The Open Sore Of A Continent A Personal Narrative Of The Nigerian Crisis:

The Open Sore of a Continent Wole Soyinka, 1996 The events that led up to dissident writer Ken Saro Wiwa's execution in 1995 marked Nigeria's decline from a post colonial success story to its current military dictatorship Wole Soyinka whose own Nigerian passport was confiscated by the Nigerian military in 1994 explores the history and future of Nigeria in a compelling jeremiad that is as intense as it is provocative learned and wide ranging Literature Suppressed on Political Grounds Nicholas J. Karolides, Margaret Bald, 2014-05-14 Literature Suppressed on Religious Grounds Revised Edition profiles the censorship of many such essential works of literature The entries new to this edition include extensive coverage of the Harry Potter series which has been frequently banned in the United States on the grounds that it promotes witchcraft as well as entries on two popular textbook series The Witches by Roald Dahl Women Without Men A Novel of Modern Iran and more Also included are updates to such entries as The Satanic Verses by Salman Rushdie and On the Origin of Species by Charles Darwin Global Africans Toyin Falola, Cacee Hoyer, 2017-01-20 Black African African descendant and of African heritage are just some of the ways Africans and Africans in the diaspora both old and new describe themselves This volume examines concepts of race ethnicity and identity as they are ascribed to people of colour around the world examining different case studies of how the process of identity formation occurred and is changing Contributors to this volume selected from a wide range of academic and cultural backgrounds explore issues that encourage a deeper understanding of race ethnicity and identity As our notions about what it means to be black or of African heritage change as a result of globalization it is important to reassess how these issues are currently developing and the origins from which these issues developed Global Africans is an important and insightful book useful to a wide range of students and scholars particularly of African studies sociology diaspora studies and race and ethnic studies The Infinite Longing for Home David C.L. Lim, 2005-01-01 The Infinite Longing for Home is a groundbreaking study of Ben Okri's and K S Maniam's literary problematization of home in relation to subjectivity and the nation within and beyond the context of Nigeria and Malaysia Drawing on Lacan, Iek Laclau and Mouffe and weaving through history politics philosophy and literature this book critically examines the motives and means by which peoples forced to live together in a country love and hate each other and overlook the truths about themselves their actions and beliefs It looks into why some embrace heterogeneity and open endedness while others are internally compelled to over identify passionately with their religion and race and to posit theirs as irreducibly distinct from and superior to others The Infinite Longing for Home also traces through Okri's and Maniam's writings a way out of today's political aporia a path to the re creation of a new society humbled and unified by the recognition of its participation in flawed humanity Engaging with Literature of Commitment. Volume 1, 2012-01-01 This collection ranges far and wide as befits the personality and accomplishments of the dedicatee Geoffrey V Davis German studies and exile literature scholar postcolonialist if there are specialties then Australia Canada India South Africa Black

Nigeria Since Independence J. Hill, 2012-10-10 This book analyses the political and ethnical tensions that characterize Nigeria which derive both from colonial and contemporary conflicts It points out three major factors why Nigeria has not yet collapsed like many other African states ethnic power sharing amongst the political elite the military with its national outlook and oil wealth

Feminist Visions and Queer Futures in Postcolonial Drama Kanika Batra, 2011-04-13 In this timely study Batra examines contemporary drama from India Jamaica and Nigeria in conjunction with feminist and incipient queer movements in these countries Postcolonial drama Batra contends furthers the struggle for gender justice in both these movements by contesting the idea of the heterosexual middle class wage earning male as the model citizen and by suggesting alternative conceptions of citizenship premised on working class sexual identities Further Batra considers the possibility of Indian Jamaican and Nigerian drama generating a discourse on a rights bearing conception of citizenship that derives from representations of non biological non generational forms of kinship Her study is one of the first to examine the ways in which postcolonial dramatists are creating the possibility of a dialogue between cultural activism women s movements and an emerging discourse on queer sexualities

Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II James Ciment, 2015-03-27 Thoroughly revised to include 25 conflicts not covered in the previous edition as well as expanded and updated information on previous coverage this illustrated reference presents descriptions and analyses of more than 170 significant post World War II conflicts around the globe Organized by region for ease of access Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II Second Edition provides clear in depth explanations of events not covered in such detail in any other reference source Including more than 180 detailed maps and 150 photos the set highlights the conflicts that dominate today s headlines and the events that changed the course of late twentieth century history

