D Bruce Ayler By the middle of the 19th century New York City's population surpassed the unfathomable number of 1 million people despite its obvious lack of space This was mostly due to the fact that so many immigrants heading to America naturally landed in New York Harbor well before the federal government set up an official immigration system on Ellis Island At first the city itself set up its own immigration registration center in Castle Garden near the site of the original Fort Amsterdam and naturally many of these immigrants who were arriving with little more than the clothes on their back didn't travel far and thus remained in New York Of course the addition of so many immigrants and others with less money put strains on the quality of life Between 1862 and 1872 the number of tenements had risen from 12 000 to 20 000 the number of tenement residents grew from 380 000 to 600 000 One notorious tenement on the East River Gotham Court housed 700 people on a 20 by 200 foot lot Another on the West Side was home incredibly to 3 000 residents who made use of hundreds of privies dug into a fifteen foot wide inner court Squalid dark crowded and dangerous tenement living created dreadful health and social conditions It would take the efforts of reformers such as Jacob Riis who documented the hellishness of tenements with shocking photographs in How the Other Half Lives to change the way such buildings were constructed While the Melting Pot nature of America is one of its most unique and celebrated aspects the conditions also created a humanitarian crisis of sorts In the 19th century child labor was still the norm especially for poor families and no social welfare systems were in place to provide security for people As a result if a child was abandoned or orphaned they were at the mercy of an ad hoc system of barely tolerable orphanages with little to no centralization Minorities and immigrants were also discriminated against on the basis of ethnicity and religion Into this issue stepped the Children's Aid Society led by Charles Loring Brace who determined he could improve abandoned kids' futures by helping relocate them further to the West which would also help Americans settle the frontier By coordinating with train companies Brace was able to transport dozens of children at a time to places in the heartland of America or further out west where they would end up in new homes decades before the existence of foster care Genealogist Roberta Lowrey a descendant of one of these orphans noted that the situations for many of those on the Orphan Trains were vastly different but in all the system worked Many were used as strictly slave farm labor but there are stories wonderful stories of children ending up in fine families that loved them cherished them and educated them They were so much better off than if they had been left on the streets of New York They were just not going to survive or if they had their fate would surely have been awful In time the success of the system led to coordination between dozens of agencies across multiple cities including Boston and Chicago helping move thousands of endangered children from the East Coast to other parts of the nation Nearly 1 000 children were being transported a year at the height of the program which lasted into the 1920s Orphan Trains

Rebecca Ann Langston-George,2016-10-01 Discover the true story of seven orphans who were settled with families in the Midwest by the Children s Aid Society Abandoned Michael Keene,2017-04-29 The history of orphanages in New York and the Orphan Train Movement Orphan Trains Stephen O'Connor,2004-03 Tells the story of the orphan trains that were operated by the Children s Aid Society between 1854 and 1929 taking abandoned children from New York to homes in the Midwest and West and discusses the life and motivation of young minister Charles Loring Brace founder of the society

The Orphan Trains Peggy Caravantes,2013-08-01 This book relays the factual details of the orphan trains that sent East Coast orphans to be with families in the Midwest and West The narrative provides multiple accounts of the event and readers learn details from the point of view of an orphan child heading to the Midwest a Midwestern family awaiting a child and a New York City child welfare worker This book offers opportunities to compare and contrast various perspectives in the text while gathering and analyzing information about an historical event We Are a Part of History Michael Patrick,Evelyn Sheets,Evelyn Trickel,1990 The plight of homeless children is an ancient and chronic problem of society for which many remedies have been tried One of the most successful of these began in the mid 19th century when as many as 30 000 abandoned children wandered the streets of New York slums In 1853 under the leadership of the Rev Charles Loring Brace a group of businessmen and clergymen formed the New York children s Aid Society A year later Brace s placing out plan went into effect and the orphan trains began to run From 1854 to well within this century these trains carried thousands of children to foster homes in the Midwest and South where Brace envisioned a better life for them They were scattered from Michigan to Arkansas from Texas to Nebraska Wisconsin to Missouri Iowa and Illinois Many of the children did find the better life A few survive today to tell of their experiences Since 1984 when the work began the authors have searched them out listening to their reminiscences and those of their relatives and friends Augmented by old family photographs and documents here are the orphans stories and that of the man who dedicated a great part of his life to salvaging the young street arabs giving them a chance to live Jacket Bridie's Daughter Robert Noonan,2007-08 From 1854 to 1929 more than 200 000 homeless children left New