Hollywood: Formal-aesthetic dimensions: authorship, genre and stardom Thomas Schatz, 2004 Hollywood as a concept applies variously to a particular film style a factory based mode of film production a cartel of powerful media institutions and a national and increasingly global way of seeing It is a complex social cultural and industrial phenomenon and is arguably the single most important site of cultural production over the past century This collection brings together journal articles published essays book chapters and excerpts which explore

Hollywood as a social economic industrial aesthetic and political force and as a complex historical entity Key Concepts in Crime Fiction Heather Worthington, 2011-08-31 An insight into a popular yet complex genre that has developed over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The volume explores the contemporary anxieties to which crime fiction responds along with society's changing conceptions of crime and criminality The book covers texts contexts and criticism in an accessible and user friendly format

Crossing Textual Boundaries in International Children's Literature Lance Weldy, 2011-01-18 As the first part of the title indicates my interest in looking at intertextuality and transformation still maintains a prominent place throughout this book as well If we believe that no text is an island then we will understand that the relationships between and within texts across the years become a fascinating place for academic inquiry I included the word boundaries into the title because we never get tired of voicing our opinions about texts which traverse relegated boundaries such as genre or medium Not only am I interested in discussing what these changes across boundaries mean socially historically and culturally but also what they mean geographically which accounts for the second part of my title I am very excited that this book will be placing even more emphasis on children's literature in an international scene than my first book did in the sense that I have added more scholars on an international level I hesitate to list the nationalities of all of the contributors here because quite a few have themselves crossed international boundaries in different ways by either studying abroad or finding permanent residency in foreign countries Nevertheless the writers have lived extensively in or identify as
