Santurri, 2010-06-01 Consider the following situation a mayor is holding captive the leader of a terrorist group that has placed bombs throughout the city It is determined that the only way to get the terrorist to confess where the bombs are hidden is to torture his child in front of him Should the mayor torture an innocent child to save the lives of many In Perplexity in the Moral Life Santurri discusses how situations of moral perplexity are to be construed and how the interpretation of these situations might be constrained by the presuppositions of Christian ethics Often in our practical lives we are perplexed about what morality requires of us any course of action appears as a moral transgression Santurri examines the thesis that situations of moral perplexity may actually be cases of genuine moral dilemmas in which a moral transgression is unavoidable Proponents of the moral dilemmas thesis collide with an established philosophical tradition holding that no adequate ethical theory can countenance the existence of genuine dilemmas It has been suggested that admitting the existence of dilemmas is tantamount to acknowledging the presence of a debilitating incoherence in one's system of moral reasoning Santurri contends that the issue of whether or not genuine moral dilemmas exist cannot be resolved on the basis of philosophical arguments typically advanced either by the traditional or by the revisionist views and maintains that moral perplexity is a phenomenon which cannot be interpreted apart from answering certain fundamental questions of moral ontology He then goes on to consider what sort of constraints a Christian view of morality imposes on the interpretation of moral conflict and argues that there are good reasons for Christian ethics to deny the existence of genuine dilemmas He concludes with a critical discussion of the positions that have been or might be employed in Christian ethical arguments for the reality of irresolvable moral conflict America Jean Baudrillard, 2010-09-20 From the sierras of New Mexico to the streets of New York and LA by night a sort of luminous geometric incandescent immensity Baudrillard mixes aperçus and observations with a wicked sense of fun to provide a unique insight into the country that dominates our world In this new edition leading cultural critic and novelist Geoff Dyer offers a thoughtful and perceptive take on the continued resonance of Baudrillard s America

Fayek,2017-01-12 Understanding Classical Psychoanalysis gives a clear overview of the key tenets of classical Freudian psychoanalysis and offers a guide to how these might be best understood and applied to contemporary psychoanalytic theory and practice Covering such essential concepts as the Oedipal complex narcissism and metapsychology Fayek explores what Freud s thinking has to offer psychoanalysts of all schools of thought today and what key facets of his work can usefully be built on to develop future theory The book will be of interest to psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists in practice and training as well as teaching faculties and postgraduate students studying Freudian psychoanalysis      Ethics and the Future of Religion W. Royce Clark,2022-02-03 W Royce Clark observes that humanity appears to be jeopardizing our own future in a chaos of mutual antagonism and hypocrisy Religions have traditionally provided ethical guidance but because their absolutized metaphysics are incompatible with each other we cannot rely on any one of them in a religiously pluralistic culture The ethics of various religions are also built on theocratic or authoritarian foundations which are incompatible with any democratic society Finally many of their premises are very ancient so not relevant or appropriate in our modern scientific world The Western Enlightenment brought challenges against religion s singularity exclusivity heteronomy and anti scientific assumptions all of which disrupted their ethics and the Absolute metaphysical grounds upon which those ethics rested raising the question of whether a freestanding ethic was possible Inasmuch as the primary claim of most religions was regarded as beyond challenge but was a conflation of history and myth modern historical method created more doubt than certainty about such allegedly certain doctrines as Jesus is the Son of God By the end of the 20th century the impossibility of validating such primary Christological claims from a historical approach became evident despite the articulate attempts at credibility in the brilliant works of John Dominic Crossan and Wolfhart Pannenberg which remained unconvincing in important ways Between 1832 and 2014 innovative Christian theologians such as Schleiermacher Hegel Tillich and Scharlemann took a detour from the futility of historical verification This study examines their remarkable attempts at a form of corroboration of the basic Christological claim even if their primary interests were more in Christology than ethics The question Clark takes up here is whether or not these figures have thereby provided a base for a universal ethic or the only answer is for principles freestanding from any religion      Paths to the Divine Vensus A. "Truth" as Conceived of by Those Who Are Not Professional Philosophers Arne Ness (Naess),2018-11-05 Arne Ness Naess 1912 2009 shows with careful questioning of people who are not professional philosophers that there is no single common notion of truth and indeed the variety of views that philosophers hold on truth are held by more or less equal proportions of those he interviews Non philosophers have no theory of truth no general opinion on the notion of truth neither explicit nor implicit which distinguishes them as a group from philosophers p 159 The misconception that non philosophers adhere explicitly or implicitly to a definite type of opinion on the notion of truth is primarily due to an ignorance of the extreme diversity of opinion found among non philosophers as soon as they are invited to speak about the notion of truth Secondly the misconception is due to belief in intuitively obtained information as to the essence of the philosophic attitude towards things in general The attitude of non philosophers towards the notion of truth has been deduced from alleged knowledge of their character and ideology A deduction of this kind is meaningless and impossible even if such knowledge should be available p 160 The Advanced Reasoning Forum is pleased to make available in its Classic Reprints series this exact reproduction of the 1938 text      Freemasonry.
