Twentieth Century Fiction George Woodcock, 1983-04-01 The Literary Year-book , 1912 Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2014-05-14 Discusses the writing of Heart of darkness by Joseph Conrad Includes critical essays on the work and a brief biography of the author The Fox, The Captain's Doll, The Ladybird D.H. Lawrence, 2020-10-01 The acclaimed author of Sons and Lovers explores the effects of war on humanity in three novellas Written between November 1920 and December 1921 these novellas were enthusiastically received by D H Lawrence s readers Including the original ending of The Fox the Cambridge edition adds new depth to the legacy of Lawrence s story of a disruptive fox in a troublesome time A visit to Austria in 1920 inspired the characters and settings of The Captain's Doll diving into a storied relationship between a Scottish soldier and a German countess in occupied Germany Also featuring the original unedited edition of The Ladybird a heartbreaking tale of a wounded soldier and the

English nurse who tended his wounds this is a complete collection of three of Lawrence's brilliantly crafted war stories about human emotions and relationships Postcolonial Poetics Patrick Crowley, Jane Hiddleston, 2011-01-01 Responding to calls to focus on postcolonial literature's literary qualities instead of merely its political content this volume investigates the idiosyncrasies of postcolonial poetics However rather than privileging the literary at the expense of the political the essays collected here analyze how texts use genre and form to offer multiple and distinct ways of responding to political and historical questions By probing how different kinds of literary writing can blur with other discourses the contributors offer key insights into postcolonial literature's power to imagine alternative identities and societies The Publishers Weekly, 1879 George Moore on Parnassus George Moore, O. M. Brack, 1988 Through the letters and commentary in this volume the Irish writer George Moore is revealed as a man and artist far more complex and important than most works on him suggest one who played a significant role in the Irish Literary Renaissance Dostoevsky Joseph Frank, 2003-09-22 This fifth and final volume of Joseph Frank's biography of Fyodor Dostoevsky details the last decade of the writer's life a time that won him the universal approval towards which he always aspired The Bookman, 1926 Ruth Suckow Leedice McAnelly Kissane, 1969 Literature into Film Linda Costanzo Cahir, 2014-12-24 For most people film adaptation of literature can be summed up in one sentence The movie wasn't as good as the book This volume undertakes to show the reader that not only is this evaluation not always true but sometimes it is intrinsically unfair Movies based on literary works while often billed as adaptations are more correctly termed translations A director and his actors translate the story from the written page into a visual presentation Depending on the form of the original text and the chosen method of translation certain inherent difficulties and pitfalls are associated with this change of medium So often our reception of a book based movie has more to do with our expectations and reading of the literature than with the job that the movie production did or did not do Avoiding these biases and fairly evaluating any particular literary based film takes an awareness of certain factors Written with a formalistic rather than historical approach this work presents a comprehensive guide to literature based films establishing a contextual and theoretical basis to help the reader understand the relationships between such movies and the original texts as well as the reader's own individual responses to these productions To this end it focuses on recognizing and appreciating the inherent difficulties encountered when basing a film on a literary work be it a novel novella play or short story Individual chapters deal with the specific issues and difficulties raised by each of these genres providing an overview backed up by case studies of specific film translations Films and literary works receiving this treatment include The Unbearable Lightness of Being The Manchurian Candidate 1962 Lady Windemere's Fan by Oscar Wilde and Shakespeare's Henry V Interspersed throughout the text are suggestions for activities the film student or buff can use to enhance his or her appreciation and understanding of the films Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Carry Me Across the Water Ethan Canin, 2002-05-14 Breathtaking in its suspense and beauty Carry Me

