Accounting and Management Control Fredrik Nilsson, Anna-Karin Stockenstr nd, 2015-02-20 This book is about financial accounting and management control and how these two information systems are related as well as how their objectives conflict At the most fundamental level the objective of financial accounting is to provide owners and funders with comparable information on a company's value creation The aim of management control on the other hand is to give the board senior executives and employees unique information for strategy formulation and implementation One often mentioned negative effect is the risk of financial accounting affecting management control design and use making it less relevant for decision making at the company level The book provides an analysis of the complex relationship between financial accounting and management control The analysis is based on theoretical reasoning as well as several examples of how financial accounting standards affect not only the annual report but also the control system An interesting and perhaps unexpected conclusion is that management control seems to affect financial accounting almost as much as financial accounting affects management control These complex relationships which can influence the design and use of both financial accounting and management control are discussed in detail in this book The International Simulation & Gaming Research Yearbook Danny Saunders, Nina Smalley, 2012-10-12 The eighth volume in the Simulation and Gaming Research Yearbook series brings together topical and authoritative contributions from international professionals involved in the use of games and simulations There are examples drawn from a wide range of countries Financial Accounting and Equity Markets Philip Brown, 2013-06-19 Philip Brown is one of the most admired and respected accounting academics alive today He was a pioneer in capital markets research in accounting and his 1968 article co authored with Ray Ball An Empirical Evaluation of Accounting Income Numbers arguably had a greater impact on the course of accounting research directly and indirectly than any other article during the second half of the twentieth century Since that time his innovative research has focused on issues that bridge accounting and finance including the relationships between net profit reports and the stock market the long run performance of acquiring firms statutory sanctions and voluntary corporate disclosure and the politics and future of national accounting standards to name a few This volume brings together the greatest hits of Brown s career including several articles that were published in out of the way places for easier use by students and researchers in the field With a foreword written by Stephen A Zeff and an introduction that discusses the evolution of Brown s research interests and explains the context for each of the essays included in the volume this book offers the reader a unique look inside this remarkable 50 year career Accounting Education Research Richard M.S.
