

Teoría y práctica de un cine junto al pueblo
por Jorge Sanjines
LA EXPERIENCIA BOLIVIANA
Publicado en 1972.

El cine boliviano nace y se desarrolla siguiendo dos caminos diferentes y contrapuestos: el uno junto al pueblo y el otro contra el pueblo. Estos dos caminos que pueden tipificar toda la historia política de Bolivia, en la que permanentemente la pugna de los intereses nacionales y antinacionales define y determina su destino, son también los pasos abiertos y elegibles por los que se orientan las corrientes del arte en ese país.

En 1929 se filma el primer largometraje mudo en Bolivia. Se llamaba Wara Wara, y trataba sobre una leyenda de los incas. Le suceden otros pocos intentos de cine argumentado y muchos documentales mudos que se procesaban allí mismo. Cuando el sonido llega y se incorpora al cine, la actividad desaparece, pues la técnica se complica y los equipos y medios que se requieren son muy costosos.

Pasan prácticamente veinte años de silencio en el cine boliviano, y sólo en 1950 un pequeño grupo de pioneros encabezados por Jorge Ruiz realiza la primera película sonora boliviana de carácter documental. Son ellos los que trabajan, muchos años, en medio de grandes dificultades, realizando valiosos documentales no exentos de belleza y calidad técnica. En especial uno de ellos es extraordinario y obtiene el primer premio en el festival de cine organizado por el Sodre de Uruguay en 1956. Se llama Vuelve Sebastiana; esta filmado en colores y trata sobre la vida y vicisitudes de un antiguo grupo indígena del Altiplano: los indios Chipayas.

Más tarde filman lo que podría considerarse como la primera película de largometraje sonora boliviana La vertiente. Se filmó en 35 mm, con sonido directo, y en ella trabajaron todos los cineastas bolivianos. Era el año 1958. La película tenía muchos valores, en especial aquellas partes que tenían carácter documental, confirmando así las notables dotes de documentalista de Ruiz. Fallaban la interpretación y la estructura interna. Pero fue un logro importante, aunque no fue reconocido suficientemente.

Actualmente el grupo de Ruiz sigue produciendo documentales y ha realizado uno que otro film de largometraje de características comerciales. Con la separación de Oscar Soria and critics imagine film outside Hollywood but surprisingly little scholarly attention has been paid to the concept since the 1970s. And yet in the last thirty years art cinema has flourished worldwide. The emergence of East Asian and Latin American new waves, the reinvigoration of European film, the success of Iranian directors and the rise of the film festival have transformed the landscape of world cinema. This book brings into focus art cinema's core internationalism, demonstrating its centrality to understanding film as a global phenomenon. The book reassesses the field of art cinema in light of recent scholarship on world film cultures. In addition to analysis of key regions and films, the essays cover topics including theories of the film image, industrial aesthetic and political histories, and art film's intersections with debates on genre, sexuality, new media forms, and postcolonial cultures. Global Art Cinema brings together a diverse group of scholars in a timely conversation that reaffirms the category of art cinema as relevant, provocative, and in fact fundamental to contemporary film studies.

Global Art Cinema Rosalind Galt, Karl Schoonover, 2010-04-14 Art cinema has for over fifty years defined how audiences

Cinema and Social Change in Latin America Julianne Burton, 2010-06-28. Since the late 1960s, films from Latin America have won widening audiences in North America and Europe. Until now, no single book has offered an introduction to the diverse personalities and practices that make up this important regional film movement. In Cinema and Social Change in Latin America, Julianne Burton presents twenty interviews with key figures of Latin American cinema, covering three decades and ranging from Argentina to Mexico. Interviews with pioneers Fernando Birri, Nelson Pereira dos Santos, and Glauber Rocha; renowned feature filmmakers Tomás Gutiérrez Alea and Carlos Diegues; prize-winning documentarists Patricio Guzmán and Helena Solberg Ladd; among others, endeavor to balance personal achievement against the backdrop of historical, political, social, and economic circumstances that have influenced each director's career. Presented also are conversations that cast light on the related activities of acting, distribution, theory, criticism, and film-based community organizing. More than their counterparts in other regions of the world, Latin American artists and intellectuals acknowledge the degree to which culture is shaped by history and politics. Since the mid 1950s, a period of rising nationalism and regional consciousness, talented young artists and activists have sought to redefine the uses of the film medium in the Latin American context. Questioning the studio and star systems of the Hollywood industrial model, these innovators have developed new forms, content, and processes of production, distribution, and reception. The specific approaches and priorities of the New Latin American Cinema are far from monolithic. They vary from realism to expressionism, from observational documentary to elaborate fictional constructs, from imperfect cinema to a cinema that emulates the high production values of the developed sectors, from self-reflexive to transparent cinematic styles, from highly industrialized modes of production to purely artisanal ones. What does not vary is the commitment to film as a vehicle for social transformation and the expression of national and regional cultural autonomy. From early alternative cinema efforts in Argentina, Brazil, and Cuba to a contemporary perspective from within the Mexican commercial industry to the emerging cinema and video production from Central America, Cinema and Social Change in Latin America offers the most comprehensive look at Latin American film available today. Frames of Resistance

Cordova, 2025-04-04 While the strength of contemporary Latin American cinema is recognized worldwide less is known of the cinema of Indigenous communities in the region a territorial expanse known as Abya Yala Even so and even as these Indigenous filmmakers face ongoing challenges including persecution state violence and a lack of infrastructure or funding they have still managed to flourish over the past four decades using cinema as a powerful tool for promoting advocacy and fostering self determination How do these filmmakers disrupt foundational narratives about their communities and how does their cinema articulate Indigenous knowledges or provoke a rethinking of society history and planetary wellness Frames of Resistance attempts to answer these questions as it counters the perception of Indigenous cinema in Latin America as an isolated and marginal practice Instead it positions this cinema as a sophisticated expression of Indigenous worldviews while delivering a comprehensive look at its origins trends and regional differences Amalia I C rdoval Hidalgo examines how Indigenous filmmakers make their cultural vitality visible on the screen as she explores the development of collectives analyzes select works and uncovers the links between these filmmakers and global cinema She foregrounds first person accounts of this movement through new translations of excerpts from these films as well as the speeches interviews and pronouncements by filmmakers at live events The result is a book that builds upon Indigenous principles of organization and reciprocal ways of being with proposals for teaching practices circulating these films and ensuring long term access to this important body of work

Utopia and Neoliberalism in Latin American Cinema Carla Grosman, 2019-01-15 The topic of the crisis and recovery of utopia at both a global and regional level stands out in these melancholic times in which the capitalist era can no longer legitimize itself as an irreplaceable form of social existence This book reflects upon the place of utopia moving from classic Greece to the neoliberal era specifically as manifested in Latin America It studies utopia as a political and literary device for paradigmatic changes As such it links with the literary mode of the travelogue and its supporting role in the consolidation and perpetuation of the modern colonial discourse The book reviews critical approaches to modernity and postmodernity as a philosophical enquiry on the role of symbolic languages particularly the one played by the image and the theories of representation and performance With that and by using decolonialist theory to inform an audio visual text analysis it contributes to film philosophy with a model of analysis for Latin American cinema namely the allegory of the motionless traveler This model states that Latin America millennial cinema possesses a significant aesthetic political power achieved by enacting a process of utopic re narration This book will appeal to students and academics in the humanities and social sciences and readers interested in film culture as well as those searching specifically for new perspectives on socio symbolic decolonialist dynamics operating at the
