Telling New Lies Melvyn New, 1992 With the finesse that transports his pun upon the idea of telling as both narrating and significant the author weds a new essay on Jonathan Swift and Thomas Mann with six previously published articles to fashion this new collection unified in an introductory essay around the theme of falsehood These essays range from excursions into eighteenth century fiction to an encounter with Thomas Pynchon's postmodern novel V from an exploration of Orwell's 1984 in the light of antisemitism to a study of Sterne's Tristram Shandy in the light of his suppressed antagonist Bishop Warburton and from a reading of A Sentimental Journey through the filter of Proust to a reading of A Tale of a Tub through the filter of The Magic Mountain While the idea of fabrication is inherent in most postmodern commentary New's criticism in these essays lies to the right of the literary academy manifesting itself as a contrarian not liberal mode of thinking In his introduction he takes note of the dread of totalitarianism that defines the horizon of all post 1945 literary study and of the reader's necessary task to distinguish lies of power from lies of art a difficult task he writes since Power will often speak with the voice of art is indeed art's best mimic and worst If we cannot find the truth in our lies and the grace in our art New asks what do we pass on the next generation what do we tell the children

The Boundaries of Fiction Everett Zimmerman, 1996 Focusing on canonical works by Daniel Defoe Henry Fielding Laurence Sterne and others this book explains the relationship between British fiction and historical writing when both were struggling to attain status and authority History was at once powerful and vulnerable in the empiricist climate of seventeenth and eighteenth century England suspect because of its reliance on testimony yet essential if empiricism were ever to move beyond natural philosophy The Boundaries of Fiction shows how in this time of historiographical instability the British novel exploited analogies to history Titles incorporating the term history pseudo editors presenting pseudo documentary evidence and narrative theorizing about historical truth were some of the means used to distinguish novels from the fictions of poetry and other literary forms These efforts Everett Zimmerman maintains amounted to a critique of history's limits and pointed to the novel's power to transcend them He offers rich analyses of texts central to the tradition of the novel chiefly Clarissa Tom Jones and Tristram Shandy and concludes with discussions of Sir Walter Scott's development of the historical novel and David Hume's philosophy of history Along the way Zimmerman refers to such other important historical figures as John Locke Richard Bentley William Wotton and Edward Gibbon and engages contemporary thinkers including Paul Ricoeur and Michel Foucault who have addressed the philosophical and methodological issues of historical evidence and narrative

Historicizing Theory Peter C. Herman, 2012-02-01 Historicizing Theory provides the first serious examination of contemporary theory in relation to the various twentieth century historical and political contexts out of which it emerged Theory a broad category that is often used to encompass theoretical approaches as varied as deconstruction New Historicism and postcolonialism has often been derided as a mere relic of the 1960s In order to move beyond such a simplistic assessment the essays in this volume examine such important figures as Harold Bloom Paul de Man Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault Stephen Greenblatt and Edward Said situating their work in a variety of contexts inside and outside of the 1960s including World War II the Holocaust the Algerian civil war and the canon wars of the 1980s In bringing us face to face with the history of theory Historicizing Theory recuperates history for theory and asks us to confront some of the central issues and problems in literary studies today      Swiftly Sterneward W. B. Gerard, E Derek Taylor, Robert G. Walker, 2011-04-07 These thirteen essays have been collected to honor Melvyn New professor emeritus Florida and are prefaced by a description of his scholarly career of more than forty years Suggesting the wide range of that career the first eight essays offer various critical perspectives on a diverse group of eighteenth century authors These include a reading of Eliot in the shadow of Pope a comparison of Gainsborough's final paintings and Sterne's Sentimental Journey a study of Johnson and casuistry a discussion of Smollett's view of slavery in Roderick Random a bibliographical study of a Lyttelton poem a comparison of Swift and Nietzsche and two essays about Fielding's Joseph Andrews Laurence Sterne the primary focus of Professor New's scholarship is also the focus of the final five essays which treat Sterne in contexts as disparate as the kabbalah abolitionist discourse local English church politics the use of the fragment and finally the culture of modernity      Textual and Critical Intersections Melvyn New, 2023-11-21 In this collection of essays representing fifty years of scholarship on Laurence Sterne Melvyn New brings Sterne into conversation with other authors both his contemporaries such as James Boswell and Samuel Richardson and modernists such as Marcel Proust and James Joyce New begins by focusing on Sterne's texts and their sources discussing the purposes of his famous borrowings from past writings his Anglicanism and his reliance on John Norris of Bemerton This section concludes with an argument for the removal from Sterne's canon of The Unknown World New then offers several readings based on placing diverse texts in proximity Charles Dickens's Dombey and Son alongside the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas and Samuel Johnson's London against T S Eliot's The Love Song of J Alfred Prufrock The final section offers several proximate readings of Sterne alongside his contemporaries Jonathan Swift Richardson and Boswell and modernist authors and texts Proust Bruno Schulz Virginia Woolf's Mrs Dalloway and Joyce's A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man As he brings these varied authors together New suggests that literary greatness inheres in the uncertainties and mysteries in the words of Keats of works proven capable of attracting thoughtful attention over varying times and wide spaces He encourages the continued teaching of these challenging texts in the future of literary studies

