Hepatic Encephalopathy in Chronic Liver Failure Livio Capocaccia, 2012-12-06 The meeting which took place in Rome on November 19th and 20th of 1982 is easily the best meeting on hepatic coma that I have ever attended and I have attended many It was an exceedingly well planned meeting with prolonged opportunity for discussion and there was genuine interplay and exchange of ideas not the usual picture of a rushed meeting with investigators presenting their own point of view and talking past each other without a meaningful exchange which took place in Rome My co editors and I hope that the published transcript which of course can only reflect what transpired in Rome on those two days does justice to a very intellectually exciting and gratifying exchange of ideas L Capocaccia J E Fischer and F Rossi Fanelli v CONTENTS

Toxicity Vicente Felipo, Santiago Grisolia, 2012-12-06 This volume contains the papers presented at the International Symposium on Cirrhosis Hyperammonemia and Hepatic Encephalopathy held in Valencia Spain January 24th 27th 1994 Liver cirrhosis and other hepatic dysfunctions such as fulminant hepatic failure and congenital defects of urea cycle enzymes can lead to hepatic encephalopathy coma and death Hepatic encephalopathy is one of the main causes of death in western countries The ability to detoxify ammonia by its incorporation into urea is diminished by impaired liver function resulting in increased ammonia levels in blood and brain Hyperammonemia is considered one of the main factors in the mediation of hepatic encephalopathy and the classical clinical treatments are directed towards reducing blood ammonia levels However the molecular bases of the pathogenesis of hepatic encephalopathy and the role of hyperammonemia in this process remain unclear and several hypotheses have been proposed To clarify the mechanisms involved in hepatic encephalopathy and hyperammonemia suitable animal models are necessary The animal models available and the ideal features of an animal model are presented in the initial part of the book
