Cramer, 1992 Educational resource for teachers parents and kids Create Success! Kadhira Rajagopal, 2011-05-15 For far too long disadvantaged students in urban environments have believed the fallacy that academic success is unattainable Why The unfortunate answer is that too many urban school systems preemptively declare underperforming students to be failures a practice that fosters dysfunctional classrooms that fail to motivate engage and inspire students to succeed In Create Success Kadhira Rajagopal affectionately known as Dr Raja to his students outlines his no holds barred approach to teaching urban students Through his CREATE model of instruction students are held accountable for their own learning taught at an appropriate level and in familiar language and imbued with the sense that learning and personal achievement are qualities of which they should be proud not ashamed Dr Raja's CREATE model also places an emphasis on the active participation of teachers parents caregivers and coaches in each student's success Resulting in unprecedented success among students previously dismissed as lost causes and academic failures the CREATE model has demonstrated that it is indeed possible to close the achievement gap even in the most difficult cases Rajagopal has also shown that his model can be replicated in any classroom by a teacher who is willing to assume responsibility for each student's success hold students accountable embrace culturally responsive instruction and vigorously work on behalf of all students Filled with personal insights and battle tested strategies that promote student achievement Create Success is a pioneering approach to urban education from a 2011 California Teacher of the Year Teach, Reflect, Learn Pete Hall, Alisa Simeral, 2015-04-15 It's not the doing that matters it's the thinking about the doing said John Dewey As a teacher you work hard to make a positive difference in the lives of your students But this kind of progress doesn't happen overnight and it doesn't happen accidentally It's the result of intentionality planning effort and thought The difference between learning a skill and being able to implement it effectively resides in your capacity to engage in deep continuous thought about that skill In other words recognizing why you do something is often more important than knowing how to do it To help you deepen your thinking and reflect on your capacity as an educator Pete Hall and Alisa Simeral return to the Continuum of Self Reflection which they introduced to coaches and administrators in their best selling Building Teachers Capacity for Success and redesign its implementation so you can take charge of your own professional growth In these pages you ll find tools specifically made to enhance self reflection on professional practice including the Continuum of Self Reflection and the Reflective Cycle You ll be able to assess your current self reflective tendencies identify opportunities to reflect on your instruction and begin to forge a path toward continuous growth and educational excellence Bulletin ,1933
