Stalkers of Pestilence Wade Wright Olivier,1930 Stalkers of Pestilence Wade Wright Olivier,1970 NLM Newsline ,1997 Dread Philip Alcabes,2010-07 The average individual is far more likely to die in a car accident than from a communicable disease yet we are still much more fearful of the epidemic Even at our most level headed the thought of an epidemic can inspire terror As Philip Alcabes persuasively argues in Dread our anxieties about epidemics are created not so much by the germ or microbe in question or the actual risks of contagion but by the unknown the undesirable and the misunderstood Alcabes examines epidemics through history to show how they reflect the particular social and cultural anxieties of their times From Typhoid Mary to bioterrorism as new outbreaks are unleashed or imagined new fears surface new enemies are born and new behaviors emerge Dread dissects the fascinating story of the imagined epidemic the one that we think is happening or might happen the one that disguises moral judgments and political agendas the one that ultimately expresses our deepest fears Catalog of Copyright Entries.
