Art Against Authoritarianism in Southwest Asia and North Africa Tijen Tunali, Josepha Ivanka Wessels, 2025-01-23 Over the past decade there has been a burgeoning interest in the realm of art activism within the Southwest Asia and North Africa region shedding light on the political implications of aesthetic representation Nevertheless a critical inquiry into how political aesthetics can formulate both discernible and imperceptible resistance strategies in response to resurging authoritarianism and counter revolution after the 2011 uprisings in the region remains conspicuously absent This book delves into a comprehensive examination of diverse art forms ranging from street art and cinema to performance art as well as music and theatre scrutinizing the manifestations of aesthetic resilience at the epicentre of the political resistance against oppression and authoritarianism in Sudan Iran Egypt Tunisia Algeria Morocco Lebanon Yemen and Syria The editors employ a multifaceted approach to investigate artistic activism encompassing analysis of visibility ephemerality and speech within the public sphere the establishment and perpetuation of collective transnational solidarities the portrayal of suppressed identities and narratives and the innovation of alternative mechanisms for producing and disseminating art

An Introductory Guide to Computational Methods for the Solution of Physics Problems George Rawitscher, Victo dos Santos Filho, Thiago Carvalho Peixoto, 2018-10-24 This monograph presents fundamental aspects of modern spectral and other computational methods which are not generally taught in traditional courses It emphasizes concepts as errors convergence stability order and efficiency applied to the solution of physical problems The spectral methods consist in expanding the function to be calculated into a set of appropriate basis functions generally orthogonal polynomials and the respective expansion coefficients are obtained via collocation equations. The main advantage of these methods is that they simultaneously take into account all available information rather than only the information available at a limited number of mesh points. They require more complicated matrix equations than those obtained in finite difference methods. However, the elegance, speed and accuracy of the spectral methods more than compensates for any such drawbacks. During the course of the monograph, the authors examine the usually rapid convergence of the spectral expansions and the improved accuracy that results when nonequispaced support points are used in contrast to the equispaced points used in finite difference methods. In particular, they demonstrate the enhanced accuracy obtained in the solution of integral equations. The monograph includes an informative introduction to old and new computational methods with numerous practical examples while at the same time pointing out the errors that each of the available algorithms introduces into the specific solution. It is a valuable resource for undergraduate students as an introduction to the field and for graduate students wishing to compare the available computational methods. In addition, the work develops the criteria required for students to select the most suitable method to solve the particular scientific problem that they are confronting.
