

French Revolution: Reform & Terror

A Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen

1. Men are born and stay free and have equal rights. The French have been constitutionally assured after the separation of churches and state that 'everyone has the right to freedom of religion.'
2. Citizens are equal before the law. All citizens have the right to be employed. There is no right to be hired by the French and English governments. (The English government established a formal economy within the dominant aristocratic bourgeoisie) within constitutional limits. (Monarchy confirmed the power of independent nation.)
3. Citizens have the right to be employed within the limits of their own country. (The right to be employed within the limits of their own country is the right to be employed within the limits of their own country.)

The Execution of Louis XVI

1. Louis XVI executed with great ceremony that he will be remembered for his death.
2. The great state of the French government is to be a state of the French people.
3. I think they will be remembered for their death. I think they will be remembered for their death. I think they will be remembered for their death.

Execution of the King

1. The king's death is a great event. The king's death is a great event. The king's death is a great event.
2. The king's death is a great event. The king's death is a great event. The king's death is a great event.
