WASHINGTON VIEWS

DISCUSSIONS AT WHITE HOUSE

THE EFFECT ON CONGRESS

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1

A copy of the second British Note was sent at 8.30 this morning to the residence of Mr. Stimson and by him was at once taken to President Hoover at the White House. Mr. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, was summoned into conference there and the Note was discussed at length. Later in the morning Mr. Stimson went to the State Department, where he was joined by the British Ambassador. It was then announced that the text of the Note would be given to the Press soon after the Stock Exchange was closed for the day.

There is no reason to doubt that Mr. Stimson was able to convey to Sir Ronald Lindsay the conclusions which Mr. Hoover had reached and to indicate in general the nature of the President's recommendations to Congress next week, in these may have been affected by the arguments of the British Government. It is common knowledge that, independently of their presentation by London, these arguments are on a large scale found convincing not only by Mr. Hoover, but by all those whose executive position here gives them a knowledge of and a concern in the world situation. What effect the British Note, the recommendations Mr. Hoover will make, and the growing mass of opinion favourable to friendly adjustment will have upon Congress is still doubtful almost to the point of despair.

AGRICULTURISTS' VIEWS

It is true that some hold to the belief that a deeper impression was made upon those members of the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means committees who were called in by the President some time ago than could directly appear on the statements of views issued by Mr. Hoover soon after they had left him. If there is an echo of these gentlemen have signally failed to make this evident. It is true also that the agricultural interests, for the relief of whose depression the President-Elect is now trying to devise means, are occasionally noted on the deft questions. The Houston Cotton Exchange, for instance, has played a revolution calling upon the Government to "control" at once with foreign Governments with the

RENT CONTROL

CHANGES IN NEW BILL

RIGHTS OF TENANT AND LANDLORD

From Our Parliamentary Correspondent

Important changes in the present law of rent restriction and control are contained in the Government's new Rent and Mortgage Interest Restrictions (Amendment) Bill, the text of which will be issued to-day. It is hoped to obtain a second reading before the Christmas recess.

The Bill carries out the main recommendations of the report of the Departmental Committee which sat during the life of the Labour Government under the chairmanship of Lord Marley. It recognizes that private enterprise has now caught up with the demand for the best type of houses which were controlled under the original legislation. It is rapidly catching up with the second type of house, for the better-class artisan, but it has not yet solved the problem of providing cheap houses for the lower-paid sections of the community. Where houses of this type are decontrolled the rent may jump up to 80 per cent. above the pre-war figure, and the Government recognize that for these houses full control must continue.

PLAN FOR FIVE YEARS

The Bill accordingly proposes that there shall be immediate decontrol of houses with a reasonable value which in 1931 was more than £45 in the Metropolitan Police District, £35 in the rest of England and Wales, and £45 in Scotland. A period of six months will elapse before mortgages on these houses are decontrolled. Houses with a reasonable value between £20 and £45 in the Metropolitan Police District, £12 and £25 in the rest of England and Wales, and £20, £15, and £45 in Scotland will still be subject to decontrol when they become vacant. Houses with a reasonable value below these figures will cease to be decontrolled when they become vacant, but houses which are already decontrolled will remain decontrolled. A register will be kept by local authorities of houses falling within these limits which are already decontrolled, and if a landlord does not register a house within a specified time it will be treated as controlled. The Bill will remain operative for five years, and if it is not renewed rent restriction will then come to an end.

It is hoped to deal with excessive charges by providing tenants with sub-contract by a clause in the new Bill which sets out that the tenant must inform his landlord of any sub-letting, with particulars of accommodation and the rent charged. If the landlord considers the rent excessive he can apply to the local Housing Council for the

THE FIRST TEST MATCH

WOODFULL OUT

SYDNEY, Dec. 2.—Australia won the test in the first Test Match here to-day and decided to bat. The teams are:—

AUSTRALIA.—W. M. Woodfull (Victoria), G. D. Allen (New South Wales), F. K. Jackson (New South Wales), T. W. Wall (New South Wales), W. H. Ponsford (Victoria), J. H. Peggiman (New South Wales), C. W. Grimmett (South Australia), L. Baggett (Victoria), W. A. Oldfield (New South Wales), W. J. O'Reilly (New South Wales), V. V. Richardson (South Australia), with S. Head (New South Wales) as twelfth man.

ENGLAND.—D. B. Jardine (Surrey), G. D. Allen (Middlesex), R. E. S. Wyatt (Warwickshire), The Nawab of Poonah (Warwickshire), H. Sandfield (Yorkshire), M. Lyndard (Yorkshire), H. Larwood (Nottinghamshire), W. Hammond (Gloucestershire), J. Ames (Derby), W. Voce (Nottinghamshire), H. Verity (Yorkshire), with E. Papey (Leicestershire) as twelfth man.

The Sydney ground is celebrating its jubilee this year, the first Test having been played at Sydney in 1882. A quarter of an hour before the start there were probably 10,000 people present. The weather was fine and invigorating. Thousands of fashionably-dressed women thronged into the Ladies' Enclosure and gave the ground an Ascot-like appearance.

Woodfull and Ponsford came out to bat first. Larwood opened the bowling to Woodfull, who made the first run off Larwood's second ball. Ponsford then made another single.

Voce took the other end, opposite the pavilion, and bowled a maiden over to Ponsford. Then Larwood followed with a maiden over. One of his balls struck Ponsford on the hip, and the crowd showed its displeasure.

Although neither team had then been chosen, it was announced yesterday that the doctors had declared D. Bradman to be unable to play. It was stated last night that he had been ordered a fortnight's rest. The doctors had said that he was thoroughly run down.

SLOW SCORING

Both batmen were playing carefully, for Larwood and Voce were bowling well. In bowling the fourth ball of his fourth over Voce slipped on the hard wicket and fell heavily to the ground on his back. He got up and rubbed the knee that he injured on board the Quonset, but continued to bowl, apparently not affected by his spill.

Jardine made his first change when 10 had been scored, Allen coming on for Larwood, who had bowled over for four runs. Play continued to be very slow, and the first half-hour yielded only a dozen runs.

The third ball of Voce's fifth over clean bowled Ponsford—but it was a no-ball. Then, after bowling 18 minutes for seven runs, Woodfull fell bowled. Voce's fifth over the wrong end at a high ball, but only struck it and it sailed over his shoulder to Ames.

TRANSPORT

SLOW PROGRESS THE COMMON

LORDS AND SP

WESTMINSTER, T

The House of Commons made progress with the London Transport Bill to-day, the Ministers to placate opposition merely new occasions for objection.

The first Government motion, the Labour Party critics, for it is proposed to take Minister of Transport the appoint members of the Committee the amalgamated London transport is in appointment true. Piers claimed that the change the machinery set up by the political interference, but Mr. formerly attacked him for removal of public control of a. The personnel of the transport endless opportunities for some secure representatives of speed and it seemed as though the Government will have to take expeditious the Bill is no longer.

In the Lords, Lord E. returned to the attack upon "Kend's" with a motion, which is, that all vehicles subject limit should be fitted with speedometers. He was particularly upon omnibuses and lorries, too fast and upon engine forced their drivers to a law under pain of dismissal, grating the installation of recording the speed at which travelled throughout a run. Licences should be issued only at least a speedometer.

CARDINAL BOURNE

ATTACK OF INFLUENZA ROME

Cardinal Bourne is lying here with a bronchial cold influenza.

His Eminence arrived in Rome Monday, and was then poorly that instead of staying at the Roman government. Father Marullana, he went to the book English Society at Santo Spirito and took to his bed. At first he seemed to be holding his own.