Atrocities, Massacres, and War Crimes Alexander Mikaberidze, 2013-06-25 Both concise and wide ranging this encyclopedia covers massacres atrocities war crimes and genocides including acts of inhumanity on all continents and serves as a reminder that lest we forget history will repeat itself The 400 plus entries in Atrocities Massacres and War Crimes An Encyclopedia provide accessible and concise information on the difficult subject of abject human violence committed on all continents The entries in this two volume work

African Women Writers and the Politics of Gender Sadia Zulfiqar, 2016-09-23 This work examines the work of a group of African women writers who have emerged over the last forty years While figures such as Chinua Achebe Ben Okri and Wole Soyinka are likely to be the chief focus of discussions of African writing female authors have been at the forefront of fictional interrogations of identity formation and history In the work of authors such as Mariama B. Diallo Senegal Buchi Emecheta Nigeria Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Nigeria Tsitsi Dangarembga Zimbabwe and Leila Aboulela Sudan there is a clear attempt to subvert the tradition of male writing where the female characters are often relegated to the margins of the culture and confined to the domestic private sphere This body of work has already generated a significant number of critical responses including readings that draw on gender politics and colonialism but it is still very much a minor literature and most mainstream western feminism has not sufficiently processed it The purpose of this book is three fold First it draws together some of the most important and influential African women writers of the post war period and looks at their work separately and together in terms of a series of themes and issues including marriage family polygamy religion childhood and education Second it demonstrates how African literature produced by women writers is explicitly and polemically engaged with urgent political issues that have both local and global resonance the veil Islamophobia and a distinctively African brand of feminist critique Third it revisits Fredric Jameson's claim that all third world texts are national allegories and considers these novels by African women in relation to Jameson's claim arguing that their work has complicated Jameson's assumptions

The Pan-African Nation Andrew Apter, 2008-10-01 When Nigeria hosted the Second World Black and African Festival of Arts and Culture FESTAC in 1977 it celebrated a global vision of black nationhood and citizenship animated by the exuberance of its recent oil boom Andrew Apter's The Pan African Nation tells the full story of this cultural extravaganza from Nigeria's spectacular rebirth as a rapidly developing petro state to its dramatic demise when the boom went bust According to Apter FESTAC expanded the horizons of blackness in Nigeria to mirror the global circuits of its economy By showcasing masks dances images and souvenirs from its many diverse ethnic groups Nigeria forged a new national culture In the grandeur of this oil fed confidence the nation subsumed all black and

African cultures within its empire of cultural signs and erased its colonial legacies from collective memory As the oil economy collapsed however cultural signs became unstable contributing to rampant violence and dissimulation The Pan African Nation unpacks FESTAC as a historically situated mirror of production in Nigeria More broadly it points towards a critique of the political economy of the sign in postcolonial Africa The Search for the Key David Dollar, William Easterly, 1999 The End of Certainty Professor Stephen Chan, 2013-07-04 The End of Certainty is a magical realist book on world politics Stephen Chan takes the reader on a rollercoaster ride through how we can establish a new kind of international relations and construct a common future for the planet Chan argues that the certainties of singular traditions of philosophy have failed to help us understand power shifts and struggles in an endlessly diverse world Chan argues that fusing different strands of Western Eastern religious and philosophical thought is far more likely to help us move forward amidst uncertainty In doing so he takes us on a journey from the battlefields of Eritrea to the Twin Towers via the Book of Job Clausewitz Fanon and Wahabism You ll never think about international politics in quite the same way again Ethnicity and Regionalism in National Politics in Kenya and Nigeria: A Comparative Study Godfrey Mwakikagile, This work is a comparative study of ethnic politics in Kenya in Nigeria two countries on the African continent where ethnicity has played a major role in determining their destiny as much it has elsewhere only in varying degrees This is similar to the author s other works on Rwanda and Burundi including Identity Politics and Ethnic Conflicts in Rwanda and Burundi A Comparative Study where the same phenomenon has had tragic consequences for decades both works appropriate in their own contexts yet of continental relevance The work is also an examination of the Nigerian civil war whose tragic consequences included the secession of the Eastern Region which declared independence as the Republic of Biafra after tens of thousands of Easterners were massacred in Northern Nigeria in 1966 Inequalities and Conflicts in Modern and Contemporary African History Jan Záhorký, 2018-11-16 The book deals with historical social economic political and international causes contexts and consequences of inequalities and conflicts in Africa In particular the book is to puts conflicts and turbulences in Ethiopia in a broader African comparative perspective It also identifies and analyzes multiple causes of conflicts which cannot be studied only as a result of one variable Inequalities and conflicts have a whole set of causes stemming from historically inherited as well as global international socio economic political and other contexts which cannot be analyzed separately This book is vital for anyone who is interested in the study of African history comparative politics and conflict in Africa The Transition to Democratic Governance in Africa John Mukum Mbaku Esq., Julius O. Ihonvbere, 2003-04-30 Africa is currently experiencing sociopolitical and economic changes of unprecedented proportions New leaders institutions discourses and methods of political organization and action are shaping a new future Through a case study approach this essay collection provides a comprehensive analysis of the history trajectory actors institutions contradictions failures and opportunities in contemporary efforts at democratization in Africa While presenting the dynamics of democracy and democratization in several African countries they also look at critical issues in Africa's transition projects from political parties and elections through constitutions and constitutionalism to new structures of power and politics A provocative analysis for scholars students researchers and policy makers involved with African political and economic development

