Crespy, Les Gray, 2025-09-08 This collection of essays seeks to present articles that examine the early ventures of the 1960s and 1970s in the progressive theatre of identity with a new contemporary view considering the intersection of race gender ethnicity economic class and sexual orientation In 1964 Edward Albee and his producers Richard Barr and Clinton Wilder produced Funnyhouse of a Negro by Adrienne

Kennedy and Dutchman by Amiri Baraka then Leroi Jones and by 1968 had produced the seminal gay drama The Boys in the Band by Mart Crowley. No other major American playwright of this period including Thornton Wilder, Arthur Miller, Tennessee Williams or William Inge produced the plays of their junior colleagues with a specific focus on difference and diversity. For most scholars, these productions and Albee's involvement in them are a somewhat obscure footnote in theatre history. But they remain important for their early support of diverse voices. Even as Albee's career was skyrocketing, he and his producers had begun a producing project that sowed the seeds of diversity, equity, and inclusion in a decidedly anti-racist, decolonizing, and progressive move that still resonates powerfully today. While this book is not a hagiography and does not intend to paint Albee as without his own critical failings in terms of diversity in his own work and that of others, this volume of theatre history, dramatic literature, and performance essays takes a detailed critical approach to Albee's engagement with other initiating plays, productions, producers, theatre companies, theatre artists, and performances in the United States that pushed the dial toward difference and diversity in the late 1950s through the late 1970s, beginning the formations of new theatres of identity across the United States. This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and performance studies.

The Drama, 1923      The Drama Magazine ... Charles Hubbard, Sergei, William Norman Guthrie, Theodore Ballou Hinckley, 1920      Edward Albee and Absurdism, 2017-01-05. In Edward Albee and Absurdism, the inaugural volume in the new book series New Perspectives in Edward Albee Studies, Michael Y. Bennett has assembled an outstanding team of Edward Albee scholars to address Albee's affiliation with Martin Esslin's label Theatre of the Absurd, examining whether or not this label is appropriate. From scholarly essays and lengthy review essays to an important interview with the noted playwright and director Emily Mann, the aim of this collection is to at last directly and indirectly confront Esslin's label in regards to Albee's plays in order to create a scholarly atmosphere that allows future Albee scholars to move on to new and frankly more relevant lines of inquiry. Contributors are Michael Y. Bennett, Linda Ben Zvi, David A. Crespy, Colin Enriquez, Lincoln Konkle, David Marcia Dena Marks, Brenda Murphy, Tony Jason Stafford, and Kevin J. Wetmore Jr.

The Dramatic Mirror, and Literary Companion James Rees, 1842      Book Bulletin, 1920      Tennessee Williams and the Theatre of Excess Annette J. Saddik, 2015-01-26. The plays of Tennessee Williams post 1961 period have often been misunderstood and dismissed. In light of Williams' centennial in 2011, which was marked internationally by productions and world premieres of his late plays, Annette J. Saddik's new reading of these works illuminates them in the context of what she terms a theatre of excess, which seeks liberation through exaggeration, chaos, ambiguity, and laughter. Saddik explains why they are now gaining increasing acclaim and analyzes recent productions that successfully captured elements central to Williams' late aesthetic, particularly a delicate balance of laughter and horror with a self-consciously ironic acting style. Grounding the plays through the work of Bakhtin, Artaud, and Kristeva, as well as through the carnivalesque, the grotesque, and psychoanalytic, feminist, and queer theory, Saddik demonstrates how Williams engaged the freedom of exaggeration and excess in celebration of what he called the strange the crazed the queer      Critical Companion to Tennessee Williams Greta Heintzelman,Alycia Smith Howard,2014-05-14 One of the greatest American dramatists of the 20th century Tennessee Williams is known for his sensitive characterizations poetic yet realistic writing ironic humor and depiction of harsh realities in human relationship His work is frequently included in high school and college curricula and his plays are continually produced Critical Companion to Tennessee Williams includes entries on all of Williams s major and minor works including A Streetcar Named Desire Cat on a Hot Tin Roof The Glass Menagerie a novel a collection of short stories two poetry collections and personal essays places and events related to his works major figures in his life his literary influences and issues in Williams scholarship and criticism Appendixes include a complete list of Williams s works a list of research libraries with significant Williams holdings and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources      Eugene O'Neill's One-Act Plays M. Bennett,B. Carson,2012-08-06 Eugene O Neill Nobel Laureate in Literature and Pulitzer Prize winner is widely known for his full length plays However his one act plays are the foundation of his work both thematically and stylistically they telescope his later plays This collection aims to fill the gap by examining these texts during what can be considered O Neill s formative writing years and the foundational period of American drama A wide ranging investigation into O Neill s one acts the contributors shed light on a less explored part of his career and assist scholars in understanding O Neill s entire oeuvre      Youth's Companion ,1922

Caterpillar Dogs Tennessee Williams,2023-04-04 Seven previously unpublished stories of the Great Depression by America s poet laureate of the lost These tales were penned by one Thomas Lanier Williams of Missouri before he became a successful playwright and yet his voice is unmistakable The reliable idiosyncrasies and quiet dignity of Williams s eccentrics are already present in his characters Consider the diminutive octogenarian of The Caterpillar Dogs who may have just met her match in a pair of laughing Pekinese that refuse to obey the retired small town evangelist in Every Friday Nite is Kiddies Nite who wears bright colored pajamas and receives a message from God to move to St Louis and finally finally go to the movies again or the distraught factory worker whose stifled artistic spirit and just a soup on of the macabre propel the drama of Stair to the Roof Love s diversions and misdirections even autoerotic longings are found in these delightful lagniappes in Season of Grapes the intoxicating ripeness of summer in the Ozarks acquaints one young man with his own passions which turn into a fever dream and the first revelation of female sexuality blooms for a college boy in Ironweed Is there such a thing as innocence Apparently in the 1930s there was and Williams reveals it in these stories      Theatre Arts Sheldon Cheney,Edith Juliet Rich Isaacs,1919      How Then Shall We Live?
