The Origins Of Violence Approaches To The Study Of Conflict:

The Origins of Violence Anatol Rapoport, 1989 The Universitas Project Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 2006 This volume publishes in their entirety the various components of a conference hosted by MoMA in 1972 The Universitas Project The distinguished participants drawn from a wide range of scholarly and artistic disciplines engaged in a multidisciplinary debate on the future of design and design institutions in the postindustrial era Addressing issues and ideas still relevant today this book makes a particularly fertile chapter in the intellectual history of the Museum available for the first time to scholars the architecture and design community and the general public Computational Conflict Research Emanuel Deutschmann, Jan Lorenz, Luis G. Nardin, Davide Natalini, Adalbert F. X. Wilhelm, 2019-11-09 This open access book brings together a set of original studies that use cutting edge computational methods to investigate conflict at various geographic scales and degrees of intensity and violence Methodologically this book covers a variety of computational approaches from text mining and machine learning to agent based modelling and social network analysis Empirical cases range from migration policy framing in North America and street protests in Iran to violence against civilians in Congo and food riots world wide Supplementary materials in the book include a comprehensive list of the datasets on conflict and dissent as well as resources to online repositories where the annotated code and data of individual chapters can be found and where agent based models can be re produced and altered These materials are a valuable resource for those wishing to retrace and learn from the analyses described in this volume and adapt and apply them to their own research interests By bringing together novel research through an international team of scholars from a range of disciplines Computational Conflict Research pioneers and maps this emerging field The book will appeal to students scholars and anyone interested in the prospects of using computational social sciences to advance our understanding of conflict dynamics The Science of Synthesis Debora Hammond, 2011-05-18 Debora Hammond s The Science of Synthesis explores the development of general systems theory and the individuals who gathered together around that idea to form the Society for General Systems Research In examining the life and work of the SGSR s five founding members Ludwig von Bertalanffy Kenneth Boulding Ralph Gerard James Grier Miller and Anatol Rapoport Hammond traces the emergence of systems ideas across a broad range of disciplines in the mid twentieth century Both metaphor and framework the systems concept as articulated by its earliest proponents highlights relationship and interconnectedness among the biological ecological social psychological and technological dimensions of our increasingly complex lives Seeking to transcend the reductionism and mechanism of classical science which they saw as limited by its focus on the discrete component parts of reality the general systems community hoped to complement this analytic approach with a more holistic orientation As one of many systems traditions the general systems group was specifically interested in fostering collaboration and integration among different disciplinary perspectives with an emphasis on nurturing more participatory and truly democratic forms of social organization The Science of Synthesis documents a unique episode in the history of modern thought one that remains relevant today This book will be of interest to historians of science system thinkers scholars and practitioners in the social sciences management organization development and related fields as well as the general reader interested in the history of ideas that have shaped critical developments in the second half of the twentieth century Understanding the Military Design Movement Ben Zweibelson,2023-06-09 This book explains the history and development of the military design movement featuring case studies from key modern militaries Written by a practitioner the work shows how modern militaries think and arrange actions in time and space for security affairs and why designers are disrupting challenging and reconceptualizing everything previously upheld as sacred on the battlefield It is the first book to thoroughly explain what military design is where it came from and how it works at deep philosophically grounded levels and why it is potentially the most controversial development in generations of war fighters The work explains the tangled origins of commercial design and that of designing modern warfare the rise of various design movements and how today s military forces largely hold to a Newtonian stylization built upon mimicry of natural science infused with earlier medieval and religious inspirations Why does our species conceptualize war as such and how do military institutions erect barriers that become so powerful that efforts to design further innovation require entirely novel constructs outside the orthodoxy The book explains design stories from the Israel Defense Force the US Army the US Marine Corps the Canadian Armed Forces and the Australian Defence Force for the first time and includes the theory doctrine organizational culture and key actors involved Ultimately this book is about