The Unfinished Manner Elizabeth Wanning Harries, 1994 The Unfinished Manner examines the fragments produced by European writers and artists in the eighteenth century and earlier fragments that were not the result of an inability to finish either texts or buildings but rather deliberate refusals to make the traditional gestures of conclusion Most books published in the past few years on the fragment and the unfinished see it as a peculiarly Romantic early nineteenth century exclusively poetic form Elizabeth Wanning Harries argues instead that the fragment not only had a long history beginning with Petrarch but also played an important part in the history of the novel and other kinds of prose Conceptualizing the fragment as a genre Harries sheds a new light on the practice of reading fiction and reading ruins in the eighteenth century complex practices that often require oscillation between two perspectives or ways of reading She also explores the gendering of forms in eighteenth century aesthetics the perception of fragments as feminine beautiful rather than masculine sublime and speculates on the fragment's meaning within the context of eighteenth century social mythologies as well as those of later eras Finally she rereads Coleridge's Kubla Khan to show its roots in eighteenth century fragmentary textual practices The Unfinished Manner takes up the questions that arise when writers and artists treat apparently unfinished forms fragments ruins torsos sketches as finished both in the eighteenth century and implicitly today Harries's treatments of Petrarch as the initiator of the fragment tradition of Sterne in relation to biblical criticism of Coleridge's Kubla Khan in relation to Sterne's Tristram Shandy and of fragments in their relation to the feminine are original and revisionary contributions that seriously challenge some critical assumptions about Romanticism and its relationship to eighteenth century texts BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Eighteenth-century Genre and Culture Dennis Todd, Cynthia Wall, Paul J. Hunter, 2001-10 This collection of essays including contributions by Paula Backscheider Martin C Battestin and Patricia Meyer Spacks examines the relationship between history literary forms and the cultural contexts of British literature from the late seventeenth to the late eighteenth century Topics include print culture and the works of Mary Lady Chudleigh the politics of early amatory fiction Susanna Centlivre's use of plot novels by women between 1760 and 1788 and the connection between gender and narrative form in the criminal biographies of the 1770s

Generating Texts Sharon Cadman Seelig, 1996 In Generating Texts Sharon Cadman Seelig tests traditional notions of genre by analyzing parallels between works that confound existing categories Seelig pairs three seventeenth century prose works with three other works each of a later century Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy with Sterne's Tristram Shandy Browne's Religio Medici with Thoreau's Walden and Donne's Devotions upon Emergent Occasions with Eliot's Four Quartets Proceeding from her authors similarities in method and common sets of assumptions such as concern with process and discovery time and eternity or the nature of the self she uncovers parallels showing that genre is not simply a set of formal features but rather a particular way of seeing the world that grows out of authorial attitude impulse and occasion In addition to its obvious appeal to students and scholars interested in Sterne Thoreau Eliot or seventeenth century literature Generating Texts should interest literary scholars and students more generally particularly those concerned with the interconnections between literary periods and genres Seelig has written an original and accessible contribution to the field of genre study Labyrinth of Digressions René Bosch, Piet Verhoeff, 2007 With their appearance during the 1760s the five instalments of Laurence Sterne's The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy Gentleman caused something like a booksellers hype Small publishers and anonymous imitators seized on Sterne's success by bringing out great numbers of spurious new volumes critical or ironic pamphlets and works that in style and title express a congeniality with Tristram Shandy This study explores these eighteenth century imitations as indicators of contemporary assumptions about Sterne's intentions Comparisons between the original the first reactions and a number of late eighteenth century imitations show that Tristram Shandy was initially read against the background of Augustan and Grub street satire The earliest imitators harked back to traditions of banter and folklore bawdy and grotesque humour pathetic stories and orthodox religiosity reaffirming a pattern of moral and aesthetic values that was conservative for its time Philosophical Sentimentalism appears to have been a late development It is also argued that partly because of their bad reputation some of the authors of forgeries and parodies had a greater influence on the original than the reviewers to whom Sterne is often said to have listened The imitators followed leads and themes in the first instalments developing them according to their own conception of Sterne's project and the reasons for his success As a consequence they unintentionally put a pressure on Sterne to alter his course and even to abandon some of the narrative lines and themes he had set out for himself The literature section contains a chronological checklist of English eighteenth century Sterneana