Across the Water is the story of a man's turbulent journey with his family through the central years of the twentieth century. Young August Kleinman escapes from Nazi Germany to America where his mother's words "Take the advice of no one" fate him to a life of boldness and originality from the poor streets of New York to the marble mansions of industrial Pittsburgh from old world Hamburg to the jungle islands of the Pacific. Ultimately near the end of a long and bountiful life his resolution of a haunting encounter with a Japanese soldier during World War Two finally illuminates at the deepest levels the way authentic lives truly unfold. From the writer hailed as the most mature and accomplished novelist of his generation, Alan Cheuse, National Public Radio comes this exquisitely modulated short novel. Los Angeles Times which eases its silky smooth way into a reader's consciousness even as it plumbs the depths. Newsday Lectures on Russian Literature Vladimir Nabokov, 2020-12-15 The acclaimed author presents his unique insights into the works of great Russian authors including Tolstoy, Dostoevski, Gogol, Gorki, and Chekhov. In the 1940s when Vladimir Nabokov first embarked on his academic career in the United States he brought with him hundreds of original lectures on the authors he most admired. For two decades those lectures served as the basis for Nabokov's teaching, first at Wellesley and then at Cornell, as he introduced undergraduates to the delights of great fiction. This volume collects Nabokov's famous lectures on 19th century Russian literature with analysis and commentary on Nikolay Gogol's Dead Souls and The Overcoat, Ivan Turgenev's Fathers and Sons, Maxim Gorki's On the Rafts, Leo Tolstoy's Anna Karenina and The Death of Ivan Ilych, two short stories and a play by Anton Chekhov, and several works by Fyodor Dostoevski including Crime and Punishment, The Idiot, and The Possessed. This volume also includes Nabokov's lectures on the art of translation, the nature of Russian censorship, and other topics. Featured throughout the volume are photographic reproductions of Nabokov's original notes. This volume never once fails to instruct and stimulate. This is a great Russian talking of great Russians. Anthony Burgess Introduction by Fredson Bowers Writing to the Rhythm of Labor Benjamin Kindler, 2025-05-20 What does it mean to write in a socialist revolution? What defines labor in a communist society? In revolutionary China, writers were regularly dispatched to the countryside or factories with the expectation that through immersion in the life of workers and peasants they would be remade as culture workers whose writing could serve the communist project. Their cultural labor would not merely reflect or represent the process of building socialism; it would actively participate in it by excavating the contradictions and challenges of the ongoing reorganization of social relations. Benjamin Kindler examines how writing transformed the Chinese Revolution even as the revolution remade what it meant to write. He argues that the revolution sought in unparalleled ways to overcome the basic division between those who write and those who work. This book combines close readings of a wide range of texts from the works of established figures to the writings of amateur workers drawn from the factory floor with analysis of Chinese socialist political economy. Far from being drab instances of state propaganda, these texts and cultural experiments were lively and inventive attempts to determine what a different, more equal society might look like. Offering new ways to understand cultural production as a material embodied process this book reconsiders the role of art and literature in radical politics

Conversations with John A. Williams Jeffrey Allen Tucker, 2018-02-20 One of the most prolific African American authors of his time John A Williams 1925 2015 made his mark as a journalist educator and writer Having worked for Newsweek Ebony and Jet magazines Williams went on to write twelve novels and numerous works of nonfiction A vital link between the Black Arts movement and the previous era Williams crafted works of fiction that relied on historical research as much as his own finely honed skills From The Man Who Cried I Am a roman clef about expatriate African American writers in Europe to Clifford's Blues a Holocaust novel told in the form of the diary entries of a gay black jazz pianist in Dachau these representations of black experiences marginalized from official histories make him one of our most important writers Conversations with John A Williams collects twenty three interviews with the three time winner of the American Book Award beginning with a discussion in 1969 of his early works and ending with a previously unpublished interview from 2005 Gathered from print periodicals as well as radio and television programs these interviews address a range of topics including anti black violence Williams's WWII naval service race and publishing interracial romance Martin Luther King Jr growing up in Syracuse the Prix de Rome scandal traveling in Africa and Europe and his reputation as an angry black writer The conversations prove valuable given how often Williams drew from his own life and career for his fiction They display the integrity social engagement and artistic vision that make him a writer to be reckoned with
