Tensional Landscapes The Dynamics Of Boundaries And Placements:

Tensional Landscapes Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2003-01-01 The contributors to this volume address global regional and local landscapes cosmopolitan and indigenous cultures and human and more than human ecology as they work to reveal place specific tensional dynamics Essays discuss Kant s theory of cosmopolitanism versus Hegel s philosophy of geographical determinism the tension of cosmopolitanism versus a closer embeddedness in place scapes geographical determinism in the colonial practices of Colombia and in the current political rhetoric surrounding the revival of Saxony preservational policies in Norway regulation of gated communities in the United States and the hermeneutics of Ground Zero This unusual book which covers such a wide ranging array of topics coheres into a work that will be a valuable reference for scholars of geography and the philosophy of place

Ecoscapes Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2006-01-01 This volume presents the concept of Ecoscape as spatial interrelations or spatially patterned processes that are constitutive of an environment_ an ecosystem Contributors investigate environmental issues concerning the human impact on geohistory food distribution genetically modified biota waste management scientific mapping and the rethinking of human identity

Lived Topographies and Their Mediational Forces Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2005-01-01 This collection explores the various forms of narrative semiotic and technological mediation that shape the experience of place From the East End of London to Navajo lands to Ground Zero Lived Topographies examines the great effect of language mass media surveillance and other incursions of the contemporary world on topographical experience and description Gary Backhaus and John Murungi have assembled a wide array of scholars to provide an interdisciplinary approach to this subject giving this collection a unique perspective on the phenomenology of place

Earth Ways Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2004-01-01 How do you connect the discipline of anthropology to both philosophy and geography What about history sociology and other applied and theoretical forms of knowledge In Earth Ways Framing Geographical Meanings Gary Backhaus and John Murungi challenge contributors to find the organizing component or framings that enables them to bridge their own work to philosophy and geography What emerges are truly creative contributions to interdisciplinary thought

Dangers in the Incommensurability of Globalization Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2009-03-26 The thesis of incommensurability concerns the interrelation between subjective culture and objective culture through which the constitutive agency of chaos incommensurability emerges The objectifications products the constituents of objective culture carry their own Being and this Being transcends the original subjective expressivities intentions The constitutive agency of this incommensurable interrelation becomes apparent in an age of globalization where its effects become global bringing about dangerous socio political volatilities To illustrate global warming has been neither the expressive intention of subjective culture nor a constituent of energy per se as an objectivated product in the context of objective culture It emerges in the interrelation an unforeseen incommensurability a chaos in the culture of energy that threatens the globe world in various ways Incommensurability the cultural form of chaos is recognized as dramatically foiling human instrumental rationality spoiling its hubris or belief in its own progress The doctrine of incommensurability shows that we can not know what we are doing while we are doing it for the empirical manifestations of chaos are only knowable after the fact and its effects are unpredictable This book of essays is divided into two parts the first dealing with contemporary themes in subjective culture and the second with those in objective culture A few of the pressing topics treated in this volume are abstracted information of a computer based society versus locally based grounded knowledge abstracted neo liberal economics versus place grounded economics the geo politics of peak oil and the intensification of natural disasters as a consequence of global warming reveal the tenuous character of the contemporary world

Rethinking Virtual Places Erik Champion,2021-11-30 How would the humanities change if we grappled with the ways in which digital and virtual places are designed experienced and critiqued In Rethinking Virtual Places Erik Malcolm Champion draws from the fields of computational sciences and other place related disciplines to argue for a more central role for virtual space in the humanities For instance recent developments in neuroscience could improve our understanding of how people experience store and recollect place related encounters Similarly game mechanics using virtual place design might make digital environments more engaging and learning content more powerful and salient In addition Champion provides a brief introduction to new and emerging software and devices and explains how they help hinder or replace our traditional means of designing and exploring places Perfect for humanities scholars fascinated by the potential of virtual space Rethinking Virtual Places challenges both traditional and recent evaluation methods to address the complicated problem of understanding how people evaluate and engage with the notion of place

Humans in the Land Sven Arntzen,Emily Brady,2008 The concept of cultural landscape has become significant in social and political decision making in environmental management and preservation and in diverse academic disciplines This book reflects on the philosophical presuppositions underlying discussions about landscapes which lie in the space between natural and built environments With their focus on ethical and aesthetic considerations regarding the cultural landscape the topics here address in particular the qualitative aspects of approaches to the environment