Dictators, Dictatorship and the African Novel Robert Spencer, 2021-03-01 This book examines the representation of dictators and dictatorships in African fiction It examines how the texts clarify the origins of postcolonial dictatorships and explore the shape of the democratic egalitarian alternatives The first chapter explains the neoliberal period after the 1970s as an effective recolonization of Africa by Western states and international financial institutions Dictatorship is theorised as a form of concentrated economic and political power that facilitates Africa's continued dependency in the context of world capitalism The deepest aspiration of anti colonial revolution remains the democratization of these authoritarian states inherited from the colonial period This book discusses four novels by Ng g wa Thiong o Ahmadou Kourouma Chinua Achebe and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie in order to reveal how their themes and forms dramatize this unfinished struggle between dictatorship and radical democracy

Nigeria, Africa, and the United States Olayiwola Abegunrin, 2016-12-07 The U S Department of Defense is fighting a new shadow war in Africa Africa is the battlefield of tomorrow and the United States military is spreading secret wars in the continent This book explores how and why this has happened Since the beginning of the twentieth century the formulation of the United States policy towards Africa has always been based on the strategic importance of the natural resources of Africa and how these can be used in the national interests of the United States However most Americans gave very little thought to Africa but instead referred to it as the Dark Continent not only because its peoples are dark skinned but also because it was unknown to them Africa is no longer dark but is rather becoming one of the lions on the move This book examines and analyzes Nigeria and U S policy on the continent since the Cold War It looks at Nigeria and the challenges facing the country including problems of development good governance and security It particularly focuses on the impacts of terrorism on Nigeria and U S Africa relations since the Cold War and the realities of September 11 2001 in relations to Nigeria and United States Islamists jihadists terrorism in Africa There is huge potential in Nigeria the country has the largest population in Africa and is well endowed in terms of both natural and human resources Nigeria also has the largest economy on the continent the largest black population in the world a burgeoning and vibrant youthful population and a tradition of international engagement since its independence Its advantageous geographical location in West Africa enables trade within the continent as well as with Europe North and South America and Asia Nigeria is the most important strategic partner for the United States in the African continent and will become increasingly so in this century

Africa in the New World Order Olayiwola Abegunrin, 2014-07-08 This book examines the role of the emerging African nations in the new international order of the twenty first century Since the end of the Cold War little significance has been placed on the African continent in the security and political considerations of the Western world However post 9 11 international security has been redefined and new challenges have been identified. Thus at the beginning of the twenty first century Africa is facing a variety of new security challenges. Africa has become an increasingly important battleground in the fight against terrorism. Since the beginning of 2011 the new revolutions now known as the Arab Spring that swept through North Africa have created new challenges for the African continent and are compounding the African peoples struggles for poverty alleviation, state stability, security, socio political and socio economic development, democracy and good governance. In addition to these crises of civil war, ethnic conflict, state insecurity and rampant corruption at all levels, the HIV AIDS pandemic has ravaged the continent for the past four decades. The only major pan African organization, the African Union, is unable to lead and defend the continent effectively. At this crucial period when the continent is confronted with these myriad of security challenges, it needs effective strong leadership that possesses both human and natural resources to play a leadership role in Africa and lead the continent in the new global order of the twenty first century. The contributors to this volume analyze many of these issues and place them in the wider context of global security.
