Tensions Affecting International Understanding A Survey Of Research:

Tensions Affecting International Understanding Otto Klineberg, 1969 Tensions affecting international understanding Otto Klineberg, 1973 Tensions Affecting International Understanding Otto Klineberg (psychologue.), 1950 The Contours of Eurocentrism Marta Araújo, Silvia Rodríguez Maeso, 2015-11-19 This book proposes an approach to Eurocentrism as a paradigm of knowledge production and interpretation rooted in the Western narrative of modernity and its racial governmentalities Accordingly it interrogates the relationship between knowledge race and power at the heart of debates on the making and circulation of history opening up a tension not so much with other histories but with Eurocentrism's formulas of self assurance and attempts to accommodate other narratives The book is an interdisciplinary endeavor that engages with diverse political and academic contexts and debates that reveal understandings of coloniality modernity specifically in education Education and in particular history teaching is approached as a key arena in which to explore the re configuration of broader political and academic discourses and silences on power and race Moving beyond discussions on national identity and the multicultural curriculum it critically examines textbooks in Portugal and the discussions raised during empirical research with actors from a wide variety of fields such as academia policy and decision making schooling and the media These are addressed in relation to the international context that saw the consolidation of global and regional organizations such as UNESCO and the Council of Europe which established scientific knowledge as a key solution to political conflicts conventionally defined as exacerbated nationalism ethnocentrism and cultural misunderstandings Central to these discussions are the ideas of multiperspectivity and the inclusion of content about the other which are addressed in detail through a case study on depictions of the African national liberation movements This book aims to contribute to the critique of the contemporary workings of Eurocentrism and racism that have frustrated the struggles for the decolonization of knowledge and continue to shape our understandings of the world order in racially hierarchical terms by re centering the West Europe The News Media In National And International Conflict Andrew Arno, Wimal Dissanayake, 2019-07-11 Ironically as telecommunications technology the embodiment of modernity advances bringing people in different nations into more direct contact during conflict situations traditional cultural factors become increasingly important as differing ways of thinking and acting collide The mass media can be seen as a factor in the creation of international conflict they also claim many scholars are the key to control and resolution of those problems Whichever side of the coin one chooses to look at mass communication as cause or cure of conflict there is no doubt that the news media are no longer peripheral players on the global scene they are important participants whose organizational patterns of behavior values and motivations must be taken into account in understanding national and international conflict In this volume a distinguished group of authors explores the variety of ways the news media newspapers radio and television are involved in conflict situations Conflicts between the United States and Iran India and Pakistan and the United States and China are examined and national level studies in Sri Lanka Iran Hong Kong and the United States provide varied contexts in which the authors look at the complex interrelationships among government news media and the public in conflict situations The American as International Traveler and Host ,1955 The Selected Works of Arne Naess Arne Naess,2007-11-17 Arne Naess is considered one of the most important philosophers of the twentieth century He has been a tremendously prolific author yet his works as a whole have remained largely unavailable until now Springer made available for the first time a definitive 10 volume collection of Arne Naess s life s works The Selected Works of Arne Naess The Selected Works of Arne Naess SWAN presents a major overview of Arne Naess s thinking and provides an extensive collection of this prolific philosopher s principal writings Some of Naess s most important publications have never before been available in English Many others are out of print Often his papers were published in obscure and inaccessible journals And because Naess has been so prolific many of his most important papers still remain unpublished The publication of SWAN makes Naess s work more fully accessible to scholars students and critics alike Studies in Universities and World Affairs ,1958

International Educational and Cultural Exchange ,1967 Psychological Approaches to Intergroup and International Understanding G. M. Gilbert,1956 The Poor Relation Stuart Macintyre,2010 What are the social sciences What do they do How are they practised in Australia The Poor Relation examines the place of the social sciences from economics and psychology to history law and philosophy in the teaching and research conducted by Australian universities Across sixty years The Poor Relation charts the changing circumstances of the social sciences and measures their contribution to public policy In doing so it also relates the arrangements made to support them and explains why they are so persistently treated as the poor relation of science and technology In Search of Peace Research Charles Boasson,1991-06-18 A collection of essays which explore the roots of human conflict and the search for possible solutions the text expands on the foundations of peace research Boasson s other titles include In A Dutch Looking Glass and Van den Dungen has co edited Peace Movements and Political Cultures Education for International Understanding Indian National Commission for Co-operation with UNESCO.,1964 Research in International Relations Trygve Mathisen,2025-02-01 Originally published in 1965 the author makes a strong case for the study of international relations arguing that given the rational approach he advocates it is possible to avoid a major war since no government wants one His theories reach some controversial conclusions Throughout the book the author illustrates his arguments with examples taken from the last 100 years of European history Material for more detailed study of these examples is included in the statistics and maps in the appendices Department of State Publication ,1954 Race and U.S. Foreign Policy from Colonial Times Through the Age of Jackson E. Nathaniel Gates,2021-12-24 First published in 1998 Explores the concept of race The term race which originally denoted genealogical or class identity has in the comparatively brief span of 300 years taken on an entirely new meaning In the wake of the Enlightenment it came to be applied to social groups This ideological transformation