York City on orphan trains to find new lives across the country Some found loving homes others experienced physical and mental abuse Bridie s Daughter brings that world to life in this second novel in Robert Noonan s Orphan Train Trilogy Bridie s Daughter is an eye opening tale that follows four teen aged children who are filled with hope concern and uncertainty as they ride the rails to an unknown future Once the train stops however it s a roll of the dice where they ll each end up Bridie McDonald a wealthy spinster finds in Catherine the daughter she has always wanted Catherine learns to love Bridie and her new elegant home but is concerned about Bridie s relationship with Jack her mentally challenged handyman Though most of the citizens of Newberry Illinois befriend these children some are not so welcoming believing all the orphans from New York City are bastards and should be treated as such Orphan Trains and Their Precious Cargo Herman Clarke, 2012-02-10 By the mid 1800s the street corners of New York City were home to several thousand homeless abandoned and orphaned children These poor unfortunates were often the sons and daughters of newly arrived immigrants separated from their parents or relatives in the confusion and chaos of Ellis Island and forced by circumstance to fend for themselves Although some found refuge in orphanages and sanitariums these facilities were ill suited for the care of these children and lacked the resources to provide for more than a handful at a time Those that remained on the street often turned to theft and burglary or even prostitution as a means of survival compounding the city s already rampant crime problem Clearly a solution was needed for the good of both New York City and its orphan population Relief came with the establishment of the Children s Aid Society in 1853 by one Charles Loring Brace Brace was a theologian and a reformer whose answer to New York s orphan problem was a practice known simply as placing out The society would gather likely orphans and send them west by train in groups of anywhere from six to one hundred individuals stopping at predetermined destinations where it was known foster homes were available The American West was at this time in critical need of laborers in both agriculture and industry and many families were eager to provide foster homes to a child who was willing to work Children would be periodically checked on by an agent of the society and were required to write the society at least twice a year describing their experiences As with any foster care system placing out could be a hit or miss affair many children would bounce from home to home and some were returned to New York as undesirables There were many success stories however with orphans finding supportive homes and loving foster families Some were actually adopted into the families with which they were placed All faced the challenge of a new life in unfamiliar surroundings without the comfort of friends relatives and siblings left behind The orphan trains of the Children s Aid Society ran until 1929 and this text presents the story of one of its agents the Rev Mr Herman Clarke Rev Clarke entered the employ of the Society in 1900 and was a tireless devotee to the children entrusted to his care His ministry was in Dodge Center Minnesota and he was later placed in charge of Children s Homes in Cincinnati Ohio and Battle Creek Michigan Over the years he would travel thousands of miles on the rails with his orphan charges and received as many as two thousand letters a year from them In the twilight of life the reverend began to compile scrapbooks for his grandchildren detailing both the family's genealogy and his years spent working with the society. Six out of these seven scrapbooks have been discovered by the author and they form the basis of this history. Numerous photographs of orphans and their foster families as well as facsimiles of advertisements published by the society and a special section of orphan train poetry enrich this text.      Waifs, Foundlings and Half-orphans Mary Ellen Johnson, 2009-05 During the Orphan Trains Era 1854 until 1929 an estimated 200 000 orphaned abandoned or homeless children and families were relocated from major metropolitan east coast cities to new homes in the west traveling aboard trains. Children relocated via      Orphan Train Rider Andrea Warren, 1996 Discusses the placement of over 200 000 orphaned or abandoned children in homes throughout the Midwest from 1854 to 1929 by recounting the true story of one boy and his brothers.      The Orphan Trains Annette R. Fry, 1994 An examination of the placing out of orphaned poor and abandoned children from eastern cities such as New York and Boston to homes in the West begun by the Children's Aid Society.      The Orphan Train Steve Brigman, 2014-03-03 TEN YEAR OLD JAMES CANNOT IMAGINE THE FATE THAT AWAITS HIM AND THE PRETTY LITTLE GIRL WHO SITS NEXT TO HIM ON THE INFAMOUS ORPHAN TRAIN a superb coarse grained voice that makes you want more the Ozark's new narrator who will stand with Alan Le May A B Guthrie and of course the above mentioned Greg Matthews Reavis Z Wortham author of the Red River Mystery Series James is ten when he is taken from a New York orphanage and sent out west on one of the infamous orphan trains meeting a pretty little girl on his journey who will one day become the core of his existence and the source of his deepest despair Gripping from the first sentence to the last I could not put this book down An outstanding debut novel from author Steve Brigman Diane Moody author of Of Windmills and War and A Runaway Pastor's Wife Brigman is an excellent writer I could see the characters vividly in my mind as I read the story Rolland Love author of Blue Hole and River's Edge      The Orphan Train Barbara Anselmi, Susan Nanus, 2005
