Stadtische Gesellschaft Und Reformation Kleine Schriften :

Communal Reformation Peter Blickle, 1992 Communal Reformation is the most original and provocative book to appear in its field in the past quarter century. It met with an enthusiastic response particularly in England and the United States when first published in Germany in 1985 and is now available in translation. Peter Blickle's groundbreaking study, which is intended for scholars and students interested in the history of pre-modern Europe, the development of Germany, the history of Christianity, and historical sociology, reconstructs the connection between the crisis of rural society at the end of the Middle Ages, the great Peasants War of 1525, and the Reformation as a social movement. Blickle focuses on southern Germany, Switzerland, and Austria in the later Middle Ages and Early Modern eras, roughly 1400 to 1600, though his work has important implications for the social and religious history of Europe as a whole.

Peter George Wallace, 1995 From 1575 to 1730 the citizens of the Alsatian Imperial city of Colmar were divided between Protestant and Catholic communities, plagued by chronic warfare and ultimately subjugated by the kingdom of France. Drawing on a rich collection of serial archival sources, Wallace reconstructs the collective biography of 6,700 civic officials, merchants, artisans, and agricultural workers in order to examine the local impact of confessionalization in a religiously mixed town, the effect of warfare on the economic interdependence of town and country, and the tensions between French absolutism and traditional civic political culture. Economic historians, scholars of the Reformation, and students of French and German history will find guden wercken The Stereotype of the Priest in the Old French Fabliaux Daron Burrows, Daron Lee Burrows, 2005

The Old French fabliaux may be notorious for their bawdy content but few aspects of these medieval comic narratives are as astonishing as their depiction of the parish priest whose fiscal and sexual transgressions are on occasion so enormous that lay protagonists are driven to inflict graphic punishments ranging from public exposure and communal beating to castration and murder In this study Burrows draws on social psychological research into the cognitive and socio motivational components of stereotyping to explore the forces underlying the creation and development of the fabliau priest Through an assessment of the constituent elements of the figure against a background of a range of literary and historical sources Burrows demonstrates that the literary figure is the product of the specific socio historical context of contemporaneous changes in relationships between Church and laity in which anticlerical stereotyping in a manner comparable to other instances of outgroup derogation can be attributed to a quest for positive social identity and ingroup solidarity on the part of an inscribed lay audience Two Old French Satires on the Power of the Keys Daron Burrows, 2017-12-02 The thirteenth century French comic dits of Les Escommeniamanz au lecheor and Le Pardon de foutre are two of the earliest vernacular texts to articulate anticlerical satire against the abuse of excommunications and indulgences In Les Escommeniamanz a relentless series of excommunications is promulgated against a broad range of social groups accused of activities ranging from the illegal and the immoral through the socially disruptive to the profoundly nonsensical and obscene while in Le Pardon a cardinal freshly arrived from Rome offers indulgences to groups whose shocking alleged sexual incontinence appears scarcely to merit pardon Burrows new edition of two hitherto unedited poems so important to the understanding of lay attitudes towards ecclesiastical authority in thirteenth century France is complemented by an English translation and a detailed commentary on the texts literary linguistic codicological ideological and socio historical content and context Stehendes Heer und städtische Gesellschaft im 18. Jahrhundert Ralf Pröve, 2009-01-01 Obwohl sich die Sozialgeschichte in den letzten 25 Jahren einen entscheidenden Platz in der allgemeinen Geschichtswissenschaft erobert und für nahezu alle Zeitepochen viele neue Erkenntnisse hervorgebracht hat wurde der Faktor Militär von Sozialhistorikern weitgehend ignoriert und bislang fast völlig ausgeblendet Insbesondere für die Frühe Neuzeit ist diese Ausklammerung die in anderen Ländern unbekannt ist unverständlich und bedauerlich da die Erforschung der Stehenden Heere des 17 und 18 Jahrhunderts für das weitere Verständnis des Absolutismus unentbehrlich ist Mit seiner 1992 abgeschlossenen Göttinger Dissertation schließt nun der Verfasser diese Forschungslücke Mit der Auswertung eines bislang weitgehend unbekannten Quellenbestandes gelingt ihm ein umfassendes Soziogramm der frühmodernen Garnison und Festungsstadt Göttingen Mit dieser quellennahen Feldstudie beschreibt er eindrucksvoll nicht nur die innere Struktur des kurhannoverschen Militärs sondern erhellt auch das wechselseitige Verhältnis auf engem Raum zusammenlebender Bürger und Soldaten A History of the Credit Market in Central Europe Pavla Slavičková, 2020-10-04 This is the first comprehensive study of loans and debts in Central European countries in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Period It outlines the issues of debts and loans in the Czech lands Poland and Hungary with respect to the influence of Austria and Germany It focuses on the role of loans and debts in medieval and early modern society credit markets in these countries the mechanism of lending and borrowing forms of credit availability of loans frequency of credits dealings range of lending business and last but not least the financial relationships inside the social classes and between them The research presented in the book is based on a wide range of resources including credit contracts and agreements evidence of loans and debts of courts accounting of nobility towns churches and guilds merchant diaries and Jewish registers as well as other financial records It covers a wide range of historical disciplines including economic and financial history social history the history of economic thought as well as the history of everyday life It also contains a wealth of case studies which offer for the first time in English a comprehensive and representative sample of the most up to date Central European research on the history of loans and debts and serves as a basis for a comparison with the other parts of Europe during the same period The book is designed primarily for postgraduates researchers and academics in financial economic and historical sciences but will also be a valuable resource for students of business schools

Money and Finance in Central Europe during the Later Middle Ages Roman Zaoral, 2016-04-29 The wealth of the Central European archives particularly in urban records has not been fully realised by Western European historians However the records are not always straightforward to use and many studies tackle the methodological problems inherent in gathering and analysing medieval sources This book presents an original review of past and present research of national historiographies on medieval financial history from Central Europe Covering material ranging from the thirteenth to the sixteenth centuries it explores the eastern regions of the Holy Roman Empire including Bohemia Silesia Austria and Germany and extending to Poland and Hungary The authors firstly discuss the monetary policy of the Holy Roman emperors during the Middle Ages before moving on to wider aspects of state finance including credit mechanisms used by rulers The book then investigates civic records and what they reveal about urban life and trade It lastly investigates the financial activities of the church from papacy to the cathedral chapters in Prague Using numismatic and documentary evidence Money and Finance in Central Europe during the Later Middle Ages provides an invaluable point of comparison with the financial conditions in Western Europe during the Middle Ages

He is the Sun, She is the Moon Heide Wunder, 1998

Renowned German social historian Heide Wunder refers to the cosmic image contained in the 1578 Book of Marital Discipline that characterizes the relationship between husband and wife. Today 'He is the sun, she is the moon' might be interpreted as a hierarchy of dominance and subordination. At the time it was used, however, sun and moon reflected the different but equal status of husband and wife. Wunder shows how the history of women and the history of gender relations can provide crucial insights into how societies organize themselves and provide resources for political action. She observes actual circumstances as well as the normative rules that were supposed to guide women's lives. We learn what skills were necessary to take charge of households, what people ate, how they furnished their homes, what birth control measures were available, what role women played in peasant protest. Wunder finds that in addition to the history of losses and setbacks for women observed by so many current interpreters, there is a history of gains as well. The regency of noble women was normal, as was the shared responsibility of wife and husband in a peasant household, an artisan's workshop or a merchant's business. Using sources as diverse as memoirs, wedding and funeral sermons, novels and chronicles, and including a wealth of demographic information, Wunder reveals a surprising new image of early modern women and provides a richer interpretation of early modern Europe.
