Conrad Levinson,Shel Horowitz,2016-03-15 Levinson and Horowitz show the dramatic potential for profit in not just being a green company but in addressing the huge social problems that have stumped humankind for millennia Instead of waiting centuries for government to get it done business can grab the reins and accomplish more through the profit motive than through any amount of guilt tripping Green practices can save and make money and deep social change can skyrocket those

Ewing,Ritva Laury,2024-08-01

Although there is a large literature on referentiality going back to at least the nineteenth and early twentieth century much of this early work is based on constructed data and most of it is on English The chapters in this volume contribute to a growing body of work that examines referentiality through naturalistic data in context Taking an interactional approach to non referentiality contributors to this volume ask how participants talk in real time about persons and things as individuals or as categories and what distinguishes referential from nonreferential specific from nonspecific and generic from nongeneric Crucially we ask whether these distinctions even matter to participants in conversation and if they do what the evidence for that would be Contributors investigate these issues using data from conversational interaction in a variety of social contexts including between close friends and family to more casual acquaintances in service encounters and between adults and children and in a range of languages English Finnish French Indonesian Japanese and Mandarin Collectively the chapters develop insights showing that reference is often fluid dynamic and indeterminate that referential indeterminacy is typically unproblematic for participants that shifts in referentiality tend to be tied to specific social goals and that reference and