how small communities of practice are challenging the foundations of modern defence thinking This book will be of much interest to students of military and strategic studies defence studies and security studies as well as design educators and military professionals State Formation and the Structure of Politics in Mamluk Syro-Egypt, 648-741 A.H./1250-1340 C.E. Winslow Williams Clifford,2013 Winslow Williams Clifford is one of the few historians so far who have addressed the history and culture of the so called Mamluk Sultanate 1250 1517 on the basis of theoretical models This volume is a posthumous publication of his doctoral thesis submitted in 1995 at the University of Chicago Through his skillful application of social theory Clifford succeeded in providing highly convincing evidence that the Mamluk rulers did not as was maintained fo a long time constitute a static form of oriental despotism but was rather a highly differentiated society It was primarily based on compliance with a complex system of order that had established itself during the rule of the first sultans Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II James Ciment,2015-03-27 Thoroughly revised to include 25 conflicts not covered in the previous edition as well as expanded and updated information on previous coverage this illustrated reference presents descriptions and analyses of more than 170 significant post World War II conflicts around the globe Organized by region for ease of access Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II Second Edition provides clear in depth explanations of events not covered in such detail in any other reference source Including more than 180 detailed maps and 150 photos the set highlights the conflicts that dominate today's headlines and the events that changed the course of late twentieth century history Peace, Literature, and Art - Volume II Ada Aharoni, 2009-08-30 Peace Literature and Art is the component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Culture is the essence of individual and national identity What children and people read and watch and the kind of Culture Literature and Media they are exposed to through home education and society provide them with basic values attitudes and norms which affect and motivate them throughout their lives It is of crucial importance therefore that those stories we are exposed to at the socio cultural and educational levels which we watch on television in films and on the Internet and which we read should be peaceful ones which open our eyes to a humane world that can prosper from peace and harmony This Theme on Peace Literature and Art deals in two volumes and cover several topics related to Peace Education Definition Approaches and Future Directions Importance of a Literature and a Culture of Peace These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers NGOs and GOs Neuropsychology of Criminal Behavior Feggy Ostrosky, Alfredo Ardila, 2017-10-04 This book draws on findings from psychology neurology and genetics to offer a multi dimensional analysis of criminal behavior It explores the biological bases of emotions such as aggression anger and hostility and how they combined with social psychological influences such as family history and environmental conditions may lead to violence Specific case studies including serial killings mass murders family violence cannibalism and hitmen are referenced throughout providing real world examples of these theories in action Issues of free will and the law are discussed as well as suggestions for curbing violent behavior Peace Psychology Herbert H. Blumberg, A. Paul Hare, Anna Costin, 2006-12-07 This textbook provides a comprehensive introduction to peace psychology covering interdisciplinary practice primary psychological topics core peace studies topics and terrorism China between Peace and War Victor Cheng, 2023-11-30 In China between Peace and War Victor S C Cheng explores the gripping history of peace talks and international negotiations from 1945 to 1947 that helped determine the shape of the Chinese Civil War The book focuses on the efforts of the two belligerent parties the Chinese Nationalists or Guomindang and the Communists to achieve an enduring peace It presents previously unexplored major elements of the peace talks ambiguous treaties package deals and short term solutions It identifies the burning challenges that confronted attempts at peacemaking including the two warring parties high risk decision making styles and the temptation to veto agreements and resume fighting Cheng argues against popular notions that differences between the two belligerents in the Chinese Civil War were irreconcilable that the failure of the peace talks was predetermined and that the US government mediators needed to remain neutral Because the actions around the negotiating table occurred in a developing theatre of war Cheng also explores the military decision making of the opposing sides as well as the conflicts that ultimately plunged China into the world's largest military engagement of the seven plus decades since World War II China between Peace and War highlights the contradictory role of political leaders who micromanaged the military including their struggle to connect political objectives and military power their rhetorical use of the decisive war concept and their pursuit of radical military political goals at the expense of a negotiated peace

