Medieval Sensibilities Damien Boquet, Piroska Nagy, 2018-07-26 What do we know of the emotional life of the Middle Ages? Though a long neglected subject, a multitude of sources—spiritual and secular literature, iconography, chronicles, as well as theological and medical works—provide clues to the central role emotions played in medieval society. In this work, historians Damien Boquet and Piroska Nagy delve into a rich variety of texts and images to reveal the many and nuanced experiences of emotion during the Middle Ages, from the demonstrative shame of a saint to a nobleman's fear of embarrassment, from the enthusiasm of a crusading band to the fear of a town threatened by the approach of war or plague. Boquet and Nagy show how these outbursts of joy and pain, while universal expressions, must be understood within the specific context of medieval society. During the Middle Ages, a Christian model of affectivity was formed in the laboratory of the monasteries, one which gradually seeped into wider society, interacting with the sensibilities of courtly culture and other forms of expression. Boquet and Nagy bring a thousand years of history to life, demonstrating how the study of emotions in medieval society can also allow us to understand better our own social outlooks and customs.

How to Raise Children for Christ Andrew Murray, 2016-11-01 I will put my trust in Him. Behold, I and the children which God has given me. Hebrews 2:13. This book is different from most books on raising children. It is a plea for the parents to truly know and walk with God, for them to love God and His Word. In the correct order, focusing first on the parents, Andrew Murray then urges parents to sincerely and consistently love their children, and in all tenderness and gentleness, teach them as God also teaches us. Children are a most precious gift that we receive from God, and they deserve our very best. Our faithful training will not be lost on our children; this is a promise found over and over again in the Scriptures. If our hearts are right towards God and our children, the world's influence will not impact our children. We can and must exercise faith so our children and our children's children will be able to impact the world for Christ and inherit eternal
