and study overlap only at the margins Enhancing SME Competitiveness The OECD Bologna Ministerial Conference OECD,2001-04-16 These workshop proceedings discuss releasing the potential of SMEs by enhancing their access to global markets Cross-Border Entrepreneurship and Economic Development in Europe's Border Regions David Smallbone,Friederike Welter,Mirela Xheneti,2012-01-01 This volume is concerned with entrepreneurship and economic development in Europe's border regions focusing on the effects of EU enlargement on these regions both within the EU and in neighbouring countries Particular attention is paid to cross border entrepreneurial activity Cross border cooperation involving entrepreneurs is attracting increasing attention in Europe as EU enlargement has increased the length of its borders with the former Soviet republics The expert contributors highlight that border regions tend to be economically disadvantaged as a result of their peripherality which means that cross border cooperation for business purposes represents a potential development tool This groundbreaking book contains an empirical evidence base drawn from regions in EU member states and the Newly Independent States as well as providing a conceptual base for informed policy development This insightful book will prove invaluable for academics and students of entrepreneurship economics development and European studies Agricultural Reforms and Grain Production in China Shujie Yao,2016-07-27 This book explains how policy changes affect farmers production incentives and efficiency of resource allocation within and outside agriculture in modern China paying particular attention to the effects of technical inputs on yield and efficiency of spatial crop production pattern Drawing experiences of agricultural development in different periods after independence and employing two different quantitative techniques it concludes that government's long term tendency to undermine the role of agriculture lack of state investment and the inconsistency of market reforms are three major threats to sustained grain production and agricultural growth in China Special Reference Briefs ,1983 Cross-Border

Small Firms and Innovation Policy in Japan Cornelia Storz, 2012-11-15 This new book discusses the extent to which the Japanese economy encourages entrepreneurship and innovation Although Japan has a strong reputation as an innovator some people argue that this reputation is misplaced Contrary to earlier expectations the USA rather than Japan emerged as the leader in the biotech industries in the 1990s and also many small firms in Japan supply only a few or just one other company thereby limiting their view of the marketplace and the commercial opportunities within it Despite the increase of international patents international scientific citations and a positive technology trade balance the Japanese innovation system is weak in giving birth to radical innovations The book explores fully these issues making comparisons with other countries where appropriate It concludes that the Japanese innovation system has both advantages and disadvantages and contributes to a better understanding of how policy changes take place
