Ten Millionaires and Ten Million Beggars Mwangi Wa. Githinji, 2019-07-30 This title was first published in 2000 An analysis of income distribution and development in Kenya seeking to increase the reader's understanding of the political economy of that country The author offers three contributions He provides an estimate of income inequality in Kenya He presents data on time allocation in Kenya which makes it possible to compare the distribution of work with the distribution of income Finally he attempts to construct a class analysis that goes beyond the debates of the 1970s and 1980s and goes on to draw a number of important conclusions from his findings Civil Society in Action, 2001 Ten Millionaires and Ten

Million Beggars Mwangi wa Githinji, 1997 Local case studies in African land law Robert Home, 2011 Mutunga: Willy Mutunga Under Cover, 2023-06-02 For over 30 years Willy Mutunga has blazed the trail in starting many important public conversations about remaking Kenya and the wider world into a better society As a public intellectual he has consistently challenged convenient stereotypes in an effort to bring down the social barriers erected by fear and ignorance and led in persuading individuals and communities to re-examine widely held prejudices and to start difficult dialogues Between 2006 and 2011 Mutunga wrote a weekly column in the Saturday Nation It is from these contributions under the pen name Cabral Pinto a combination of the surnames of the two African ideologues he greatly admired that the 146 articles in this volume are selected The clarity of Willy's moral voice is unmistakable on a broad variety of themes ranging from exhortations for an alternative leadership that would deliver a human rights state to an unapologetic call for mass action as a peaceful way to bring change This collection by Cabral Pinto is the story of Kenya's long democracy struggle told by a pro democracy activist Land, Poverty and Livelihoods in an Era of Globalization A. Haroon Akram-Lodhi, Saturnino M. Inequality, Socio-cultural Differentiation and Social Structures in Africa Dieter Neubert, 2019-06-25 This book contends that conventional class concepts are not able to adequately capture social inequality and socio-cultural differentiation in Africa Earlier empirical findings concerning ethnicity neo-traditional authorities patron-client relations lifestyles gender social networks informal social security and even the older debate on class in Africa have provided evidence that class concepts do not apply yet these findings have mostly been ignored For an analysis of the social structures and persisting extreme inequality in African societies and in other societies of the world we need to go beyond class consider the empirical realities and provincialise our conventional theories This book develops a new framework for the analysis of social structure based on empirical findings and more nuanced approaches including livelihood analysis and intersectionality and will be useful for students and scholars in African studies and development studies sociology social anthropology political science and geography Property and Political Order in Africa Catherine Boone, 2014-02-10 In sub-Saharan Africa property relationships around land and access to natural resources vary across localities districts and farming regions These differences produce patterned variations in relationships between individuals communities and the state This book captures these patterns in an analysis of structure and variation in rural land tenure regimes In most farming areas state authority is deeply embedded in land regimes drawing farmers ethnic insiders and outsiders lineages villages and communities into direct and indirect relationships with political authorities at different levels of the state apparatus The analysis shows how property institutions institutions that define political authority and hierarchy around land shape dynamics of great interest to scholars of politics including the dynamics of land related competition and conflict territorial conflict patron client relations electoral cleavage and mobilization ethnic politics rural rebellion and the localization and nationalization of political competition

Humanitarian Fictions Megan Cole Paustian, 2024-01-02 Humanitarianism has a narrative problem Far too often aid to Africa is envisioned through a tale of Western heroes saving African sufferers While labeling white savior narratives has become a familiar gesture it doesn't tell us much about the story as story Humanitarian Fictions aims to understand the workings of humanitarian literature as they engage with and critique narratives of Africa Overlapping with but distinct from human rights humanitarianism centers on a relationship of assistance focusing less on rights than on needs less on legal frameworks than moral ones less on the problem than on the nonstate solution Tracing the white savior narrative back to religious missionaries of the nineteenth century Humanitarian Fictions reveals the influence of religious thought on seemingly secular institutions and uncovers a spiritual collectivist streak in the discourse of humanity Because the humanitarian model of care transcends the boundaries of the state and its networks touch much of the globe Humanitarian Fictions redraws the boundaries of literary classification based on a shared problem space rather than a shared national space The book maps a transnational vein of Anglophone literature about Africa that features missionaries humanitarians and their so called beneficiaries Putting humanitarian thought in conversation with postcolonial critique this book brings together African British and U S writers typically read within separate traditions Paustian shows how the novel with its profound sensitivity to narrative can enrich the critique of white saviorism while also imagining alternatives that give African agency its due
