STAMPED AMPHORA HANDLES FOUND IN 1931-1932

PLATES I AND II

I. INTRODUCTION

The present article is concerned with impressions made while the clay was still soft on ancient jars, usually on the handles, by means of a mould or die comparable to those now used on sealing wax as a token of official sanction or of private identity.<sup>1</sup> Stamps of this type<sup>2</sup> bear a date: "in the term of (year) ———,"<sup>3</sup> which is sometimes made more specific by the addition of the month; or they may have a name alone, usually in the positive case: "from, or by, ———," indicating probably the manufacturer of the jar; or there may be a combination of these two. A great many state explicitly or implicitly where they were made, by adding, for instance, GAZION or KNITION or the Rhodian Rose. Many are individualized by the addition of various devices.<sup>4</sup> Some bear a monogram and some the pictorial device alone.

<sup>1</sup> The catalogue covers only the items found in the last two seasons, but advance notice is given of important material from the third campaign, and the chronological arrangement of the catalogued handles has been controlled as far as possible by the new examples. For an analysis of the latter, cf. p. 201, n. 2. I should like to express my gratitude to all who have assisted in the present study. I have received assistance from Greek archaeologists and from members of the foreign archaeological schools in Athens. Special acknowledgments are made to Professor G. F. Gikasianos, Director of the Department of Antiquities in the Ministry of Education, and to Mr. Katsanos, Ephebe of Antiquities in Thessalonica, for permission to include these amphorae which are in the museums of Athens, Thessalonica, and Chalkis. Among friends to whom particular thanks are due should be mentioned Dr. Oscar Broneer, Dr. Alfred Hekking, Mr. Sterling Dow, and Miss Elizabeth Gussman. Others are referred to in the text. I have profited also by advice, criticism and suggestions from Professors Carpenter, Sanders, Seltman, and Miller of Bryn Mawr College.

<sup>4</sup> Thasian stamps, on which the proposition ΔΩ is not used, appear to express the date and the maker in most cases by a name in the nominative (or abbreviated) and the device. That the device is here a separate piece of information, not the means of identifying more precisely the maker, seems probable because of the large number of different devices with which some of the names occur.