Transforming Ethnopolitical Conflict Alex Austin, Martina Fischer, Norbert Ropers, 2013-04-17 Preface Confronted with a wide variety of conflicts the international community has attempted to respond through humanitarian assistance development aid crisis prevention and conflict resolution programmes To date many of these activities have exacerbated conflict dynamics as much as they have enhanced the opportunities for sustainable development and peace In an effort to understand what works lessons learned and best practices are being collected usually in the form of evaluations of individual projects or programs Although the number of studies undertaken has increased few lessons have been systematised or accumulated for broader discussion in the academic field or for practitioners use The Berghof Research Center for Constructive Conflict Management produced this Handbook in response to the contemporary challenges which have to be faced by those who are working in and on violent conflict The intention is to give an overview of recent developments in the field of conflict transformation from various perspectives from academic analysts and practitioners as well as from experts representing different areas of work inside and outside of conflict zones

Counterterror Offensives for the Ghost War World Richard J. Chasdi, 2010-07-06 In Counterterror Offensives for the Ghost War World The Rudiments of Counterterrorism Policy Richard J Chasdi has written a groundbreaking quantitative analysis that provides new insight into which types of counterterror practices work best and which types perform poorly in particular operational environments and circumstances For Chasdi effectiveness is defined as the capacity of counterterror practices to work with stealth namely without eliciting high amounts of related follow up terrorist assaults He moves beyond individual country analyses to tackle an analysis of counterterror practice effectiveness based on the type of political system of the country carrying out counterterror offensives and the power level of that country within the international political system Chasdi furthermore provides essential qualitative descriptions of national security institutions stakeholders and processes to frame his quantitative results in ways that tie those findings to historical and contemporary political developments

Postcolonial Europe in the Crucible of Cultures Jacques Haers,Norbert Hintersteiner,Georges de Schrijver,2007

Over the past forty years Europe has grown as a global presence and today it plays an important role in a variety of ways politically socially economically and culturally European theologians have no choice but to take cognizance of this fact and respond to the broad social challenges by clarifying their views on God and being a prophetic voice in cultural political and social decision making The authors in this volume take up four main contemporary global challenges i e globalization violence gender and the environment and the volume provides its readers with first rate theological reflections in Europe The articles offered here are the result of an intensive workshop held in Leuven in September 2004 and are sponsored by the European Commission and the VLIR as part of a three year study program on the understanding of God in Europe

Governance and Internal Wars in Sub-Saharan Africa Abdulahi A. Osman,2007-03-31 The 1990s have brought unprecedented violence economic decline and suffering for many African countries Much of the optimism that greeted the independence decade of the 1960s when Africa was called the continent of the future has turned into failure and disappointment The increase in these conflicts has been blamed on several variables including colonialism ethnic diversity end of the Cold War and economic decline While many African countries have managed to maintain a modicum of peace stability and growth some have clearly failed woefully in this regard This raises a very fundamental question How and why did some countries manage to avert internal wars while others did not The book measures and provides rich details of governance from contextual structural and policy perspectives It systematically and uniformly compares two categories of countries those that experienced internal war and those that did not Peace and Conflict Studies David P.

Structural Conflicts Richard E. Rubenstein,2017-01-06 This book analyses how certain types of social systems generate violent conflict and discusses how these systems can be transformed in order to create the conditions for positive peace

Resolving Structural Conflicts addresses a key issue in the field of conflict studies what to do about violent conflicts that are not the results of misunderstanding prejudice or malice but the products of a social system that generates violent conflict as part of its normal operations This question poses enormous challenges to those interested in conflict resolution since the solution to this problem involves restructuring social political and cultural systems rather than just calling in a mediator to help people arrive at an agreement This study breaks new ground in showing how local conflicts involving crime police and prisons transnational conflicts involving religious terrorism by groups like ISIS and international conflicts involving Great Power clashes are all produced in large part by elite driven exploitative or oppressive social structures It also presents new ideas about the implications of this structural turn for the practice of conflict resolution emphasizing the need for conflict resolvers to embrace a new politics and to broaden their methods far beyond traditional forms of facilitation Written by a leading scholar this book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies war and conflict studies sociology political science and international relations in general

Terminate Terrorism Karen A. Feste, 2015-11-17 This book looks at recent high profile anti American terrorism crises the Cuban skyjacking epidemic the Tehran hostage taking the Beirut kidnappings and Al Qaeda suicide bombing It then explains how they come to an end using a framework of conflict resolution concepts conflict ripeness and stalemate turning points negotiation readiness and interest based bargaining combined with shifts in decision making strategies

The Peacemakers Hugh Miall, 2016-07-27 The UN Charter commits member states to settle their disputes by peaceful means but despite this there have been only 26 days since 1945 in which armed conflict has not been underway Nevertheless many conflicts have been settled without war since 1945 Drawing on case studies interviews with mediators contemporary theories of conflict resolution and a comparative analysis of over eighty peaceful and armed conflicts this book asks what can be learned from this historical experience
