Start-up Factories Peter B. Doeringer, 2002 Start-up Factories Peter B. Doeringer, Christine Evans-Klock, David G. Terkla, 2002 Presents the findings of a study of start up factories in the United States by Japanese companies Discusses the quality of jobs these factories produce and reveals their keys to success in achieving a strong competitive advantage Gives the four inter related strategies high performance management strategy the economics of efficient wages the quality of technology plants and regional economic development that make for successful high performance factories Competing for Knowledge Robert Huggins, Hiro Izushi, 2007-08-09 As yet little is understood about how the knowledge based economy differs from the old traditional economy Digesting up to date cross disciplinary thinking this significant volume provides an account of the transformation of advanced economies Skills in Business Johnny Sung, David N Ashton, 2014-11-03 Johnny Sung and David Ashton are two of the leading scholars in the area of skills This book combines challenging theories with cutting edge research in a way that should bring skills to life for students I strongly recommend it for anyone researching or studying in this area Irena Grugulis Leeds University Business School A much needed contribution to the complex debate of how skills can best be utilised to enhance company performance with particular emphasis on an innovative sectoral approach It is a model of clarity in its presentation of the authors conceptual models using a historical narrative as well as comparative case studies in both the UK and Singapore Bert Clough Leeds University Business School Public skills policy in most market economies in the last forty years made one repeated error time and again We seem to be unable to learn from those mistakes Consistently public policies view a wide range of economic and social issues e g low productivity low skilled jobs low wage inequality and in work poverty as the consequence of skills deficits and a lack of qualifications held by individual workers Whilst mis diagnosing the source of the problems and failing to deliver any effective change public skills policies continue with a policy prescription of more skills and more degrees If we have not solved the problems with this decade old approach why should the same medicine work this time This book examines the role of public skills policy from a completely different perspective It starts by challenging the lack of a systematic analysis of the link between skills utilisation and business strategy and provides a new model for fresh thinking The book extends this theoretical analysis to examine the implications for the sectoral approach to skills development as a more effective form of public skills policy David N Ashton is Emeritus Professor at the University of Leicester and Honorary Professor at Cardiff University Johnny Sung is at The Institute for Adult Learning Singapore Workforce Development Agency Singapore Workplace Learning in Context Alison Fuller, Anne Munro, Helen Rainbird, 2004-01-22 Combining a critical analysis of the organizational and employment context of workplace learning with an understanding of theories of learning this text focuses on new ideas and on understanding the social context of the workplace Skills for Improved Productivity, Employment Growth and Development , 2008 Examines how within a decent work perspective countries can develop their skills base so as to increase both the quantity and the productivity of labour employed in the economy Handbook of Industry Studies and Economic Geography Frank Giarratani, Geoffrey J. D. Hewings, Philip McCann, 2013-12-27 This unique Handbook examines the impacts on and responses to economic geography explicitly from the perspective of the behaviour mechanics systems and experiences of different firms in various types of industries The industry studies approach all Japanese Direct Investment in U.S. Manufacturing Christine Evans-Klock, 2005 Bibliographic Index ,2004 Finance India ,2005
