María del Pilar García Mayo,María Junkal Gutierrez Mangado,María Martínez Adrián,2013-02-19 Second language acquisition SLA is a field of inquiry that has increased in importance since the 1960s Currently researchers adopt multiple perspectives in the analysis of learner language all of them providing different but complementary answers to the understanding of oral and written data produced by young and older learners in different settings The main goal of this volume is to provide the reader with updated reviews of the major contemporary approaches to SLA the research carried out within them and wherever appropriate the implications and or applications for theory research and pedagogy that might derive from the available empirical evidence The book is intended for SLA researchers as well as for graduate MA Ph D students in SLA research applied linguistics and linguistics as the different chapters will be a guide in their research within the approaches presented The volume will also be of interest to professionals from other fields interested in the SLA process and the different explanations that have been put forward to account for it Interfaces Between Second Language Acquisition and Language Testing Research Lyle F. Bachman,Andrew D. Eckman,Jean Mileham,Rita Rutkowski Weber,Diane Highland,Peter W. Lee,2013-10-08 A volume on second language acquisition theory and pedagogy is at the same time a mark of progress and a bit of an anomaly The progress is shown by the fact that the two disciplines have established themselves as areas of study not only distinct from each other but also different from linguistic theory This was not always the case at least not in the United States The anomaly results from the fact that this book deals with the relationship between L2 theory and pedagogy despite the conclusion that there is currently no widely accepted theory of SLA Grouped into five sections the papers in this volume consider questions about L2 theory and pedagogy at the macro level from the standpoint of the L2 setting consider input in terms of factors which are internal to the learner examine the question of external factors affecting the input such as the issue of whether points of grammar can be explicitly taught deal with questions of certain complex linguistic behaviors and the various external and social variables that influence learners and discuss issues surrounding the teaching of pronunciation factors that affect a non native accent Second Language Acquisition in Action Andrea Nava,Luciana Pedrazzini,2018-03-22 Despite the key role played by second language acquisition SLA courses in linguistics teacher education and language teaching degrees participants often struggle to bridge the gap between SLA theories and their many applications in the classroom In order to overcome the transfer problem from theory to practice Andrea Nava and Luciana Pedrazzini present SLA principles through the actions and words of teachers and learners Second Language Acquisition in Action identifies eight important SLA principles and involves readers in an experiential approach which enables them to explore these principles in action Each chapter is structured around three stages experience and reflection conceptualisation and restructuring and planning Discussion questions and tasks represent the core of the book These help readers in the process of experiencing SLA research and provide them with opportunities to try their hands at different areas of language teachers professional expertise Aimed at those on applied linguistics MA courses TESOL EFL trainees and in service teachers Second Language Acquisition in Action features Key Questions at the start of each chapter Data based tasks to foster reflection and to help bridge the gap between theory and practice Audiovisual extracts of lessons on an accompanying website Further Reading suggestions at the end of each chapter
