Imperial Dreams Tim Gallagher, 2013-04-16 A decade ago Tim Gallagher was one of the rediscoverers of the legendary ivory billed woodpecker which most scientists believed had been extinct for more than half a century now Gallagher once again hits the trail journeying deep into Mexico's savagely beautiful Sierra Madre Occidental home to rich wildlife as well as to Mexican drug cartels in a perilous quest to locate the most elusive bird in the world the imperial woodpecker The imperial woodpecker's trumpetlike calls and distinctive hammering on massive pines once echoed through the high forests Two feet tall with deep black plumage a brilliant snow white shield on its back and a crimson crest the imperial woodpecker had largely disappeared fifty years ago though reports persist of the bird still flying through remote mountain stands In an attempt to find and protect the imperial woodpecker in its last habitat Gallagher is guided by a map of sightings of this natural treasure of the Sierra Madre bestowed on him by a friend on his deathbed Charged with continuing the quest of a line of distinguished naturalists including the great Aldo Leopold Gallagher treks through this mysterious historically untamed and untamable territory Here where an ancient petroglyph of the imperial can still be found Geronimo led Apaches in their last stand William Randolph Hearst held a storied million acre ranch and Pancho Villa once roamed today ruthless drug lords terrorize residents and steal and strip the land Gallagher's passionate quest takes a harrowing turn as he encounters armed drug traffickers burning houses and fleeing villagers His mission becomes a life and death drama that will keep armchair adventurers enthralled as he chases truth in the most dangerous of habitats

Bird Student George Miksch Sutton, 2013-09-24 At thirteen George Miksch Sutton planned a school of ornithology centered around his collection of bird skins feathers bones nests eggs and a prized stuffed crow As an adult he became one of the most prominent ornithologists and bird artists of the twentieth century He describes his metamorphosis from amateur to professional in Bird Student Born in 1898 Sutton gives us his clearest memories of his boyhood in Nebraska Minnesota Oregon Illinois Texas and West Virginia with his closely knit family Recognizing birds identifying them correctly drawing them and writing about them became more and more important to him His intense admiration for Louis Agassiz Fuertes had a good deal to do with his beginning to draw birds in earnest and his correspondence and his 1916 summer visit with the generous Fuertes taught him to look at birds with the eyes of a professional artist and to consider the possibility of making ornithology his career By 1918 Sutton had talked himself into a job at the Carnegie Museum of Natural History in Pittsburgh which gave him fresh opportunities to learn and travel and his 1920 field trip to the Labrador Peninsula stimulated his lifelong interest in arctic birds Further expeditions to James Bay the east coast of Hudson Bay on leave from his job as state ornithologist of Pennsylvania and Southampton Island at the north end of Hudson Bay in search of the elusive blue goose and its nesting grounds give us glimpses of field methods before the days of sophisticated equipment Sutton ends his autobiography in 1935 with an account of his graduate days at Cornell University and his position as curator of the Fuertes Memorial Collection of Birds Bird Student is about raising young roadrunners and owls and prairie dogs sailing and being stranded in arctic waters preparing specimens in the hold of a ship hunting birds and caribou and bears in almost inaccessible regions canoeing in the Far North camping in Florida and delivering speeches in Pennsylvania Sutton s gift for mixing facts and philosophy lets us see the evolution of a naturalist as his inherent curiosity and innocent enjoyment of beauty led to a permanent desire to preserve this beauty The Living Bird Quarterly ,1986 Life Histories of North American [birds].: Cardinals, grosbeaks, buntings, towhees, finches, sparrows and allies, pt. 1-3 Arthur Cleveland Bent,1968
