Myers, 2020-06-01 This edited book is the first full length volume exclusively devoted to new research on the challenges and practices of teaching global issues It addresses the ways that schools can and do address young people s interest and activism in contemporary global issues facing the world Many young people today are passionate about issues such as climate change world poverty and human rights but have few opportunities in schools to study such issues in depth This book draws on new research to provide a deeper understanding and examples of how global issues are taught in schools The book is organized in two sections 1 contexts and policies in which global issues are taught and learned and 2 case studies of teaching and learning global issues in schools The central thesis is that global issues are an essential feature of democracy and social action in a world caught in the thrall of globalization Schools can no longer afford to ignore teaching about issues impacting across the world if they intend to keep young people engaged in learning and want them to make their own communities and the greater world better places for all

The Etude ,1900 Global Trends in Media Education Tony Lavender,Birgitte Tufte,Dafna Lemish,2003 Over the last decades Media Education has gradually obtained an educational status in many countries throughout the world although few countries have actually incorporated this subject in their formal school curricula Where Media Education is taught today it is principally carried out using a relaxed pluralistic and a cross or multidisciplinary approach This book sets out to explore this new approach to the subject via chapters that are representative of ongoing work by leading Media Education researchers in nine different countries and from all five continents Media Education is continually evolving and the individual chapters indicate that the passion for the subject is global while the actual translations of practices and policies are very much local The book expands the debate about Media Education beyond the traditions and interests of one part of the world to encompass the needs of the rest

European Dimensions and the Secondary School Curriculum Ivor Goodson, Veronica McGivney, 2018-10-03 Originally published in 1985 Europe and the EEC seemed to be virtually synonymous for the majority of our population and the ambivalent feelings many people have about the Community together with the consistently bad press it received in the UK seemed to engender a hostility in educational circles towards teaching about Europe as a whole However if one of the aims of education is to increase children's awareness tolerance and understanding of the world about them to widen their experience and horizons then teaching about the wider world must have a place in the curriculum This book argues for education about Europe not necessarily in favour of Europe breaking down the national insularity of the UK curriculum and using Europe as one convenient window on the wider world
