Asian foreign policy the foreign policy of the countries of the region as well as their relationships with their neighbors and key external players such as China and the United States in an effort to understand South Asia's place in the world order. It illustrates the future trajectory of foreign policy in the region and analyses future of regional arrangements like SAARC South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation and BIMSTEC. The handbook is structured in five parts each representing a focused area of enquiry: Foreign Policy Relations within South Asia, Relations within Indo-Pacific, Relations with China, Europe and the United States, Security, and Economic and security policy. This handbook provides an objective yet accessible overview of the history and current state of foreign policy of each country and the region. It is an authoritative reference work for academics and students as well as international think tanks, research institutes and non-governmental organizations working on South Asian Politics.

Asian Politics Foreign Politics International Affairs World History and International Relations The New International Politics of South Asia Vernon Hewitt, 1997-09-15 Revised and substantially updated. The new international politics of South Asia argues that the politics of the individual states of South Asia cannot be understood without reference to the regional and international context. The author emphasises the need to consider rapid political, social and economic change in the context of debates over ethnic identity and changes within the international system following the collapse of the Soviet Union. Recent changes have opened up new opportunities for the region but have also exposed specific weaknesses. The author discusses India's evolving relationship with the international economic system, economic reforms in Pakistan and Sri Lanka as well as key issues such as the regional position on the NPT treaty, the Comprehensive Test Ban treaty, environmental issues and the post-Cold War world order.

Non-Aligned Movement Summits Jovan Cavoški, 2022-05-19 Using newly declassified documents from Serbian, British, Indian, Chinese, Myanmar, U.S. and Soviet archives, Non-Aligned Movement Summits shows how the Non-Aligned Movement (NAM) gradually evolved into the third force of Cold War politics, enveloping most of the post-colonial and non-bloc world. Jovan Cavoški follows the evolution of the NAM through its summits and other gatherings during which major political decisions pertaining to the destiny of the Third World were made. These events were scrutinized by all major powers and had a corresponding effect on their policies. From the Belgrade Conference in 1961 until 1989, all major Third World and non-bloc nations met to demonstrate to the Eastern and Western Blocs that they were independent, active and respected participants in world affairs. Cavoški shows how these summits were also closely related to events occurring in the relationship between the two blocs, providing opportunities for non-bloc actors to influence the global balance of power. By moving the focus of 20th century international history away from the bloc nations and instead giving developing nations in Africa and Asia due attention, this book provides a fresh perspective on Cold War history and fills a significant gap in the literature. It is an important study for all students and scholars of the Cold War and international history.
