Seismic Retrofitting: Learning from Vernacular Architecture Mariana R. Correia, Paulo B. Lourenco, Humberto Varum, 2015-08-31 Local communities have adapted for centuries to challenging surroundings resulting from unforeseen natural hazards Vernacular architecture often reveals very intelligent responses attuned to the environment Therefore the question that emerged was how did local populations prepare their dwellings to face frequent earthquakes It was to respond to this gap in knowledge that the SEISMIC V research project was instigated and this interdisciplinary international publication was prepared The research revealed the existence of a local seismic culture in terms of reactive or preventive seismic resistant measures able to survive if properly maintained in areas with frequent earthquakes The fundamental contribution and aims of the publication were to enhance The disciplinary interest in vernacular architecture Its contribution to risk mitigation in responding to natural hazards To encourage academic and scientific research collaboration among different disciplines To contribute to the improvement of vernacular dwellings which half of the world s population still inhabits nowadays Fifty international researchers and experts presented case studies from Latin America the Mediterranean Eastern and Central Asia and the Himalayas region with reference to 20 countries i e Algeria Bolivia Bhutan Chile China Egypt El Salvador Greece Haiti Italy Japan Mexico Morocco Nepal Nicaragua Peru Romania Taiwan Turkey and a closer detailed analysis of Portugal This publication brings together 43 contributions with new perspectives on seismic retrofitting techniques and relevant data addressing vernacular architecture an amazing source of knowledge and to this day home to 4 billion people

Annual Conference; Proceedings - University of East Africa. Social Science Council University of East Africa. Social Science Council, 1968 Designs and Anthropologies Keith M. Murphy, Eitan Y. Wilf, 2021-11 The chapters in this captivating volume demonstrate the importance and power of design and the ubiquitous and forceful effects it has on human life within the study of anthropology The scholars explore the interactions between anthropology and design through a cross disciplinary approach and while their approaches vary in how they specifically consider design they are all centered around the design and anthropology relationship The chapters look at anthropology for design in which anthropological methods and concepts are mobilized in the design process anthropology of design in which design is positioned as an object of ethnographic inquiry and critique and design for anthropology in which anthropologists borrow concepts and practices from design to enhance traditional ethnographic forms Collectively the chapters argue that bringing design and anthropology together can transform both fields in more than one way and that to tease out the implications of using design to reimagine ethnography and of using ethnography to reimagine design we need to consider the historical specificity of their entanglements Rural Development Abstracts ,1990 Bodies Robyn

Longhurst,2004-01-14 This is one of the first books to introduce students to the key concepts and debates surrounding the relationship between bodily boundaries object materiality and spaces The text includes original interview and focus group data informed by feminist theory on the body and uses case studies to illustrate the social construction of bodies It will critically engage students in topical questions around sexuality cultural differences and women s sub ordination to men

Making Archaeology Happen Martin Oswald Hugh Carver,2016-06-16 Archaeology is for people is the theme of this book Split between the academic and commercial sectors archaeological investigation is also deeply embedded in the needs of local communities making it simultaneously an art science and social science Such a multi disciplinary discipline needs special methods and creative freedom not repetitive responses Carver argues that commercial procedures and academic theory are both suffocating creativity in fieldwork He d like to see us bring much more diversity and technical ingenuity to every opportunity and maintains this is more a matter of getting ourselves free of dogma than needing more time and money This has many implications for the way archaeology is designed and procured moving archaeologists up the professional ladder from builder to architect with contracts based on quality of design not the price *Paul J. Guy Parker,Peter Aggleton,1999 This work offers an introduction to the central debates in sexuality research Among the issues examined are the social and cultural dimensions of sex human sexuality and sex research Practicing Anthropology ,1993 Agri-environmental Governance as an Assemblage Jérémie Forney,Chris Rosin,Hugh Campbell,2018-03-28 In recent decades the governance of the environment in agri food systems has emerged as a crucial challenge A multiplicity of actors have been enrolled in this process with the private sector and civil society progressively becoming key components in a global context often described as neoliberalization. Agri environmental governance (AEG) thus gathers a highly complex assemblage of actors and instruments with multiple interrelations. This book addresses this complexity challenging traditional modes of research and explanation in social science and agri food studies. To do so it draws on multiple theoretical and methodological insights applied to case studies from Asia, Europe, Africa and the Americas. It elaborates an emergent approach to AEG practices as assemblages looking at the coming together of multiple actors with diverse trajectories and objectives. The book lays the foundations for an encompassing theoretical framework that transcends pre-existing categories as well as promoting innovative methodologies which integrate the role of social actors including scientists in the construction of new assemblages. The chapters define first the multiplicities and agencies inherent to AEG assemblages. A second set tackles the question of the politics in AEG assemblages where political hierarchies interweave with economic power and the search for more democratic and participative approaches. Finally these insights are developed in the form of assemblage practice and methodology. The book challenges social scientists to confront the shortcomings of existing approaches and consider alternative answers to questions about environmental governance of agri food systems.
