Tabloid Tales Colin Sparks, John Tulloch, 2000-03-22 Coverage of the Clinton Lewinsky saga followed in a long trail of media exposures of the more personal details of the lives of public figures Many commentators have seen stories like this and TV shows like Jerry Springer's as evidence of a decline in the standards of the mass media This increasing interest in private lives and the falling off of coverage of serious news is often described as tabloidization The essays in this book are the first serious scholarly studies of what is going on and what its implications are Reality it turns out is much more complex than some of the laments suggest As the contributors show this is not just a U S problem but is repeated in country after country and it is not certain that the media anywhere are getting more tabloid What is more there is no consensus about whether tabloidization is just dumbing down or whether it is a necessary tactic for the mass media to engage with new audiences who do not have the news habit Tabloid Tales will be of interest to students and scholars in journalism mass communication political science and cultural and media studies

The Christmas Note Donna VanLiere, 2011-10-25 Donna VanLiere's Christmas books have enthralled millions of readers. Now she delivers another inspirational novel about an unlikely friendship between two women, a friendship that will change each of their lives forever. The Christmas Note is now a Hallmark TV movie. Gretchen Daniels has recently moved into a condo with her two children to be closer to her mother, Miriam. As they build a life together in their new community, they notice a mysterious young woman, Melissa McCreary, who lives next door. She has few possessions, little personality, and keeps to herself. One day a local landlord who is looking for Melissa knocks on Gretchen's door for assistance. Melissa's mother has died, and in the coming weeks the landlord needs Melissa to empty her mother's apartment. Gretchen reaches out and offers to help Melissa, but the apartment is a gut-wrenching shamble of a home. There is little worth saving except for a few photos and a note that is discovered on the crate beside the bed. It is unfinished, but in the two scribbled lines, Melissa discovers secrets about her family that she never could have imagined. Can two very different women embark on a journey that explores a long-buried need for forgiveness, hope, and redemption?