Levinas and Nineteenth-century Literature Donald R. Wehrs, David P. Haney, 2009 Levinas and Nineteenth Century Literature presents nine essays that reread major British American and European nineteenth century literary texts in light of the post deconstruction ethical philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas The first section pursues in essays on Wordsworth Coleridge De Quincey and Baudelaire connections between Levinas's radical rethinking of subjectivity and Romantic generic aesthetic and conceptual innovation The second section explores how Levinas's analysis of totalizing thought may illuminate how Poe Emerson Hawthorne Douglass Susan Warner and Melville grapple with American experience and culture The third section considers the relevance of Levinas's work for reassessments of the realist novel through essays on Austen Dickens and George Eliot Essay authors are A C Goodson David P Haney E S Burt Alain Paul Toumayan N S Boone Lorna Wood Donald R Wehrs Melvyn New and Rachel Hollander Donald R Wehrs is Associate Professor of English at Auburn University David P Haney is Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education and Professor of English at Appalachian State University

Latitudinarianism and Didacticism in Eighteenth-century Literature Patrick Müller, 2009 The relationship between Latitudinarian moral theology and eighteenth century literature has been much debated among scholars However this issue can only be tackled if the exact objectives of the Latitudinarians moral theology are clearly delineated In doing so Patrick Müller unveils the intricate connection between the didactic bias of Latitudinarianism and the resurgent interest in didactic literary genres in the first half of the eighteenth century His study sheds new light on the complex and contradictory reception of the Latitudinarians controversial theses in the work of three of the major eighteenth century novelists Henry Fielding Laurence Sterne and Oliver Goldsmith

Experience and Faith R. Brantley, 2016-04-30 Emily Dickinson 1830-86 recasts British Romantic themes of natural and spiritual perception for an American audience Her poems of science and technology reflect her faith in experience Her lyrics about natural history build on this empiricism and develop her commitment to natural religion Her poems of revealed religion constitute her experience of faith Thus Dickinson stands on the experiential common ground between empiricism and evangelicalism in Romantic Anglo America Her double perspective parallels the implicit androgyny of her nineteenth century feminism Her counterintuitive combination of natural models with spiritual metaphors champions immortality The experience faith dialectic of her Late Romantic imagination forms the heart of her legacy      Dream Tonight of Peacock Tails Umberto Rossi, Paolo

Simonetti, 2015-09-04 Dream Tonight of Peacock Tails marks the first in depth examination of Pynchon's debut novel which was immediately recognized as a breakthrough masterpiece The eight essays collected in the volume provide both scholars and avid readers with new and original insights into a too often underestimated work that probably even more than Gravity's Rainbow established Pynchon as one of the great masters of twentieth century American literature This book deliberately privileges a multidisciplinary and transnational approach encompassing collaborations from a particularly international and diverse academic context As such this volume offers a multifaceted pattern of expanding investigation that tackles the novel's apparently chaotic but meticulously organized structure by rereading it in the light of recent US and European history and economics as well as by exploring its many real and imagined locations Not only are the essays brought together here revelatory of Pynchon's way of working but they also tell us something about our own ways of approaching his fiction
