Dörnyei,2014-06-03 Motivation is a vital element in learning and the most commonly cited explanation for success or failure in language learning Jill Hadfield and Zoltán Dörnyei present a new theory of motivation centred around the notion of the Ideal Future Language Self arguing that if students have a rich and inspiring vision of themselves as successful future language learners and users they will be motivated to work hard to actualise the vision and become that learner This book integrates the latest research in language teaching with innovative classroom practice offers suggestions on how the various components of the theory could be structured into a teaching sequence includes a variety of imaginative classroom activities designed to aid both student and teacher in creating and actualising the Ideal Self through visualisation goal setting task identification and planning and a selection of appropriate learning strategies shows how teachers can undertake motivation related research in their own classrooms This is an ideal guide to and activity book for the theory and practice of motivation in language learning for students and teachers alike School Life ,1958 Cantonese as a Second Language John C.

Wakefield,2019-04-09 Cantonese is a language from southern China that is spoken by roughly 70 million people worldwide It is the language of Hong Kong cinema and has traditionally been the most prominent language spoken in Chinatowns around the world People choose to learn Cantonese for a variety of social and economic reasons because it is a heritage language that one's relatives speak because it is the language of one's partner and monolingual in laws because it is necessary for living and working in Hong Kong Macau Guangzhou or other Cantonese speaking communities because it is the bridge to fully appreciating and understanding Cantonese culture or simply because it is an irresistible challenge Whatever the motivation more and more people are choosing to learn Cantonese as an additional language This book discusses many issues related to both acquiring and teaching Cantonese If you are a learner of Cantonese this long overdue volume is essential to understanding both the grammatical and the social issues involved with learning this notoriously difficult language If you are a teacher this book will be invaluable to gaining insight into your students motivations and needs And finally if you are an applied linguist the unique aspects related to the acquisition of Cantonese offer a fascinating contribution to the literature

Journeys Towards Intercultural Capability in Language Classrooms Martin East,Constanza Tolosa,Jocelyn Howard,Christine Biebricher,Adèle Scott,2022-05-16 This open access book presents an account of five teacher educators who over a two year period undertook a research project with five teachers of languages other than English in pre secondary schools in New Zealand Their collaborative aim was to develop students intercultural capability in the context of learning a new language The school participants were typical of many in New Zealand s pre secondary sector the teachers had limited language teaching experience and limited prior knowledge of how to develop the intercultural dimension in their language classrooms and the students were largely at the beginning stages of learning a new language The book discusses the findings obtained using a range of data collection methods including classroom observations reflective interviews with teachers and focus groups with students It documents instances of breakthrough and growth for teachers and students and reveals the problems and tensions Lastly it reflects on the lessons learned in the course of this project and speculates on the roles that teacher education needs to play if the goal of intercultural capability is to be better achieved in language classrooms both in New Zealand and internationally Of interest to a wide range of stakeholders in the area of education the book allows readers to gain an understanding of the opportunities of working with teachers through an action research model alongside the challenges that this brings and ways in which intercultural capability may be strengthened

TESOL Guide for Critical Praxis in Teaching, Inquiry, and Advocacy Crawford, Jenifer, Filback, Robert A., 2021-09-17 The field of TESOL encompasses English teachers who teach English as an additional language in English dominant countries and those teachers who teach English as a foreign language in countries where a language other than English is the official language This range of educators teaches English to children adolescents and adults in primary secondary post secondary popular education and language academies or tutoring centers The diversity of learners and contexts within the TESOL field presents a unique opportunity for educators to address varied educational and societal needs This opportunity calls for TESOL educators who can support the whole learner in a range of contexts for the greater social good There is an urgent need for readily reproducible and step by step research based practices and current standards in TESOL that bridge the gap between critical scholarship and equitable teaching practices This book would serve as a critical addition to current literature in TESOL

TESOL Guide for Critical Praxis in Teaching Inquiry and Advocacy is an essential reference that provides practical and equitable step by step guides for TESOL educators through the current best practices and methods for effective and equity minded teaching critical inquiry and transformative advocacy This book is of particular value as it bridges theories to practices with a critical look at racial and social justice in English language teaching which will lead to the integration of social justice focused practice across the new curriculum Covering topics such as integrated language instruction equity and inclusivity critical consciousness and online learning this text is essential for in service and pre service TESOL educators education students researchers administrators teacher educators and academicians

Third Language Acquisition and Universal Grammar Yan-kit Ingrid Leung, 2009-01-01 This volume presents studies which approach the relatively new field of third language L3 acquisition from the generative linguistic perspective It aims to bring together researchers who are interested in L3 acquisition and who are at the same time working within the generative framework i.e. Chomsky's Universal Grammar (UG) approach to language acquisition. A total of nine contributions are included reporting research on L3 involving different combinations of source/target languages and investigating various UG-related properties.

Secondary School Dual Language Immersion Ko-Yin Sung, 2025-09-10 This book responds to the expansion of dual language immersion (DLI) programs into secondary contexts, examining the effectiveness of these programs and highlighting areas for improvement in the curriculum. Focusing on Mandarin Chinese DLI in Utah secondary schools, it presents the views of teachers, parents, and students on the newly implemented program, explores patterns of classroom interactions, and assesses learners' oral narrative development as well as their learning strategy use in building reading, writing, and listening skills. In this way, it pinpoints possible weaknesses in the curriculum and current teaching practices and provides pedagogical implications and suggestions for in-service teachers and administrators advocating for the inclusion of heritage language maintenance as a program goal. It enhances pre-service teachers' understanding of the policy background and current program issues and offers a base for DLI researchers to build upon in understudied secondary school contexts.

Language Learning in Study Abroad Wenhao Diao, Emma Trentman, 2021-03-04 Vestiges of monolingual bias are present in the portrayal of study abroad as an idealized monolingual immersion experience and the steps many programs take to encourage or enforce target language monolingualism In reality study abroad is often inherently multilingual This book addresses the need for a recognition of the multilingual realities of study abroad across a variety of traditional and non traditional national contexts and target languages The chapters examine multilingual socialization and translanguaging with peers local hosts and instructors how the target language is necessarily entwined in global local and historical contexts and how students negotiate the use of local and global varieties of English Together the chapters present a powerful argument for scholars and study abroad practitioners to consider and critically incorporate multilingual realities into their research and planning

Research in Education , 1969 Classroom Research on Chinese as a Second Language Fangyuan Yuan, Shuai Li, 2019-04-24 This collection brings together a series of empirical studies on topics surrounding classrooms of Chinese as a second language L2 by drawing on a range of theoretical frameworks methodological strategies and pedagogical perspectives Over the past two decades research on classroom based second language acquisition SLA has emerged and expanded as one of the most important sub domains in the general field of SLA In

Chinese SLA however scarce attention has been devoted to this line of research With chapters written by scholars in the field of SLA many of whom are experienced in classroom teaching teacher education or program administration in Chinese as a second language this book helps disentangle the complicated relationships among linguistic targets pedagogical conditions assessment tools learner individual differences and teacher variables that exist in the so called black box classrooms of L2 Chinese