coupled with a dogmatic insistence that the groups so designated were natural and not socially created gave birth to the modern notion of races as genetically distinct entities. The results of this view were the encoding of race and racial hierarchies in law, literature, and culture. How racial categories facilitate social control. The articles in the series demonstrate that the classification of humans according to selected physical characteristics was an arbitrary decision that was not based on valid scientific method. They also examine the impact of colonialism on the propagation of the concept and note that racial categorization is a powerful social force that is often used to promote the interests of dominant social groups. Finally, the collection surveys how laws based on race have been enacted around the world to deny power to minority groups. A multidisciplinary resource. This collection of outstanding articles brings multiple perspectives to bear on race theory and draws on a wider range of periodicals than even the largest library usually holds. Even if all the articles were available on campus, chances are that a student would have to track them down in several libraries and microfilm collections. Providing of course that no journals were reserved for graduate students out for binding or simply missing. This convenient set saves students substantial time and effort by making available all the key articles in one reliable source. International Organization and Conference Series I-IV. United States. Department of State, 1954. The War System. Richard Falk, Samuel S. Kim, 2019-08-15. An interdisciplinary study of this nature and scope reflects contributions of many scholars in diverse disciplines and fields concerned with human conflict behavior in general and with human war-prone behavior in particular. They are too numerous to enumerate here. Still, our deep gratitude goes to those scholars whose writings have been incorporated in this volume as sample representatives of what their particular disciplines can contribute to the study of war.

The Oxford Handbook of Austrian Economics Peter J. Boettke, Christopher J. Coyne, 2015-09-01. The Austrian School of Economics is an intellectual tradition in economics and political economy dating back to Carl Menger in the late 19th century. Menger stressed the subjective nature of value in the individual decision calculus. Individual choices are indeed made on the margin, but the evaluations of rank ordering of ends sought in the act of choice are subjective to individual choosers. For Menger, the economic calculus was about scarce means being deployed to pursue an individual's highest valued ends. The act of choice is guided by subjective assessments of the individual and is open-ended as the individual is constantly discovering what ends to pursue and learning the most effective way to use the means available to satisfy those ends. This school of economic thinking spread outside of Austria to the rest of Europe and the United States in the early 20th century and continued to develop and gain followers, establishing itself as a major stream of heterodox economics. The Oxford Handbook of Austrian Economics provides an overview of this school and its theories. The various contributions discussed in this book all reflect a tension between the Austrian School's orthodox argumentative structure: rational choice and invisible hand, and its addressing of a heterodox problem: situations of uncertainty, differential knowledge, ceaseless change. The Austrian economists, from the founders to today, seek to derive the invisible hand theorem from the rational choice postulate via institutional analysis in a persistent and consistent manner Scholars and students working in the field of History of Economic Thought those following heterodox approaches and those both familiar with the Austrian School or looking to learn more will find much to learn in this comprehensive volume Integral Conflict Richard J. McGuigan, Nancy Popp, 2016-04-22 Explores conflict through the lens of Integral Theory and provides a case study where Integral conflict resolution techniques are highlighted This book explores conflict through the discerning lens of Integral Theory applying Ken Wilber's AQAL model to a real life case study the River Conflict Coauthor Richard J McGuigan was a mediator in this ongoing dispute over fishing rights on the Fraser River in British Columbia a situation where commercial recreational and First Nations fishing interests clashed Voices of the various stakeholders are featured prominently giving a vivid sense of a seemingly intractable situation McGuigan and Nancy Popp set the stage for their Integral analysis of the River Conflict then move expertly through four chapters aimed at understanding the conflict from the four dimensions of human experience individual collective interior and exterior The result is a powerful picture of just how integral conflict is This quadrant by quadrant analysis is well punctuated by sidebar observations insights and tips for conflict practitioners or students giving readers new to Integral Theory additional support in understanding and applying the AQAL model to their work
