Temari Chiyoko Ozaki,1979 Temari balls are an folk art form that originated in China and were introduced to Japan five or six hundred years ago The balls were originally made by mothers and grandmothers for the children to play with they were used in kickball and handball games similar to the hackeysack games played around the world today Historically they were constructed from the remnants of old kimonos Pieces of silk fabric would be wadded up to form a ball then the wad wrapped with strips of fabric The silk threads would have been removed and saved and used to first wind around the ball then to stitch the ball firmly together it is said that the balls were wrapped and stitched so tightly that they actually did bounce As time moved on traditional Temari balls became an art with the functional stitching more and more decorative and detailed until the balls displayed very intricate embroidery http www temarikai com     The Craft of Temari Mary Wood,1995
