Chinese Business in the Making of a Malay State, 1882-1941 Wu Xiao An, 2003-12-08 An examination of how Chinese family and business networks have been closely interlocked with economic and social structures around which government and states developed

Early Modern Southeast Asia, 1350-1800 Ooi Keat Gin, Hoang Anh Tuan, 2015-10-08 This book presents extensive new research findings on and new thinking about Southeast Asia in this interesting richly diverse but much understudied period It examines the wide and well developed trading networks explores the different kinds of regimes and the nature of power and security considers urban growth international relations and the beginnings of European involvement with the region and discusses religious factors in particular the spread and impact of Christianity One key theme of the book is the consideration of how well developed Southeast Asia was before the onset of European involvement and how during the peak of the commercial boom in the 1500s and 1600s many polities in Southeast Asia were not far behind Europe in terms of socio economic progress and attainments

Opium and Empire Carl A. Trocki, 2019-05-15 Breaking new ground in the historiography of the overseas Chinese and British colonialism this book focuses on two areas largely ignored by students of the period opium and the economic role of the group of institutions known as kongsi or secret societies

Agriculture and Rural Connections in the Pacific Lei Guang, 2017-05-15 Agriculture and Rural Connections in the Pacific brings together key studies from across several disciplines to examine the history of trans Pacific rural and agricultural connections and to show an agriculturally oriented Pacific World in the making since the 1500s Historical globalization is commonly understood as a process that is propelled by industry or commerce yet the seeds of global integration literally as well as metaphorically were sown much earlier when crops and plants dispersed agricultural systems proliferated and rural people migrated across oceans One goal of this volume is to demonstrate that the historical processes of globalization contained an agrarian dimension in which sub national and national spaces were shaped in part through the influence of forces that originated in distant lands Social and economic trends emanating from outside local territories had large impacts on demographic change choices of agrarian systems and the cropping patterns in many domestic settings A second goal is to encourage readers to abandon the traditional Euro centric view of events that shaped the Pacific region The modern history of the Pacific World was undoubtedly shaped by Western imperialism colonialism and European trade and migration but the present volume seeks to balance the interpretation of those forces with an emphasis on the increasing intensity of trans Pacific interactions through rural labor migration and agricultural production

Singapore Carl A. Trocki, 2006-03-23 This volume examines Singapore's culture of control exploring the city state's colonial heritage as well as the forces that have helped to mould its current social landscape Taking a comparative approach Trocki demonstrates the links between Singapore's colonial past and independent present focusing on the development of indigenous social and political movements In particular the book examines the efforts of Lee Yew Kuan leader of the People's

Action Party from 1959 until 1990 to produce major economic and social transformation Trocki discusses how Singapore became a workers paradise but what the city gained in material advancement it paid for in intellectual and cultural sterility Based on the latest research Singapore addresses the question of control in one of the most prosperous and dynamic economies in the world providing a compelling history of post colonial Singapore Sojourners and Settlers Anthony Reid,2001-04-01 Only recently has the role of Chinese minorities at the forefront of Southeast Asia s rapid economic growth attracted world attention Yet interactions between Chinese and Southeast Asians are longstanding and intense reaching back a thousand years and making it difficult if not specious to attempt to disentangle what is Chinese and what is indigenous in much of Southeast Asian culture Sojourners and Settlers now back in print written by some of the most distinguished specialists in the field demonstrates the depth of that relationship Contributors Leonard Bluss Mary Somers Heidhues Jamie C Mackie Anthony Reid Craig Reynolds Claudine Salmon G William Skinner Wang Gungwu O W Wolters Singapore Chinese Society in Transition Hong Liu,Sin Kiong Wong,2004 As the first comprehensive study of its kind this book analyzes the dynamics processes mechanisms and consequences of socio economic and political changes in Singapore Chinese society from 1945 to 1965 By employing a wide range of primary materials that have been rarely used before the authors have demonstrated the multi dimensionality and complexity of the Chinese society in postwar Singapore which was full of vitality and politically active They argue that the combination of the internal dynamism and the changing socio political framework shaped the nature and characteristics of the Chinese community and its fundamental role in the making of modern Singapore This study is essential reading for an understanding of not only the Chinese politics and business networks in postwar Singapore but also the historical evolution of the newly independent Republic Ethnicities, Personalities And Politics In The Ethnic Chinese Worlds Ching-hwang Yen,2016-08-18 The rise of the economic power of the ethnic Chinese known also as overseas Chinese Chinese overseas or Chinese diaspora was a late 20th century phenomenon It was partly the result of the rise of the Four Little Asian Dragons in the 1970s and was speeded up by the tempo of globalization towards the end of that century This book explores the ethnic identity and boundary of the Chinese as minority groups in foreign lands and as sub groups among the Chinese themselves It examines prominent personalities that had wielded considerable influence in the ethnic Chinese communities in the economic social and educational arenas It also discusses the type of politics that had impacted their relationship with their mother country China Containing 16 papers presented at various international conferences in Singapore Malaysia Hong Kong China and Taiwan as keynote speeches and research findings which are predominantly unpublished in English this book provides fresh perspectives and re interpretations on the issues of ethnicity leadership and politics in the ethnic Chinese worlds Chinese Business in Malaysia Terence Gomez,2012-12-06 Chinese companies have managed to perform well in Malaysia especially after the recession in the mid 1980s due to a clear change in the Malay dominated government s attitude to Chinese capital Despite the problems that prevail among UMNO politicians the government has provided a stable economic environment and offers opportunities for domestic private investment even for the Chinese. Given these circumstances it does appear that Chinese capital in Malaysia has reasonable prospects for further growth in the immediate future. This study examines the dominant role of Chinese capital in the economy providing in depth empirical research on its mode of development and styles of operation. Covering the period from colonial times to the present day this study identifies key issues pertaining to Chinese business operations in Malaysia: ownership and control patterns, style of growth, relations with the state, politicians and other Chinese businessmen, and the manner of development of business abroad whilst debunking the theory that large scale Chinese capital is not very entrepreneurial in nature.

Commercial Law in East Asia Roman Tomasic, 2017-07-05. The shift of economic gravity towards East Asia requires a critical examination of law's role in the Asian Century. This volume explores the diverse scholarly perspectives on law's role in the economic rise of East Asia and moves from general debates such as whether law enjoys primacy over culture, state intervention or free markets in East Asian capitalism to specific case studies looking at the nature of law in East Asian negotiations, contracts, trade policy and corporate governance. The collection of articles exposes the clefts and cleavages in the scholarly literature explaining law's form, function and future in the Asian Century. New Terrains in Southeast Asian History Abu Talib Ahmad, Liok Ee Tan, 2003. Annotation: Southeast Asian scholars may have special insights into their respective countries but they are just as easily infected by political and didactic functions of their national histories as any historian. The editors, a professor and former professor with the School of Humanities, U Sains Malaysia, present 15 papers in which Southeast Asian scholars turn a critical eye on their national historiographies. Five of the papers explore broad methodological issues while others examine particular historiographic traditions from Burma, Myanmar, Singapore, Malaysia and Thailand. The final group consists of case studies of the application of new methodologies and understandings to particular historical events or periods. Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc, Portland, OR, booknews.com. Elusive Capital Gipouloux, François, 2022-06-09. Offering a fresh analysis of late imperial China, this cutting edge book revisits the roles played by merchant networks, economic institutions and business practices in the divergence between Europe and China during the trade revolution.
