The Healing Heart—Families Allison M. Cox, David H. Albert, 2009-03-01. Stories and narratives aimed at helping families work through an array of subjects like health, illness, grief, adoption, sexual identity and school. The Healing Heart provides powerful examples of the use of stories and storytelling in encouraging resiliency, empathy, respect and healing. These engaging books contain stories and narratives about the use of the stories in activities with different populations: children, teens, those with disabilities, seniors, inmates, etc. or which address specific social or community problems: addictions, poverty, violence, racism, environmental degradation, homelessness, abuse. The books are a collective effort containing the expertise of more than 60 storytellers and health professionals who illustrate the power of story in moving others to commitment and action in building self-esteem and mutual respect. The Healing Heart: Families focuses on families dealing specifically with healing through story, health promotion, disease prevention, early childhood intervention, children with medical problems, adopting families, schools, sexual identities, grief and spiritual healing. The Healing Heart: Communities focuses on community building with sections on youth violence prevention, poverty, domestic violence, substance abuse and addiction, racism, elders, culture, environmental protection, homelessness and community development. Praise for The Healing Heart: Families. Both children and adults, sick or well, need the embrace of soulful storytelling. They need to witness and be witnessed for it is in this state that healing occurs. If newscasters were to read aloud each night to their listeners for 1,001 nights, one of the stories from this treasury, we would all be healed and lose our fear, recapturing real security in our homeland. N. Michael Murphy, MD, author of The Wisdom of Dying. An extraordinary work. Hit the bulls-eye by providing both process and practice. Thought-provoking and insightful theory is intertwined with appropriate stories for direct application. It makes clear that story can be a powerful catalyst for change, giving eloquent voice to what many of us have known for some time but have been unable to express. What a gift for those who work with families. Elizabeth Ellis, co-author of Inviting the Wolf In: Thinking about Difficult Stories.

The Whole Story Handbook Carol L. Birch, 2000. Birch, storyteller, children's librarian and teacher, tackles the slippery topic of the difference between reciting a memorized story and telling it directly and engagingly to listeners. The storyteller must know far more about the story than he or she tells In addition to her own infectious prose Birch provides a series of guided imagery exercises that walk the reader through the nuts and bolts of learning imagining a story from the inside out in order to be fully present in its telling The Healing Heart for Communities Allison Cox,David Albert,2009-03-01 The only book of its kind that demonstrates the power of storytelling to heal Story Works David Booth,Bob Barton,2000 This comprehensive resource deals with all aspects of story including what kinds of stories to choose how to present them ways to integrate stories in the classroom evaluation and more Cf Our choice 2001 Writing as a Second Language Donald Davis,2005-12-14 Presents a method for teaching language that shifts away from separating writing and talking integrating the spoken word into language education to make the transition to the foreign language of writing go more smoothly Three-minute Tales Margaret Read MacDonald,2004 Offers over eighty short stories from around the globe including Asia Mexico and eastern Europe American Regional Folklore Terry Mood Leopold,2004-09-24 An easy to use guide to American regional folklore with advice on conducting research regional essays and a selective annotated bibliography American Regional Folklore begins with a chapter on library research including how to locate a library suitable for folklore research how to understand a library s resources and how to construct a research strategy Mood also gives excellent advice on researching beyond the library locating and using community resources like historical societies museums fairs and festivals storytelling groups local colleges newspapers and magazines and individuals with knowledge of the field The rest of the book is divided into eight sections each one highlighting a separate region the Northeast the South and Southern Highlands the Midwest the Southwest the West the Northwest Alaska and Hawaii Each regional section contains a useful overview essay written by an expert on the folklore of that particular region followed by a selective annotated bibliography of books and a directory of related resources The Story Factor Annette Simmons,2006-04-04 Cover subtitle Inspiration influence and persuasion through the art of storytelling Becoming One Community Kathleen Fay,Suzanne Whaley,2004 More and more classrooms across the country are filled with children who speak languages other than English In these diverse classrooms many teachers struggle with how to create reading and writing instruction that is appropriate for their English language learners In Becoming One Community Kathleen Fay and Suzanne Whaley provide expert guidance on helping students who are just learning English develop their voice and skills within reading and writing workshops JoAnn PortalupiWritten for the general classroom teacher whose class includes English language learners ELLs as well as for ELL teachers working in general classrooms this book portrays ELL students in grades 3 6 who learn essential reading and writing skills and are full members of the classroom community Throughout the book Kathleen and Suzanne emphasize the importance of talk By talking during science workshop after read aloud or when sharing an idea with a partner ELLs use language authentically and in using it become more adept speakers readers and writers of English Included are classroom scenes with dialogue in whole class and small group settings authentic one on one
